GIs Capture City On North Border

U. S. 7th Division Troops Dig In Across Yalu River From Manchuria

By RUTHERFORD POATS

TOKYO, Tuesday, Nov. 21—(UP)—American troops reached the Manchurian frontier Tuesday and captured the Yalu River city of Hyesanjin.

A tank-led spearhead of the U. S. 7th Division forged northward in bitter cold weather and took up positions directly opposite Communist China aross the great international river.

Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond, U. S. 10th Corps commander, announced that Hyesanjin was captured at 9:45 a. m. Tuesday. Earlier Almond said the U. S. 7th Division's 17th Regiment, commanded by Col. Herbert B. Powell, "was the first American unit to reach—and hold—positions on the Manchurian border."

The troops took Hyesanjin virtually without opposition. They had met almost no resistance since they broke through the Communist defenses north of Kapsan.

The tank-riding infantrymen were the first American troops to reach the Yalu, but were the second United Nations force to do so. Elements of the South Korean 6th Division reached the river earlier but were forced back when Chinese Communists entered the fighting.

However, 7th Division troops met no Chinese forces in their drive of more than 100 miles over nearly impassable roads and a 6,000-foot mountain range. The only border defenses they found at the Yalu were scattered bands of North Koreans with no weapons larger than rifles.

The drive to the border meant that the division commanded by Maj. Gen. David G. Barr had split the enemy forces from east to west and isolated troops east of the 127th Meridian.

Almond said the GIs reached the border just 22 days after the 7th Division made an unopposed landing at Iwon.

A 10th Corps spokesman was quoted as saying prisoners reported the enemy garrison at Hyesanjin had retreated to Musan a few days ago.

Meanwhile, the South Korean Capital Division on the east coast advanced to within 27 miles of Chonjin as Red resistance dwindled.

The 26th South Korean Regiment captured the guerrilla stronghold of Huksuri 28 miles northwest of Hamhung in the northeast sector after breaking through a light defense line.

The 10th Corps spokesman said prisoners captured in the American drive to the Manchurian border were poorly clothed and fed. He said the 7th Division was now fighting a "defeated and disorganized" enemy.

General MacArthur's headquarters announced that to the southwest the U. S. 1st Marine Division tightened its hold on the important Chosin reservoir, and had destroyed at least one enemy division to the south of the big hydroelectric project.

MacArthur's announcement said the U. S. 3rd Division, which recently landed and was committed to action in the northeast sector, was mopping up remnants of bypassed Red forces trying to fight their way northward. The announcement said 23,000 square miles of territory had been liberated by the 10th Corps in a month after it began landing at Wonsan.

James F. Byrnes Informs the KKK

South Carolina's James Francis Byrnes, governor elect, did a simple, decent, but necessary thing last week.

He took notice of the Ku Klux Klan outrages in his state and made a firm, plain statement about it. There was no double talk in what he said. Not even the dullest mind could fail to understand.

He said that while there were not many members in the Klans, persons outside the South and those in foreign countries didn't understand that fact. Therefore, it is necessary for the people in any state to put down this stupid organization because of the very real harm it does the country. (The Klan is officially listed as subversive, or harmful, to the United States as are the Communists.)

Governor-elect Byrnes informed the Klan that as long as he is governor, which will be for four years, the government of South Carolina will not need the help of any other organization to enforce the law and will not tolerate interference.

"There will be but one government in the state," he said, "and that is the one elected by the people. It will not allow any other organization to usurp the law."

That the governor of any state should fail to make such a statement is a measure of those failing. That it should not have been made in the past years in South Carolina gives greater stature to James F. Byrnes.

The feists will snap at him and the curs will snarl. But he measures up as a man and as an American.

Events

It is proper to discuss the Klan and the Communists together because in the United States nothing has helped the Communist propaganda any more than the Klan. Its acts of violence, in which often sheriffs and police officers join, make it possible for the Soviets to say that the Americans' claim to law and justice is a lie.

To this very day the Russian radios delight in sending out to all those who listen every racial disorder in which the law is flouted. The fact that hooded men can, with seeming immunity, whip and kill other persons and that frequently the ranks of these people are found to contain peace officers, is of great assistance to the Communists.

It is no stretching of the truth to say that in America no organization is of more value to the Communists than the various Ku Klux Klans.

They are indeed Joe Stalin's little helpers.

As for the Klans, they are, as Governor-elect Byrnes said, not doing well.

I have in my possession copies of letters from a Florida Klan leader scorning the offer for sale of the Georgia membership list because, in the language of the Florida feuhrer, it is worthless.

Not only that, but the letters reveal that the one-time spiritual leader of the hoods in the Sunshine State has been banished because he preached violence and wanted too much of a financial cut. He reportedly has found a city of refuge in Georgia.

The Klans are not doing well in Florida either. In Jacksonville a successful criminal lawyer, with a reputation which causes newsmen to arch their eyebrows, finances a hate sheet along anti-Semitic lines. But, there is nowhere any rush to the colors because of it.

The Commies

The Commies are also traveling a rocky road. Homer B. Chase, the New England-born Commie assigned to the South, has been a weak reed for the Cominform to lean upon. The New York politburo has been aware of Homer's failings, and one of the mysteries has been why they have kept him on. The best guess is they haven't any replacements fit for the job.

The old Southern Commie-helpers of the 1930s, such as Don West, broke way from the Homer Chase brand. The pressure put on by the New York group during the Progressive party efforts in 1948 caused the non-Communist Wallace supporters to see the light long before Henry Wallace himself found the road to Damascus.

Here of late they have been having Homer, whose father was a Communist back in New Hampshire, on rather frequent calls. It would not be surprising if the Commies didn't send in someone else. Homer's record is almost entirely one of no hits, no runs and plenty of errors.

About the only help he has had has been from the Klansmen. This is why the Commies managed to get some small financial help to the Klans, sending it anonymously or turning it in through members they had in the organization.

NEW CONCRETE SPAN ON PAVED END OF GA. 144

ANCIENT LANES' BRIDGE STILL REQUIRED

Mid-Bridge Ending Of Road Bids Death

By FRANK MAJORS

GLENNVILLE, Nov. 20—A comparatively new road surfacing job on Ga. Highway 144 ends in space some 35 feet above the swampy spot where a construction contract, let during the Thompson administration, expired.

The risky ending of the project occurs midway of a beautifully long and wide concrete bridge intended to cross the Altamaha River.

A temporary ramp off to one side lowers motorists from this structure to the old wooden Lanes' bridge, which completes the crossing of the stream.

Already a Negro driver of a pulpwood truck has crashed to his death off the end of the unfinished bridge, the Tattnall County Coroner said. He blamed the crash on a then inadequate barricade.

Local citizens have for many months sought completion of Ga. 144 which would give a direct route to Baxley and points south on U. S. No. 1. About 10 miles of the 29-mile stretch remains unsurfaced. An asphalt-gravel road connects the incomplete bridge with Glennville, while about 11 miles is already completed from the Baxley end.

Recently supporters have pleaded for completion also of Ga. 169 which links Ga. 144 with Jesup, to relieve U. S. 25 and 301 between the two towns. Constant travel over these latter routes, particularly between here and Jesup, has played havoc with an inadequate road base.

This is the second of a series of articles on actual road conditions in Georgia. Constitution Staff Writer Frank Majors travelled 3,000 miles over State highways and byways to obtain a first hand report.

A drawbridge over the Altamaha River between Ludowici and Jesup on the federal route has been undergoing extensive repairs for some months. The morning work on the span holds up mile-long streams of traffic.

Ultimately, engineers say, this bridge on U. S. 301 must be replaced and a new roadbed constructed over much of the swampy area, where the road now must be constantly patched.

Completion of either or both the state routes would furnish the only practical detour if the Altamaha River bridge is replaced.

City Council Rejects Rent Control Plan

Rent control in Atlanta appeared doomed Monday as City Council unanimously turned thumbs down on local action to extend controls past the present expiration date.

Unless the lame-duck session of Congress approves a national extension, rent control will die here Dec. 31.

In rejecting a proposed local extension, Council voted to file recommendations by Mayor Hartsfield and Dr. Harrison McMains, Chairman of the Atlanta Area Rent Advisory Board.

Hartsfield, long an advocate of controls, pointed out that federal restrictions have been applied to new housing and that the international situation may result in more drastic rationing. He said these would mean a shortage of decent housing for the Atlanta area.

Probe Asked In School Dismissals

Accrediting Agency Group Makes Plea

Official request to investigate charges of "political interference" with Georgia's common school system was filed Monday with the accrediting agency for Southern schools.

The request, received by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, could lead to loss of accredited standing for all of Georgia's 158 accredited high schools.

Touching off Monday's action was the State Board of Education's firing of 12 supervisors last week over the protest of State School Supt. M. D. Collins.

Association Secretary A. J. Geiger said the request for investigation came from the Association's Commission on Secondary Schools. Chairman of the Commission, according to Geiger, is W. E. Pafford, one of the 12 dismissed supervisors. Geiger said Pafford has not made a personal request to him for an investigation, however.

The requested probe also could bring one of the biggest political explosions in Georgia since the firing of Dean Walter Cocking from the University of Georgia in 1940 rocked into political defeat the late Gov. Eugene Talmadge.

Gov. Herman Talmadge, who appointed the present board, has declined comment on its action. The board said the jobs were abolished for economy.

Geiger said the request for the investigation will be presented to the association's executive committee in Richmond, Va., Dec. 3.

If an inquiry is ordered, he said, a committee of out-of-state experts probably will be named to look into charges of "political interference" with the Georgia school system and loss of quality.

Geiger said this is the first case of "wholesale dismissals" at the high school level to come before the association.

Firing of professors or presidents in colleges has led in the past to temporary loss of accreditation for the Universities of Georgia, Texas, Mississippi and Louisiaan. In fact, said Geiger, every such case at the college level has led to loss of accredited standing.

UN To Study Trygve Lie's Peace Plan

Special to The New York Times and The Atlanta Constitution

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—The United Nations General Assembly Monday commended Secretary-General Trygve Lie for his 20-year peace plan and referred it for consideration to appropriate organs of the United Nations.

Immediately before the vote on the action, Lie stepped to the rostrum at Flushing Meadow to deny Soviet charges that his plan had been hatched by the British, American and French governments. "This is not true, and those who say it must know it is not true," he said.

His program was drafted last Spring. Among its features were periodic high-level Security Council meetings for general review of world problems, new attempts on atomic energy control, halting of the armaments race, and early establishment of forces under the Security Council.

It has been somewhat outdated by subsequent events. Gen. Douglas MacArthur's troops in Korea are under the Security Council. The General Assembly has approved machinery for collective military action if the Security Council is deadlocked by a veto.

A Soviet resolution was defeated which paralleled the one approved but embodied a number of elements of Soviet foreign policy. Among these were clauses requiring the seating of Communist China, unconditional prohibition of atomic weapons and "unswerving compliance" with the veto principle in the Security Council.

The resolution commending Lie was opposed only by the five Soviet states. China abstained and 51 nations voted in favor of it.

Red Plants Are Smashed In Indochina

French Report Blow to Rebels

By ROBERT BRANSON

SAIGON, French Indochina, Nov. 20—(U.P.)—French and Vietnam infantrymen, supported by air and naval power, have smashed a great chain of Communist munitions factories and foundries hidden deep in the jungles of southern Indochina, it was announced Monday.

The attacking troops, "thousands strong," ended their operations against the Communist arsenals in the South Sunday, a spokesman for the French high command said.

In lifting the secrecy which has covered the operation throughout the past weeks, the spokesman said it was one of the most important blows struck against Ho Chi Minh's Communist Vietminh movement in three months.

The announcement coincided with the departure of Economic Co-operation Administrator William C. Foster at the end of a two-day survey to find out how Marshall Plan funds have been spent here.

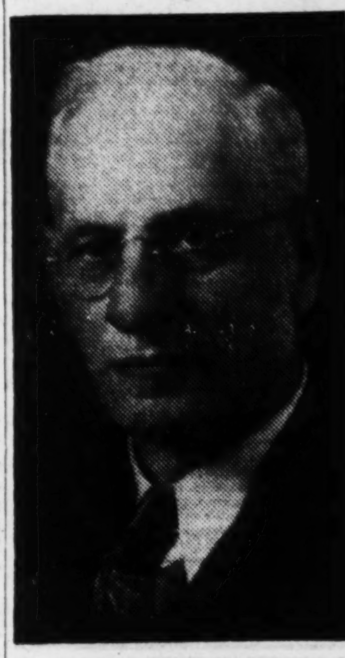
Before leaving by plane for Bangkok, Siam, Foster said, "Our motives are not obscure.

"It must be unmistakably clear that the United States, as a nation which earned its own freedom, can remain safe only in a world of free, peace-loving nations."

In the military operation against Ho's munitions plants, "several battalions" of tough, jungle-wise Foreign Legionnaires, parachute troops and fast-moving ground soldiers destroyed 30 rebel camps, three big factories, two grenade works, one factory for shell fuses, an undisclosed number of foundries and five rebel command posts, the high command spokesman said.

Also captured in the operation were 50 big junks and 300 sampans used to ferry arms and equipment through the vast jungle waterways of the Vietminh underground.

The French and Vietnamese returned with only one dead and 10 wounded. At least 56 Vietminh troops were killed and 20 more taken prisoner, the spokesman said.



RAIL LEADER DIES

B. L. Bugg, Rail Veteran, Dies Here

By ALEX JOINER

Benjamin Lamar Bugg, 81, retired president of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Coast Railroad, died Monday at his residence, 34 Inman Circle, N. E., after a long illness.

He was born in Palo Alto, Miss., Aug. 8, 1869, the son of Thomas Elliot and Emma Shotwell Bugg. After schooling with private tutors he entered railroad service in 1888 as a telegrapher for the Florida Railway and Navigation Company.

In 1912 he became traffic manager of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad. Subsequently he served that company as assistant general manager and general manager, becoming its president in 1920. In 1927 the A., B. & A. became the A., B. & C., and he continued as president of the new company until he retired in 1945. Atlantic Coast Line bought the A., B. & C. in 1946.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by H. M. Patterson & Son.

Surviving are his wife, the former Miss Mabel Dodd, and a nephew, B. B. Peacock.

12 Indicted for Contempt Of Congress in Red Quiz

By LEWIS WOOD

Special to The New York Times and The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20—Indictments for contempt of Congress were handed down by a federal grand jury Monday against ten men and two women who refused to answer certain questions during an investigation by the House committee on un-American activities into communistic or other subversive operations.

Seven of those indicted belong to the United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers' Union, Independent, which was ejected from the CIO a year ago in a drive against left-wingers in the organization. Also charged were a woman described as a California heiress, and a scientist on atomic bomb projects. Another was the general manager of the Daily Worker.

Members of the Electrical Workers' Union accused were: Julius Emspak, secretary-treasurer, and James J. Matles, organizing director, of New York City; Thomas J. Fitzpatrick, chief steward of a Pittsburgh local. Thomas Quinn, a field organizer in Pittsburgh; Frank Panzio, steward of the Pittsburgh local; Esther Tice, of Cincinnati, former employee of the Union, and Talmadge Raley, business representative of the Cincinnati local.

The woman heiress is Mrs. Louise Berman, of New York City, said to be inheritor of a West Coast fortune built on dried fruit shipping. The scientist is Clarence Hiskey, former chemist assigned to atomic bomb work at the University of Chicago, but recently said to be associated with the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute. Philip Bart, of New York City, is the general manager of the Daily Worker.

At Chicago, University spokesmen said Hiskey was never employed by the institution. He was, it was stated, in the metallurgical division of the Manhattan project.

Others named in the indictment were Pasquale Leonard James Branca, former teacher in the Eliot Junior High School, of Washington, and Frank Hashmall, of Cincinnati, said to have been once identified as a Communist Party official in Ohio.

The 10 men and two women were cited by the Congressional Committee on charges of declining to answer questions regarding either membership in the Communist Party or knowledge of persons associated with the electrical union or the party.

26-Degree Low On Way Here

A high reading of 44 degrees is forecast for Atlanta Tuesday after chill winds from Canada knocked the thermometer down from 69 Monday to 34 early Tuesday morning.

The cold wave is expected to send temperatures reeling down to a seasonal low of 26 early Wednesday. Otherwise partly cloudy, warmer weather with a day's high of 54 is forecast for Wednesday.

Diminishing winds of 15-20 miles per hour are likely Tuesday morning. Velocities of 45 miles per hour and one 70-mile gust were recorded here Monday. Atlanta police reported the winds blew down an 18-inch oak tree which narrowly missed two motorists on Thirteenth St., N. E.

Nine Hurt In Traffic Accidents

Bus Overturns Passenger Car

Nine persons were injured in automobile accidents in the Atlanta area Monday.

An Interurban Transit Lines bus rammed and overturned a machine occupied by two housewives at Butler and Cain Streets, police said. Mrs. T. H. Wood, 35, of 1154 Oakdale Rd., N. E., was treated at Grady Hospital for a fractured right shoulder and bruises, and Mrs. Katherine S. Howard, 35, of 1112 Amsterdam Ave., N. E., received an injured left hip and bruises.

The bus, driven south on Butler Street by Robert L. Norton, 28, of Forrest Park, overran a stop sign and struck a sedan operated west on Cain Street by Mrs. Howard, Ptl. J. D. Corley and Ptl. C. L. Huddleston said. They added Norton was booked for overrunning a stop sign and accident.

Dashing into the street to retrieve her hat, Miss Dorothy Neckols, 19-year-old nurse of 453 West Peachtree St., N. E., was struck down and seriously injured, Huddleston and Corley said. Miss Neckols and two other nurses were standing before the nurse's home at 453 West Peachtree St., when her hat blew into the street.

After getting the hat, patrolmen said the nurse struck the left side of a car driven by Charles B. Pearman, 31, of Decatur. She was admitted to Crawford W. Long Hospital in serious condition with head injuries. Pearman was booked for violating pedestrian rights.

Five were injured in a head-on crash in front of 428 Hightower Rd., N. W., Fulton officers said. Mrs. Maideth Erlene Donaldson, of Marietta, wife of Merle Donaldson, assistant professor at Georgia Tech, was treated at Grady for abrasions to the left knee, elbow and face. Mrs. Fay Hill Yow, 56, of 935 Fern St., S. E., a teacher at the Chattahoochee School, was treated for injuries to the face, hand, and knee and transferred to St. Joseph's Infirmary.

Mrs. Ruby Lucille Barfield, 55, of 359 Mathewson Pl., S. W., also a teacher at the Chattahoochee School, was treated for injuries to the left arm, leg and head and transferred to Crawford Long. Mrs. Mary Virginia Smith, 24, of 3204 Cains Hill Pl., N. W., an analyst at Hastings Seed Company, was taken to Grady with an injured left arm and left leg. Mrs. Syble Ernestine Wooten, 682 Pryor St., S. W., suffered a possible injured pelvis.

The injured were passengers in a car driven south by Mrs. Wooten, Lt. Ellis Barrett, Jr., said. He said James R. Daniel, 1320 Nash Rd., driving north on Hightower Road, evidently lost control of his car and crashed into the oncoming machine. Daniel was charged with operating under the influence of intoxicants and reckless driving.

An accident in East Point resulted in a hip injury for Mrs. Margaret Grindle, of East Point, police said.

Buried under several hundred pounds of steel when an outdoor elevator fell three stories at the new Courthouse Annex, Junior Sims, 28, of Rome, was treated at Grady for badly broken feet and transferred to Crawford W. Long. Ptl. F. W. Johnson said Sims was attempting to take a heavy metal door frame to the third floor when a piece of metal worked under the clutch governing the elevator. The elevator plummeted down, hurling Sims and the door frame out.

In other mishaps, Clyde Lacy Miller, 41, of 561 Pryor St., S. W., a furniture refinisher, told Grady attendants his knife slipped, slashing his right leg. Larry Raines, nine, of 526 McWilliams Dr., S. E., was struck on the head by a stick which flew up as he was attempting to chop into it. John Davin Shelnutt, Jr., two, of 83 Holms St., S. E., fell, striking his head on a cabinet; and James Charles Thomas, year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Thomas, 107 Druid Circle, N. E., burned his left hand on an electric iron.

Safe Foils Yeggs; Auto Tools Stolen

Burglars made an unsuccessful attempt to open a safe at the Varsity restaurant, 61 North Ave., N. W., and looted two other business establishments, police records showed Monday.

Detectives J. W. Elliott and R. L. Shutley said prowlers attempted to open the Varsity safe with a ball peen hammer and screwdriver. An auto tool kit was stolen from the Millen Auto Parts, 126 Merritts Ave., N. E., and an undetermined amount of costume jewelry from the Georgia Home Equipment Co., 234 Ponce de Leon Ave., N. E.

INJURED GUARD—Guard M. N. Chesher, of the New Mexico penitentiary, was injured when 100 convicts rioted Monday. Felled at the outset of the uprising by a chain-welding inmate, Chesher got back from a hospital in time to aid in final quelling of mob.

100 Inmates Riot, Beat Six Guards

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 20—(U.P.)—A fight between two convicts at the New Mexico state prison Monday touched off a vicious general riot of 100 prisoners in which six guards were beaten, one seriously.

Two prisoners began the fighting in the prison yard. When Guard M. H. Chesher tried to stop the fight, he was knocked down, beaten and his tear gas gun taken by the convicts. The rioters, which included all the convicts in the prison yard, rushed into an office, the prison canteen, laundry and automobile plate factory.

Armed with bricks which they tore from a walk in the yard, they knocked out windows of buildings and forced entrance to the canteen.

Warden Howell Gage called for help from Santa Fe police, Sheriff's officers and the New Mexico state police while the prisoner's 70 guards sought to quell the rioting.

When state police arrived at the prison, the warden deployed the troopers around him and marched into the yard. The riot subsided immediately and Gage ordered all prisoners locked in their cells. They remained in the cells late in the day as scores of officers patrolled the walls.

Gage disclosed the first incident in the outbreak occurred at 9:30 a. m.

Tear gas was fired both by the prisoners and guards, but no shots were exchanged during the battle.

Soil Saving On Georgia Farms Grows

By DICK HODGES

Soil conservation plans are now in effect on more than 61,000 Georgia farms State Conservationist Jule G. Liddell, of Athens, told the seventh annual convention of the Georgia Association of Soil Conservation District Supervisors Monday.

And approximately 1,000 other farmers each month are requesting assistance in developing the conservation plan on their respective farms, Liddell said.

"In some counties more than 85 percent of the farms are now working under the conservation program," he continued.

Pointing to the tremendous forward progress made by Georgia farmers in planting grasses and other cover crops on land formerly used exclusively for cotton production, Liddell said that just a few years ago one-half the gross farm income came from growing cotton.

"Now, cotton is responsible for only one-fifth of the gross income," he explained.

Liddell said that 20 million to 30 million trees are being grown in Georgia's state nurseries as part of the expanded conservation program.

Lt. Gov. Marvin Griffin told a Monday night banquet audience that ideas and traditions of America need to be conserved just as does the soil.

"Let's don't apologize for the capitalistic system," he said. "We ought to get out and work for that system and let people know we're proud of it."

Griffin attacked what he called "swapping freedoms one by one" for security. "Someday," he continued, "we'll wake up and find we have neither security nor freedom."

Awards were made to Georgia banks for their contribution to soil conservation work in the state. The banks included the Bank of Soperton; the Citizens National Bank of Quitman; the National Bank of Fitzgerald; People's Bank of Carrollton; the East Atlanta Bank, the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Macon; the Commercial National Bank of Cedartown; First National Bank of Waycross, and the Etowah Bank of Canton.

Conservation of soil and soul are similar and both of importance if man's physical and spiritual needs are to be filled, the Rev. E. H. Collins, chaplain of the association, told the group earlier.

Other speakers included Mayor William B. Hartsfield; Dr. T. S. Buie, regional director of the SCS from Spartanburg, S. C.; James L. Gillis, Jr., of Soperton, chairman of the State Soil Conservation Committee; E. F. Vickers, of Bainbridge, immediate past president of the Georgia Bankers Association; Susan Myrick, associate editor of the Macon Telegraph; Sanders Camp, of Monroe, and Dr. O. C. Aderhold, president of the University of Georgia, Athens.

W. F. Hall, of Sparta, president of the Georgia association presided over the morning session, held at the Henry Grady Hotel.

Soviet Jets, Tanks Beaten By U.S. Models

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20—(INS) American jet fighter planes have won history's highest aerial battle in a duel with Russia's best jets and U. S. Patton tanks have dealt a crushing defeat to one of the Soviet Union's most formidable armored vehicles.

Military experts were stirred Monday by two significant developments:

1. The Air Force announced that U. S. Navy carrier-based Panther jet planes damaged and probably destroyed three Russian-built MIG-15's over North Korea last Saturday in aerial dog fights at altitudes ranging to 35,000 feet.
2. The Army said that 16 U. S. postwar model Patton tanks knocked out 16 Russian-made T-34's — heretofore the terror of the Korean theater—in a four-day engagement early this month at Charyongwan, near the Manchurian border.

The Army in its analysis of the tank battle said the Pattons suffered only "superficial damage" while completely destroying the enemy force of equal size.

Colonel Dies Of Gun Wound At Fort Mac

Lt. Col. Marion A. Cromartie was found dead in his quarters at Fort McPherson Monday night.

Col. Cromartie, a native of Dixie, Ga., has been stationed at Fort McPherson since October, 1949, in the adjutant general's section. Lt. Col. Paul Milton, post surgeon, declared the colonel died of a gunshot wound, believed to be self-inflicted, at approximately 8:40 p. m. A formal investigation will be held to determine circumstances leading to the death.

A commissioned officer since 1939, Col. Cromartie served in the ETO for 19 months with the 8th Infantry Div., landing with them on the Normandy beachhead. He later served a 37-month tour with the occupation forces in Trieste.

Among his decorations were the Bronze Star, with Oak Leaf Cluster, and Croix de Guerre.

Col. Cromartie's father, S. Cromartie, of Boston, Ga., is next of kin.

There are 82 affiliated United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organizations and 30 student and youth UNESCO clubs in Japan.

Educator Sees Hard 5 Years

If the world can cling to peace for five years, America—and especially the South—should have a rosy future.

That is the opinion of Dr. Calvin Hoover, Dean of the Graduate School at Duke University, who predicted at Emory University Monday night what the next 25 years will be like.

But we will "probably have to reduce our standard of living to make the kind of preparation for war which our national security requires." Sacrifice to build strength during the next five years, Hoover believes, and peace is possible.

Only 5,000,000 people in this country know they are hay fever sufferers. Allergists estimate there are at least another 10,000,000 who sneeez through protracted "summer colds," unaware of their allergy.

FLOOD WATERS MOVE BRIDGE—The strong currents of this stream near Bakersfield, Calif., washed out a frame bridge as creeks and rivers in central California rioted under pressure of heavy rains.

Rains Pelt Flooded Area In California Valley

FRESNO, Calif., Nov. 20—(UP)—Rivers were rising in the flood-stricken Central Valley of California Monday night as a near-record rainfall pelted the state for the eighth consecutive day.

It was the worst flood in California's history.

Although the U. S. Weather Bureau could see no end to the lengthy storm, Valley authorities insisted there was little danger of additional heavy flooding in the area where muddy torrents made 8,500 homeless Sunday.

Two persons were dead and property damage mounted to more than $10,000,000 in the wake of the floods.

Despite the rising streams, authorities were certain flood crests would fall well below the Sunday mark which sent scores of streams over their banks into cities and towns and across thousands of acres of rich farmland.

The greatest danger appeared to lie in the huge Tulare Lake Basin, once the bed of an enormous lake and now an area of vast cotton fields and truck farms. The bloated Kawean, Tule and Kings Rivers, plus scores of smaller streams, were pouring millions of gallons of water into the Basin, which has no outlet to the sea.

Authorities based their optimism on the fact torrential rains wiped out the snowpack in the Sierra Nevada Mountains, eliminating the source of most of the flood waters. The Sierra has received up to 17.67 inches of rain during the past eight days.

Latest flooding occurred early Monday near the town of Laton on the Kings River in Fresno County. The rampaging Kings rolled over its banks at four points, surrounding Laton, a town of 1,100, and cutting all but one road.

The Tule River, in the Corcoran area, swept over 3,000 acres of grain land and into the Tulare Basin.

UNCONCERNED — An unidentified Sacramento man sits on his front porch, refusing to allow himself to be evacuated. He told the Red Cross he'd sit it out.

CONCERNED — To get away from the flood waters, an unidentified North Sacramento man sits on his rooftop awaiting rescue by a Red Cross boat.

California's Sen. Downey To Quit Early

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 20. (U.P.)—U. S. Sen. Sheridan Downey, Democrat, California, Monday night announced he would resign on Nov. 30, more than a month before his term expires.

Gov. Earl Warren immediately announced he would appoint Republican Sen.-elect Richard M. Nixon, elected Nov. 7 to succeed Downey in January, to the unexpired term.

It was understood that Nixon will get first choice on Senate committee vacancies in January, over some half dozen other Republicans who were elected Nov. 7 to first terms in the Senate.

Downey and Warren made their announcements in the Governor's office after conferring at length. Downey said he was quitting because of ill health, the same reason he gave for not seeking reelection.

'STOP BEING SISSIES'

Man Is Master of Home, Billy Graham Thunders

By BILL DIEHL

Monday night was men's night at Ponce de Leon Tabernacle and more than 6,000 came out to hear Billy Graham deliver a scathing sermon telling them to "stop being sissies and start wearing the pants in the family!"

Before an audience equally divided between young and old and including many fathers and sons, he condemned some of the new ideas of psychology and child instruction and blasted divorce, immorality and "sins against the home."

"Many a mother is praying her son will find God here tonight," he began.

Then he opened up with both barrels against "anything that threatens the sanctity of the greatest institution in the world—the American home."

Waving his worn Bible over his head, he said, "This book says that just as God is head of the Church—a man is head of the home. And there's no place in Scripture where that word is revoked. Some of you in the audience have been wearing skirts around the house long enough. It's time to stop being sissies.

"The Bible says a wife should be subjugated to her husband. She should be obedient and obey him. And don't say that's old-fashioned, brother—when we had old-fashioned homes we had happy homes.

"It's your responsibility to maintain the religious health of the home. It's not your wife's fault if your children go to Hell—it's yours. And you'll pay with an eternity in a burning lake of fire and brimstone. That's not my word, that's the word of the Book."

Then the fiery young evangelist put in a plug for the wives of America.

"How long has it been since you kissed your wife hello at the door?" he asked. "Remember one thing, that wife of yours is wrapped up in her marriage. Don't be a tightwad. Bring her a box of candy. Take her to dinner. Help keep her young—do some chores around the house."

Dr. Graham also attacked lack of discipline in bringing up children. "Refuse to chastise your children and you hate them, that's right, hate them. Because if you don't bring them up right, you're sending them straight to Hell."

He hammered at the immorality and adulterous actions of "many of the men in this audience." He also accused the newspapers, radio and magazines of assisting in the notoriety of vice and scandal.

Almost 200 men came forward after the sermon to ask for forgiveness.

He announced next Monday night will be Ladies' Night. "There'll be three times as many women then as there were men here tonight," Dr. Graham said. "They'll all come to find out what I told the men."

Mixed Schools Seen in Decade

OMAHA, Nov. 20—(INS)—Walter White, General Secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, predicted Monday in Omaha that "there will be Negroes in every Southern school in the next 10 years."

The prominent Negro leader said, however, that the American Negro will not reach "total equality" until another 100 years.

He outlined the following steps which he called necessary to bring about total equality:

1. Laws to implement the Bill of Rights.
2. Abolition of job discrimination.
3. Breaking up the Negro "ghettos" in American cities.

Leukemia Victim Aided by New Drug

ENDICOTT, N. Y., Nov. 20—(AP)—Five weeks ago seven-year-old Mary Beth Kledzinski faced death from the dread disease leukemia. Monday she was back at school.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Kledzinski, of nearby Endwell, was treated at the Marine Hospital in Baltimore.

She was given A-Methopterin, a new drug used to fight the usually fatal cancer of the blood.

Mary Beth's doctor, Werner Lipman, says the girls has shown remarkable improvement and her blood count, so far, is normal.

Fuchs Advanced Red Atom By a Year, Says AEC Chief

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20—(UP)—Chairman Gordon Dean of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, said Monday the betrayal of British spy Klaus Fuchs advanced Russia's A-bomb work by more than a year and possibly as much as two years.

He described Fuchs as one of a select group of about 150 scientists who "know all about the bomb," and said his confessed treachery was "very, very disturbing" to U. S. atomic officials.

Dean disclosed the grave damage done by the Fuchs spy ring in a copyrighted interview with the weekly magazine, U. S. News and World Report.

He indicated that the commission now considers some of its secrecy precautions obsolete and plans to ask Congress next year to modify the law. In this connection, he said the time is coming when it will be quite permissible from a security standpoint to publish photographs of the A-bomb, or even "put a dummy model in Macy's window."

In forthright answers to a wide range of questions on which atomic officials previously have been evasive, Dean also revealed that:

The U. S. stockpile of A-bombs is widely dispersed in order to minimize the dangers of enemy sabotage.

Bomber crews assigned to deliver the atom bomb if war should come are especially trained because ordinary plane crews would not uderstand how to handle the A-bomb.

Dean volunteered his remarks about the Fuchs spy ring. Fuchs was cleared by Britain to take part in the joint Allied A-bomb effort during World War II, and had full access to the laboratories of the Army-run Manhattan district from 1943 to 1946.

He was arrested in London early this year on a tip supplied by the FBI and confessed transmitting atomic secrets to Russia.

Dean said "thousands upon thousands" of persons, including atomic plant workers and the specially trained Air Force crews, already know the legally top-secret facts about the size, shape and appearance of the A-bomb.

"It is the people who know all about the bomb that could do us the most damage, and that is why the Fuchs incident was very, very disturbing to us," he said. He added that "not more" than 150 people are so informed.

He said the commission is debating the wisdom of lifting secrecy on the superficial aspects of the bomb's size and shape, "not just to satisfy curiosity" but to simplify its own security problems.

Under the present law, full FBI investigations must be conducted of all persons who see the bomb even in the most casual way. Each investigation takes about 53 days and costs from $100 to $200 per person.

Torching by Girl Studied in Death

A Fulton County Coroner's inquest is scheduled at 10:15 a. m. Tuesday into the death of J. D. Bland, 31-year-old manufacturing company employee whose body was discovered Friday in a downtown hotel room.

Witnesses said Bland's girl friend poured cigarette lighter fluid over his clothing and set it afire on Nov. 4, according to Dets. J. E. Helms and W. M. Holland. They added a medical examination is under way to determine whether the burns contributed to the cause of death.

WHY DO STOCK PRICES CHANGE ?

Imagine a typical auction. The auctioneer calls for bids on some early American chairs. He points to one.

"I hear $40. Forty-five? Thank you, sir!

"Will someone make it fifty? Forty-five I have—a lady bids $50. Fifty-five over there—and sixty?

"Sixty, a bargain at $60. Sixty-five? Do I hear sixty-five?... Sold for $60."

On the New York Stock Exchange there is a continuing auction . . . in stocks. But unlike the country auction, the Stock Exchange is a market place for securities in which thousands of investors, from all over the country, participate daily. Their orders are serviced by its members, acting as their agents, every business day.

Actually, it's a double auction, working both ways. Bidders want to buy their stock from sellers at the lowest possible price. Sellers want to get the highest price for the shares they are offering. When a buyer's bid and a seller's offer arrive at a mutually acceptable price, a purchase is completed, a sale is made . . . at the best price available in this national market, at that moment.

That's the kind of give and take going on all the time at the Exchange, in the 1,500 stocks that are listed. That's why stock prices change. A buyer whose bid is too low can raise it. An offer to sell that is too high can be lowered. It's an auction market . . . for buyers and sellers.

All kinds of factors influence people to buy or sell . . . earnings and dividends . . . purchasing power of the dollar . . . new production records . . . a war won or threatened . . . a change in tax laws . . . strike news . . . other factors.

The Exchange does not set prices. Prices are determined by the public's appraisals of the attraction of stocks in terms of benefits offered and risk assumed. The Exchange does see that prices are arrived at openly and fairly, and published promptly.

Teen-Tornado's Uproar Blamed on 'The Devil'

NATCHEZ, Miss., Nov. 20—(U.P.) "The devil must have got into me," 14-year-old Ollie Mae Byrnes said Monday night in explaining a bullet-punctuated outburst which came earlier Monday following an argument with her stepfather.

During the argument she flew into a rage and in the next two hours, as Sheriff Robert E. Burns pieced together the events, she:

1. Grabbed a .22-caliber rifle and a box of shells, went outside and fired a volley into her home, wounded her uncle, Marvin Hayles.

2. Terrorized shoppers in the small community of Stanton, nine miles northeast of here, but didn't shoot anybody there.

3. Barricaded herself behind a barn for two hours, halted traffic on Highway 61 by firing on every vehicle that approached her position.

4. Fired on Sheriff Burns and deputies, sending one bullet through an officer's raincoat, and on the other police sitting in a car.

First word of Ollie Mae's shooting spree came from G. R. Hightower, general storekeeper at Stanton, who telephoned the Sheriff that "a woman has gone crazy and is shooting up the neighborhood."

It was two hours before Ollie Mae could be subdued.

"I managed to get close enough to her to talk to her and finally persuaded her to put her rifle down which she eventually did very reluctantly," the Sheriff said.

"All I have been able to get out of her is that she flew into a rage because she was mad at her stepfather," Burns added.

Before she left home the girl also fired at "her grandmother and just about everybody else in the house," Burns said.

Both Ollie Mae and her stepfather, Grady Johnson, were held in the Adams County Jail for questioning. The girl would say only that "the devil" in her caused the outburst.

"I don't know why she got so mad at me," Johnson said. "I have always treated her like one of my children. She has been unruly but I have always taken her side."

Ollie Mae and her family came here from near Winnsboro, La., and her father still lives there, the Sheriff said.

It was learned that about two months ago Johnson reported his stepdaughter "missing" and that she had only recently returned home.

North Gets $30,000 Thanks to South

The Southern Presbyterian Church with a brotherly gesture Monday turned over a $30,000 gift to the Northern Presbyterians.

This is the way it was explained by Dr. Vernon S. Broyles, Executive Secretary of the Board of Church Extension of the Southern church:

The Presbyterian Church, U. S. (Southern), was notified it had been willed the estate of Miss Ida Mae Sigafoos of Beatrice, Neb.

Investigation disclosed she had been a lifelong member of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. (Northern), and had previously taken out annuities in that church.

The Southerners waived all claims in favor of the Northerners.

TV Makers Drop 'Pressure' Ads

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—(U.P.)—The television industry said Monday it would abandon its advertising campaign which warned that children without television sets might get inferiority complexes.

Sid J. Schwinn, vice president of the advertising agency which prepares the television industry's newspaper ads, said future ads would stress the "positive joys" of owning a TV set.

Critics blasted the ads as "unmitigated nonsense," "cruel pressure" and "the worst case of poor taste that advertising has had in years."

Extension Planning Gets Aid

By HERMAN HANCOCK

Dr. Thomas H. Reed, director of the National Municipal League and widely known municipal expert, will help in preparing final details of the 82-square-mile extension of the Atlanta City limits.

City Council Monday approved a proposal by Mayor Hartsfield that Dr. Reed, who made a survey of the Atlanta and Fulton County governments in 1938, be brought back as consultant to the Local Government Commission and Fulton and DeKalb County delegations in the Georgia assembly. It set up a $5,000 fund for the purpose.

Council also voted to permit the Local Government Commission to use a $2,500 allocation without restrictions. The sum previously had been authorized contingent on a similar amount to be provided by Fulton County. Dr. Allen D. Albert, Jr., Chairman of the Commission, asked Council to remove the restriction because the Commission faces a "critical" financial situation.

Council directed City Attorney Jack Savage to prepare a proposed charter amendment to grant owners of corner lots credits up to 150 feet for the laying of water services on streets if the owner already has paid for water service on the other street his lot faces. The cost would be prorated among other owners along the street which the second installation is made.

Savage also was directed to prepare a bill to establish home rule for Atlanta. Councilman John A. White, author, said it would be offered if no general home rule bill of state-wide application is passed.

In other actions Council:

1. Overrode the City Planning Commission twice and voted to allow business use of properties owned by C. L. Busbee fronting 66.7 feet on the west side of Capitol Avenue at the intersection of Fulton Street, and a site owned by Vernon Hallyburton fronting 75 feet on the south side of Boulevard Drive at the intersection of Doyle Street. Delegations from the wards in which the sites are located recommended the action. The planning group had adversed the petitions.

2. Voted to permit the Brown-Wright Hotel Supply Co., to erect a building extending to the curb line at 576 Courtland St., N. E., thus abrogating a 35-foot building line established there for street widenings later.

3. Adopted a resolution asking that four beer and wine selling establishments on Georgia Avenue be restricted to package sales only. About two weeks ago, Council revoked the beer and wine sale permits for several other places in that area.

4. Sent to the tax committee a proposal to require a special permit to conduct games of chance. Councilman James E. Jackson, author, said it was aimed at community establishments which are attracting many children.

5. Passed by a standing vote a resolution of sympathy to Sixth Ward Councilman Wayne Blanchard on the death Sunday of his son, Wayne.

Gray Reappointed

Jack Gray, Atlanta Airport Manager, has been reappointed a member of the Civil Aeronautics Administration Airport Advisory Board, he was informed Monday. Only 12 members are named annually from the entire country. They form the cabinet which advises the board on civilian aviation problems.

Feted Mayor Returns

Mayor Hartsfield was back at desk Monday basking in the flattery of a luncheon given in New York by Robert M. Holder, Atlanta businessman, to top executives of General Electric. Among those attending the affair honoring Atlanta's mayor after he attended the Holland Society annual dinner were Charles B. Wilson, G. E. president; Board Chairman Philip D. Reed, and W. R. Herod, president of International General Electric.

Turkey for Pupils

There'll be turkey aplenty between now and Thanksgiving for Atlanta's 60,000 school youngsters. School cafeterias have received a solid carload of dressed turkeys from the surplus commodity division of the Federal Government for use in the cafeterias. Big Thanksgiving dinners are planned for Tuesday and Wednesday. Classes will be dismissed Wednesday afternoon until Monday morning.

Schools Unaffected

Atlanta school officials are convinced the present State Board of Education row will have no effect on the accredited standing of local schools. A delegation from the Atlanta schools will attend a meeting of the Southern Association of Secondry Schools and Colleges Dec. 3-4 at Richmond and will be able to answer any questions which may arise. Included among the Atlanta group will be Miss Ira Jarrell, School Superintendent; Ed S. Cook, Devereaux McClatchey, J. Austin Dilbeck and Dr. Charles C. Rife, board members, Roy Davis and G. Y. Smith, assistant school superintendents, and E. L. Floyd, of the school administrative staff.

Boy, 9, Injured In Dog's Attack

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 20 — (AP) — Richard Semrau, 9, was reported in poor condition at a hospital Monday after being bitten several times by two dogs as he walked home from school.

The animals were chased away when three men threw rocks but returned when sheriff's deputies arrived. The deputies shot and killed one animal and wounded the other, which was taken to the Wisconsin Humane Society for rabies observation.

The dogs were owned by John Tholl, whose farm Richard passed.

Sewer Blast Injures Five

DETROIT, Nov. 20—(AP)—Five workmen were injured, one seriously, in an explosion in a storm sewer on Detroit's east side Monday night. No one was killed.

Thirteen others in the sewer at the time were able to get out.

The explosion occurred while the men were checking for gas in the sewer.

State Protests Article On Prison Conditions

Suit Threatened By Officials Against Magazine

By M. L. ST. JOHN

The Georgia Department of Corrections has demanded Front Page Detective Magazine of New York make its own investigation of Georgia prison conditions and correct an "unmitigated lie before wardens of the various prison institutions employ counsel to file suit against your magazines for libel and slander."

Director R. E. Warren and Assistant Director J. B. Hatchett Monday made public a letter written to the Editor, protesting an article allegedly written by Letch Foster, a fugitive from this state.

The name of Foster, who has unsuccessfully fought extradition from California, was signed to an article which contended he would be murdered if sent back to a Georgia prison. The department said Foster was anxious to return to Georgia when California started questioning him about an alleged murder.

When it was found Foster was in a Georgia prison at the time of the alleged slaying, the department continued, and California couldn't prosecute, Foster began making his charges of mistreatment in Georgia and fighting extradition.

Hatchett recalled that other Southern states have filed libel suits against national magazines in recent years to try to halt erroneous slurs against them.

Foster was given six-to-ten years for automobile larcenies in Gwinnett County and two to 20 years for burglary in Hall County in 1946, after completing a three-year term in an Army prison. He escaped five times from Georgia prisons.

Picked up in California last August where he was fighting with a girl friend, Foster was identified as a Georgia fugitive. He told officers he had committed a murder in California a few years ago.

The Los Angeles Daily Mirror and Front Page Detective quoted him as stating he decided to "admit" the slaying and face the gas chamber in California rather than return to a "Georgia chain gang." The term "chain gang" is no longer used in Georgia.

The article allegedly written by Foster said Foster was forced to wear a 20-pound ball and chain day and night, that he was dressed in stripes and beaten by sadistic guards.

This article contended that such treatment occurred at a time when Georgia's prison reform program was in full progress. It overlapped the administrations of Directors Charlie Williams and R. E. Warren, and boards appointed by Former Gov. Arnall, Former Acting Gov. Thompson, and Gov. Talmadge.

The department's letter to Front Page Detective declared: "It is a violation of the law in this state for a warden to place a man in chains or manacles and has been for years. Prisoners are not required to wear striped clothing except as a means of punishment and that period of time is limited. Corporal punishment is unlawful and prisoners in this state are not subjected to cruel and inhumane treatment.

"The sanitary conditions in the various prisons in Georgia are much higher than the national average, and if the truth were known, Georgia is so far ahead of other states in prison administration that the others are not even close to us."

Gov. Warren and the California Supreme Court have upheld Georgia's request for Foster's return.

Car Lurches Bandit's Loot Back to Victim

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 20—(AP)—William A. McCoy was on his way to the bank Monday with a deposit from his store—$6,000, of which $3,600 was in cash.

A little fellow drew a revolver and pressed it into McCoy's stomach.

The money bag changed hands.

A car drew up to the curb. The bandit scurried into the car which lunged forward with a burst of speed as it rounded a corner.

A door swung open. The little bandit grabbed for his own safety. The money bag fell to the pavement.

McCoy retrieved the bag and continued to the bank where he made his deposit.

Fuel Supply Fades, But Jets Land Safely

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—(AP)—Five Navy jet planes from Cecil Field, near Jacksonville, Fla., made safe emergency landings at La Guardia Field Monday with only minutes of fuel to spare.

The Grumman F9F-2s were to refuel at Atlantic City before flying on to the Naval Air Station at Quonset Point, R. I. Bad weather changed their plans. The planes are single jet craft carrying only a pilot.

Georgia has had a 10-year

POPULATION GROWTH 10%
TELEPHONE GROWTH 151%

A good gauge of Georgia progress and prosperity, and of the size of the telephone job that's being done, is a comparison of population growth with telephone growth. While the number of people in Georgia was increasing 10% in ten years, according to the census, the number of telephones jumped 151%.

A large part of this telephone growth has taken place in just the last five years. During that short time Southern Bell has built $87,360,000 of new telephone facilities in Georgia . . . more than doubled the number of telephones . . . tripled long distance circuits and more than tripled rural telephones.

We've spent considerably more to expand Georgia telephone facilities in the last five years than we had invested in the state five years ago. And we're going right on doing our best to meet the continuing heavy demand for service in town and on the farm.

Georgia Manager

Where Money to Expand and Improve Service Comes From

It doesn't come from the money you pay us for telephone service . . . that money goes to pay wages, taxes and other operating costs. The money to build new facilities must come from people with money to invest. That's why the future of telephone service depends on the Company's continued ability to pay for the use of money invested in telephone facilities.

Vote Asked On German Rearming

Socialist Leader Demands Election

By DREW MIDDLETON
Special to The New York Times and The Atlanta Constitution

FRANKFORT, Nov. 20—A Socialist demand for a general election on German rearmament followed swiftly Monday upon victories for the Social Democratic party in state elections in Hesse and Wuerttemberg-Baden of the United States zone.

Kurt Schumacher, leader of the Socialist opposition, coupled this demand with a blunt claim that the election results amounted to vote of no confidence in the coalition government.

The temper of Socialist headquarters Monday night was such that only the wildest optimist can believe that soothing ministrations of the Allied high commissioners, collectively or individually, can prevent the Socialists from raising the political temperature of Germany still further and perhaps forcing a general election.

Thus while the three Western Powers are working to find a formula whereby Germany can be rearmed, the Germans themselves have plunged into the hottest political fight of the federal republic's short history on that very subject.

The West can gain some consolation from the fact that Herr Schumacher and his Socialist party are not against rearmament in its entirety. What they are against, a party spokesman said Monday, is rearmament without consultation of the German people—that is, a general election and rearmament without there being sufficient Allied forces in Germany to hold, with German divisions, Russian forces "off the soil of the fatherland."

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his government naturally are doing their best to discount results of Sunday's election and the relatively smaller percentage of votes cast (in Hesse 64.9 and in Wuerttemberg-Baden 57.1) gives them a good base of operations.

Nevertheless Dr. Adenauer's claim that the government has not been able to speak freely about rearmament because of the "difficult foreign political situation" probably will fail to satisfy voters who have feared that the government was not being frank with the electorate.

'No Smoking' Stands For Atlanta Schools

"No Smoking" signs were dusted off Monday night and hung over Atlanta schools and school grounds.

The Atlanta Board of Education cited its long-standing rule against smoking after J. Austin Dilbeck, chairman of the Board's Buildings and Grounds Committee, said he heard reports that students in several high schools plan to offer petitions asking smoking rooms be provided.

Shocked members said they are trying to operate a modern educational system, but have no intention of becoming "ultra modern." Under board rules, smoking is prohibited in school buildings or on school grounds.

A-Spy Gold Tells of Lies To Brothman

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—(AP)—Atom spy Harry Gold testified Monday that he made up one story after another about himself to pass on to Abraham Brothman.

The lies, he said, were to offset Brothman's "prying," but they were so many and so fanciful that Gold added:

"It's a wonder that steam didn't come out of my ears at times."

It was not until the FBI was on their tail, Gold said, that he finally admitted to Brothman that the background he had spun was false.

Gold is a star government witness against Brothman, 36-year-old chemical engineer, and Miriam Moskowitz, 34, a business associate.

A confessed Soviet spy awaiting sentence, Gold is not on trial in the present case.

Brothman and Miss Moskowitz are charged with conspiring to obstruct justice by arranging with Gold for false testimony to a grand jury about how Brothman met Gold and what their relations were. Gold last week testified he received valued government secrets from Brothman and turned them over to Soviet agents.

Gold was cross-examined about earlier testimony in which he said Brothman prompted him to make up some sort of a story to tell the FBI about their relations.

Then the defense led Gold into a recital of the lies he said he told Brothman.

Jap Signer Of Surrender Wins Parole

TOKYO, Tuesday, Nov. 21—(AP). Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japan's wartime Foreign Minister, was released from Sugamo Prison Tuesday. He was paroled from a seven-year sentence as a war criminal despite a Russian protest.

Shigemitsu was one of two Japanese who signed the surrender aboard the battleship Missouri.

The Soviet portest, made public Sunday in Washington, drew no comment from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters.

Shigemitsu was convicted at the 1948 war crimes trial. He was sentenced to seven years, the lightest term imposed by the International Court. Good behavior made him eligible for parole last March.

"Shigemitsu has been released from Sugamo Prison on parole," his attorney, George A. Furness, said in a statement. "It is not a pardon. His sentence has not expired.

"He is not free, it merely means that instead of serving the remainder of his seven-year sentence in prison he may go home. There are some of us who feel that he never should have been indicted, never tried, convicted or sentenced, but his vindication must come later, perhaps with the writing of history."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20—(U.P.) The State Department said Monday it will reject or ignore Russia's protest against General MacArthur's parole of Mamoru Shigemitsu, wartime Japanese Prime Minister.

Catholic-Operated Hospital Dismisses Sterilizing Surgeon

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Nov. 20—(UP)—Dr. J. M. Stephens Monday was dropped from the medical staff of Catholic-operated Mercy Hospital for sterilizing a patient.

His dismissal followed a stormy operating room scene between the doctor and outraged sisters who demanded he undo the sterilization operation. He had blocked the patient's ovary tubes.

He said the patient, a mother of four children, and her husband had asked she be sterilized when a Caesarean section was performed for her fifth child.

"If a patient desires sterilization and it is medically advisable, I perform the operation," Stephens said. He had recommended the operation, he said, because he believed another childbirth would be dangerous for the patient.

The operation was nearly finished, he said, when Sister Mary Adelede, entered the surgery room and asked to inspect the patient.

"I said we were all closed up," Stephens said.

"'Well, will you admit you tied the tubes?'" she asked me.

"I answered yes."

"'You'll have to untie them'," she told me.

"So I had to reopen my patient. It increased the danger for her but I figured it was the quickest way out. Evidently some of the nurses had tipped of fthe sisters about what was going on.

"So I removed the two stitches. But I wouldn't have if I had known they were going to kick me out anyway."

Hospital officials were reluctant to discuss the case.

Decentralization Is Urged As Atom Bomb Protection

Special to The New York Times and The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20—Slum clearance, business decentralization and financing for off-street parking in New York, Washington and other large cities were designated as essential factors in national security Monday at the opening session of the Businessmen's Conference on Urban Problems here. The meeting is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Protection from atomic bomb attacks was suggested through extensive construction of underground garages.

Raymond M. Foley, Administrator of the Federal Housing and Finance Agency, warned delegates that "to the extent that we fail to free ourselves of the wasteful, uneconomic and undemocratic spread of slums and blight, our security is weakened."

Washington's all-out effort for re-location of governmental agencies so that they will be out of harm's way in event of air attacks was outlined by J. W. Follin, Special Assistant to the Administrator, Federal General Services Administration.

Follin said he did not know of any such high concentration of commerce in any other American city.

"It would certainly take several bombs in a city like Detroit to destroy productive facilities in a degree equal to the destruction which the Atomic Energy Commission has pictured could happen in downtown Washington," he said.

Then George C. Smith, President of the Chamber of Commerce of St. Louis remarked:

"No sane enemy would drop a bomb on Washington as it is already too muddled."

GIs' Turkey in Korea, Mealtime Up to Foe

TOKYO, Nov. 20—(U.P.)—There will be turkey and perhaps all the trimmin's for American GIs in Korea this week, but when and how they will get their traditional Thanksgiving dinner will depend on the enemy.

Hundreds of thousands of pounds of turkey were delivered to Korean ports and the islands of the Far Eastern Command late last week, headquarters announced Monday. All soldiers in this area will observe the holiday with the traditional dinner—as far as battle conditions permit.

Enough turkey for more than one pound per man has been provided, but some soldiers may eat their bird before or after Thanksgiving, the announcement said.

School Financing Discussion Slated

Methods for financing the Atlanta school system after 38 county schools are taken over in the proposed 82-square-mile expansion of the Atlanta City limits in 1952 will be discussed at a joint meeting of the Local Government Commission and the Atlanta Board of Education Friday night.

Time and place of the session will be determined later, but board members Monday night deferred a detailed discussion of the problem until Friday.

Dr. Nancy Campbell's medical license was suspended Monday in Santa Fe, N. M., and a state official says she may be arraigned this week on a charge of kidnaping for ransom. She is to be tried on charges of abducting 9-year-old Linda Stamm 10 days ago. . . . Proposals for rearming Germany should be "looked into very carefully" Crown Prince Olaf, of Norway, said Monday, adding that a "compromise" between the French and American programs might be evolved "for the good of Western Europe." He and Crown Princess Martha are in Washington for an unofficial visit. . . . Secretary of the Navy Matthews got a glimpse of the Navy at rescue work Monday when a sailor fell overboard from the battleship Missouri and was pulled from the sea off Korea. The seaman, Peter Mills, was knocked into the sea while helping to pull aboard the accommodation ladder used for Secretary Matthews' visit. A helicopter picked him up. Matthews is observing operations in the war area.

Alabama Fugitive Found in Prison Here

John Willie Robinson, 24-year-old Negro city prisoner Monday turned out to be a fugitive from Kilby State Prison of Alabama.

Convicted on a disorderly conduct charge in Recorder's Court, Robinson was sentenced to 30 days at the Atlanta Prison Farm.

His fingerprints were cleared through the FBI in Washington. He was listed there as "Johnnie Allen," an escapee from Kilby in 1947. Robinson admitted, said Lt. Glyn Cowan, he had been serving three years at Kilby for larceny of an auto.

Admirers Visit Grave Of Talmadge

McRAE, Nov. 20—(AP)—Admirers of the late Eugene Talmadge gathered here Monday to do homage to the man who was elected Governor of Georgia four times and who had his start in politics in this little South Georgia town.

Ceremonies for Gene Talmadge Day began at the cemetery in McRae where Talmadge is buried and which is still a mecca for the friends of the Sage of Sugar Creek four years after his death. Comptroller Zack D. Cravey laid a wreath on the grave after an eulogy by the Rev. A. D. Woodle, former pastor of the McRae Baptist Church, where Talmadge was a member.

A mile-long parade featured floats from 18 Georgia counties, State patrol cars from Alabama and Florida, bands from Eastman, Dublin and Hazlehurst and the floats of the cities of Helena and McRae.

Gov. Herman Talmadge, Mrs. Eugene Talmadge and Mayors Tom Allen, of Helena, and George Callihan, of McRae, headed the parade.

Rain in the later afternoon dispersed a crowd that overflowed the Telfair County courthouse lawn to hear speeches by Comptroller Cravey, Judge Eschol Graham and others.

In the crowd were such Talmadge stalwarts as "Uncle Alex" Boone, of Irwinton, and Mrs. Beulah Waller, the wool-hat woman from Byron.

Balance of the scheduled program was carried out at the new Gene Theater here, fronted with the authentic scotch plaid of the McRae clan. Gov. Talmadge unveiled a bust of his late father in the theater lobby and later was the featured speaker at formal opening of the theater.

8 Polio Cases Added to List

Cooler weather has brought little reduction in the number of new polio cases here, Grady Hospital attendants said Monday in reporting eight more "suspect" cases have been diagnosed positively as polio.

Confirmed polio patients include Ruby T. Watkins, 17, of Waresboro; Kenneth A. Breedlove, six, 690 Spring St., N. W.; William A. Dolan, III, 25, of Augusta; Ynetta Darden, 19 months, 953 Ashby Grove, Atlanta; Garry Wayne Mulligan, two, of Moultrie; Clarence M. Crews, Jr., seven, of Athens; David R. Worsham, four, of Macon, and Jeffares Roy Bailey, nine months, of 272 Sisson Ave., Northeast.

Total number of patients with polio or suspected polio at Grady Monday night was 13.

Soviet Charge of 'Attack' By U. S. Plane Rejected

McCloy Hits Action Of Russian Pilot

Special to The New York Times and The Atlanta Constitution

FRANKFORT, Nov. 20—In a letter to Gen. Vassily Chuikov, U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy Monday flatly rejected a complaint by the Soviet Control Commission chief that near Frankfort Nov. 11 an American fighter plane attacked a Soviet passenger aircraft taking the French Communist leader, Maurice Thorez, to Moscow.

McCloy wrote that he regarded the incident as "serious" and said he would be forced to reconsider the rules for Soviet flights over the American Zone if such violations of air traffic rules recur.

He pointed out that a French navigator who was a passenger on the Soviet plane confirmed that the American fighter had not attacked, merely approaching to a distance of 500 feet for identification purposes.

The letter declared:

"The fact is that the Soviet pilot by his irresponsible conduct in flying without clearance through one of the most thickly populated air spaces in all Europe, endangered the lives not only of the passengers of his own plane—including Mr. Thorez—but also of hundreds of people on board other aircraft in or near the Frankfort control area at that time."

According to McCloy's account, the Soviet plane received a diplomatic clearance and submitted an advance flight plan to the Frankfort air traffic center proposing clearance through the area to Berlin at 5,000 feet. The Soviet aircraft, however, failed to notify Frankfort as it approached and received no flight clearance.

Consequently, the letter continued, when the unidentified aircraft approached an American fighter was dispatched to identify it.

The Soviet pilot thereupon "compounded his violation" by descending into a cloudbank 500 feet below the proposed flight plan at a time when 17 other aircraft were in the Frankfort control area.

McCloy declared that the Soviet pilot's performance was "inexcusable" and said he was surprised that it had been the occasion for a formal complaint by Gen. Chuikov. The letter concluded: "I therefore recommend that you take immediate steps to prevent a recurrence of such gross negligence or incompetence on the part of Soviet pilots flying over the United States Zone."

Dining Hall Dedicated at Agnes Scott

Agnes Scott College Monday dedicated its new Letitia Pate Evans Dining Hall, third major addition to the Decatur campus since the end of the war.

The cathedral-like dining hall contains four separate dining rooms, and can seat 826 guests. The main dining room, used by students every day, has a capacity of 496.

The $525,000 building is furnished with modern equipment, including built-in refrigerators, steam tables and new china.

Dr. F. Phinizy Calhoun presided at the dedication ceremonies. Dr. James R. McCain, President of Agnes Scott, told visitors of the hall and its uses. John A. Sibley spoke on Agnes Scott and its service, and Hughes Spalding told the gathering of the philanthropic work of Mrs. Evans and her family.

A portrait of Mrs. Evans, who gave the building and its equipment to Agnes Scott, was unveiled by James F. Alexander.

Sheriff Dodgers Warned

By HOKE SMITH MAY

If you're dodging a deputy sheriff with a summons for you, don't hide behind your boss' coattails.

A decision by Fulton Superior Court announced Monday says the boss can't help you.

A Sheriff's office spokesman said process-serving deputies have been having trouble for some time with bosses who wouldn't allow employees to be served in their places of business.

Tired of getting the same old answer, the Sheriff's office took the matter before Judge Ralph Pharr.

Deputy Sheriff A. L. Battle attempted to serve a summons on William Henry Smith at the Curtiss Printing Company, 62 Ellis St., N. E.

Battle was directed to the manager, Gordon W. Curtiss, Jr., who refused to allow service at the printing shop.

Solicitor General Paul Webb swore out a warrant for contempt of court against Curtiss. The summons was duly served on Curtiss at his business establishment.

Judge Pharr ruled that Curtiss had no right to refuse Deputy Battle permission to serve the summons on Smith. Curtiss was held in contempt and reprimanded by the court.

Suit Dropped

A suit which would have permanently restrained Western Electric employees from picketing Southern Bell Telephone Company offices was dropped Monday by mutual consent of attorneys for the company and Division 6, Communication Workers of America (CIO).

Sunday's settlement of a nationwide strike by CWA Western Electric workers rendered the suit unnecessary, attorneys said.

Safety Moves

Thirteen apartments and welfare institutions in Fulton County have complied with the State Fire alarm regulations and another 13 others are making alarm installations.

Guy Eaves, Fulton Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, said only seven apartments notified of the new regulation have failed to comply.

Won't Quit Suez, Bevin Tells Egypt

By CLIFTON DANIEL

Special to The New York Times and The Atlanta Constitution

LONDON, Nov. 20—British troops will not leave the Suez Canal zone. Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin made that plain enough Monday in a reply to the Egyptian Government's demand for cancellation of the 1936 treaty under which Britain is allowed to maintain a base on the canal.

As expected Bevin announced that the British Government would "rest on the treaty until it is changed by mutual consent" as provided by the treaty itself.

"This is not a matter which merely concerns the United Kingdom and Egypt," the Foreign Secretary told the House of Commons. "What is at stake is the independence of other countries also."

To those countries which include Iran, Iraq, Turkey, Greece and others on the periphery of the Soviet Empire he gave an assurance that the British Government "has no intention of taking steps or agreeing to any measures which would leave the Middle East defenseless or would needlessly prejudice the safety of free and friendly countries in that area or elsewhere."

It is believed here that the United States whose ships and planes now share in the guardianship of the Mediterranean basin will wholeheartedly support Britain in that position.

Bevin also declared that the British Government had not changed its attitude toward the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan which the Egyptians wish to unite with their own country. Britain believes, he said, that the Sudanese now governed principally by British officials should in due course freely decide their own future.

Draft Mental Rejections Cut By New Tests

Rate of draft rejections of Georgians for failure to pass mental qualification examinations has dropped from 76 to 35 percent since July, Selective Service officials reported Monday.

Acting State Director Maj. William J. Hatcher said one reason for the drop was a change in the method of conducting the examinations. He declined to discuss the change.

According to Hatcher's figures, in July, only 24 percent of Georgians examined for the draft were qualified. By comparison, 65 percent of those examined were qualified in November.

He said that to date, 2,550 Georgians have been inducted, and the State is running ahead of its quota.

Goat Outdoes Lamb: Gets a School Seat

PALMERSTON, Ont., Nov: 20—(U.P.)—Like Mary's little Lamb, Allan Patterson's goat followed him to school Monday.

Teacher Shirley D'Alton tried in vain to eject it. Then, deciding the goat was quiet and clean, Miss D'Alton assigned it a seat in the second row.

CALVERT CHALLENGES COMPARISON WITH ANY WHISKEY ON THE MARKET!

1
ASK A FRIEND to pour about ¼ oz. of Calvert Reserve into one glass, and the same amount of your present brand into another — without telling you which is which.

2
SNIFF ONE BRAND for aroma. Taste it critically for smoothness, as you roll it over your tongue and carry it up to the roof of your mouth. Then swallow slowly to judge its freedom from bite, burn or sting.

3
WAIT ABOUT 30 SECONDS to clear your palate, and judge the other brand in the same analytical way. Then let your own taste buds give you the answer. Just pick the whiskey that really tastes best to you.

DANTON WALKER LEARNS SECRETS OF CALVERT'S BETTER TASTE
Danton Walker
Newspaper, Radio and Television Commentator
NEW YORK, N. Y.—How does Calvert dare challenge comparison with any whiskey on the market? After interviewing W. W. Wachtel, President of Calvert Distillers Corporation, I can let you in on the reasons. Here are Mr. Wachtel's answers to my questions:
Q. How can you be so sure that most people will prefer Calvert Reserve to any other whiskey?
A. Because the taste of Calvert is determined by a Consumer Jury of thousands of folks like you. Every year we conduct over 50,000 taste tests to arrive at the taste people prefer.
Q. Does that mean you blend your whiskies to the taste the public wants?
A. Right. For this purpose we have an unequalled "blending library" of more than 300 choice whiskies and grain neutral spirits.
Q. Isn't that all pretty expensive?
A. Yes, but it's worth it! We've spent over $10,000,000 on research and development to make certain Calvert tastes best to most people.
Q. Then you really believe most people will prefer the taste of Calvert?
A. We're sure of it. But don't take our word for it. We invite you to make your own taste test. If you really prefer another brand, then that's the whiskey for you. Fair enough?
Q. How can people let you know the results of their own taste tests?
A. I'd like to hear from them personally. Just write to W. W. Wachtel, Pres., Calvert Distillers Corp., Room 1321, Chrysler Bldg., New York 17, N. Y.

You'd Give Them the World If You Could

... this Christmas You Can!

FOR YOUR FAMILY, Christmas 1950 can be the most wonderful Christmas ever ... or ever to come.

For never, before television, could you give your loved ones all the whole wide world...

- the exciting world where history happens every day before your eyes
- the world of adventure, where a little girl can be a princess, and a six-year-old boy can tame the West on horseback
- the world of knowledge, where learning is fun, and no one wants to "play hooky"
- the world of sports where champions teach sportsmanship as well as skill
- the world of laughter, which sweeps away the day's cares like a broom
- the world of great music and culture—a world of inspiration and reawakened faith

Yes, these golden hours are yours to share when you're a television family... but lost forever if you delay. Never before in all history has there been such entertainment for all the family at so modest a price. Place your order for a TV set now—for this is the Christmas you can give the world to your family.

With TV this magic world is theirs to enjoy *every day!

TELEVISION is moving faster than you think. New programs, new stars make their debut every week. The longer you wait, the more you miss! Here's just a partial list.

A NEW KIND OF NEWS—You can actually see history made right before your eyes. Children in TV homes are more alert, better informed, often get high marks at school.

DRAMA for young and old—The brightest stars of the theatre now perform to millions—bring the great plays of all time to audiences who never before could see them.

CHILD PERFORMERS—Talented singers, dancers, musicians inspire your own children to learn faster, practice longer, willingly cultivate their own talents.

WORLD'S GREATEST athletic events—Fathers and sons follow their favorite teams together from a front row seat. Television helps teach your children sportsmanship.

THE WONDERFUL world of make believe—Experts say every child needs it as part of his normal development. And it makes mother's life a lot easier—especially on rainy days.

ADVENTURE—American kids have "gone western" and taken their parents along. Rootin', tootin' westerns are fun for all—stimulate a healthy love of outdoor life.

LAUGHTER under your roof—the shared pleasure that binds your family closer. The greatest comedians of the entertainment world are in your living room every night on TV.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt

United States Delegate to The General Assembly of the United Nations says:

"To me television offers a magnificent opportunity to increase the education which we make available to the children of today. If parents will supervise carefully the type of show and the time spent by children watching television, they can see the best that television has to offer, which can bring much enjoyment and much that will be valuable in their education. Of course, I am a firm believer in the supervision of children's reading habits, and now that we have television, I think that the same thing should be true for television. It is a parent's duty to see to it that the children get the best in books and the best in television entertainment and education."

Carmen Miranda Berle's Next Guest

By PAUL JONES

Milton Berle is a man with two talents; (1) for picking guest stars who can go into action, and (2) stealing gags and winding up with fewer clinkers, or eggs, than any other comic in TV.

When Berle's slip began to show several weeks ago he brought back Martha Raye, the big-mouth burlesquer, and his sponsors breathed a happier sigh.

Miranda

Berle is taking no chances of letting his slip show again. . . . Martha Raye wasn't available for the Tuesday Star Theater which will be televiewed on WSB-TV starting at 8, so Berle got the next best thing—Carmen Miranda, the Latin with the fruit salad chapeaux.

Carmen will be the heel for some of Uncle Miltie's brash humor during Tuesday night's stint, when other guests will be Durante and Mitchell, comedy acrobats; "Tables" Davis, expert at handling tables, and Martha Stewart and the Blackburn Twins, currently appearing at New York's Roxy.

• • •

SURVEYS are always being conducted on TV. . . . They show everything from "psycho effect on children" to "how many people have TV sets in their bath closets". . . . Latest survey, conducted by Woodbury College, shows people want movies on TV more than any other type entertainment.

At least 80 percent of those interviewed, the survey shows, were willing to pay as high as one buck for a first-run movie on their home screen. . . . Now if someone could figure out a way for the movies to collect admissions from such showings we could have a world premiere on TV any day.

• • •

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Walter Hampden co-star in the WSB (radio) Cavalcade of America dramatization, Stepping Stones at 8 p. m. . . . It's the story of the drawing up and signing of the Mayflower Compact, first charter of civil rights.

• • •

Live and Choice—WSB-TV: Strictly for Girls, 1; Ranson Sherman, 3; Bill Stern, 3:30; Kukla, Fran and Ollie, 7; Berle, 8; Amateur Hour, 10; Broadway Open House, 11.

• • •

A new mid-afternoon quiz show, featuring sportcaster Bill Stern, moves into the 3:30 spotlight on WSB-TV, following the very funny Ranson Sherman show.

• • •

"Death Is for Old Men," an exciting yarn about how a home for aged men brings about a "turnover" for profit reasons, will be dramatized at 10 on WSB-NBC's Big Town.

HOUSE WARMING

TV Brings Excitement

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 20—(AP)—The television antenna on Ernest Kolesiak's house fell across a 27,000-volt power line Sunday with these results:

The plumbing began throwing off sparks and pipes melted around the kitchen sink.

Mrs. Kolesiak, peeling potatoes, found her spectacles speckled with molten metal.

Balls of fire bounced up and down on the roof with thunderous explosions.

The high voltags burned out the television set and blew off one of the knobs before the Indiana and Michigan Electric Company shut off the power.

The telephone burned out.

A glove lying in the yard burst into flames.

The house was scorched in three places where wires passed through the walls.

Kolesiak, who was trying to tighten the antenna wires, was only slightly burned.

Vast Tree Planting Plan Seen in State

By ED KELLY

Plans were completed Monday for a vast reforestation program which will help farmers plant between 400,000,000 and 500,000,000 trees throughout Georgia during the next few years.

Spearheaded by the Fulton National Bank of Atlanta and Erle Cocke, its president, the program has enlisted the support of Gov. Talmadge, the Georgia Forestry Commission, the U. S. Forestry Department, the Tennessee Valley Authority, the pulpwood industries, 203 banks and the seven major railroads operating in the state.

The plan is designed to augment the present reforestration program underway in the state.

Representatives of these various groups pledged their whole-hearted support at a luncheon meeting Monday at the Atlanta Athletic Club. They discussed further organization to include community meetings of farmers, co-operation of county agents, buying of tree-planting machines and ways of obtaining even more seedlings for planting this fall and early next year. One hundred tree-planting machines already have been bought.

The total of banks co-operating soon is expected to swell to 250, and Guyton DeLoach, director of the Georgia Forestry Commission, announced the program will require more than 35,000,000 pine seedlings this year and more than 600,000 in 1951.

Various representatives of the railroads and forestry leaders told of co-operation found in conferences with community leaders throughout Georgia about the tree-planting program on a recent tour:

"I was impressed with the splendid co-operation given by the banks," Lloyd Westbrook, extension district agent of the University of Georgia, said. "Bankers seem to be falling all over themselves trying to buy tree-planters for their communities."

Pointing out that the reforestation program will not interfere with any existing projects, Westbrook hailed the step as a "vital part of soil conservation." Judging from the reception on tour, Westbrook said, acceptance of the program "should be great" in other sectors.

"We're definitely planning on a five-year program," Cocke said, "hoping it will become permanent." He welcomed the backing of the TVA and the support it has pledged. Cocke said the ultimate goal is 100,000,000 seedlings set out annually.

J. H. Stone, U. S. Region Forester, labeled the program as one in which all factors are "positive, not negative."

"It's going to take a lot of help from banks, railroads and others," he said, "but it has gotten off to a fine start. I know it's headed in the right direction."

Gov. Talmadge has pledged that the state nurseries will be expanded to meet the program's needs. The nursery production now is approximately 40,000,000 yearly, but an effort will be made to step up output to 100,000,000.

Seedlings to be planted include white pines for North Georgia.

The level valley of the Red River of the North is ideal for mechanized grain farming because of its black soil, almost free of rocks and trees.

Backroom Report Says Frnka Going to Texas

Back in the back room, the boys are talking over these projected switches in the coaching lineup: Henry Frnka from Tulane to Texas, Bud Wilkinson from Oklahoma to Minnesota or Texas and an unidentified SEC head man to succeed Wallace Wade at Duke. . . . Frnka, who lives dangerously in New Orleans, covets the Texas job that would carry him back to his native state.

Auburn alumni appear to be quite brotherly toward Earl Brown, and if they have their way, the statuesque Notre Dame alumnus will get a new contract, the record be-damned. . . . Coach most likely to get a raise: Peahead Walker at Wake Forest, after many a season of subsisting on a pauper's pay. . . . Most effective coach this year on a day when he has set his team's mind to it: Beattie Feathers of N. C. State. Chief Wahoo got his crew so ready for UNC they came within seconds of a tie. He got them ready and beat Maryland, then came back and tied Wake Forest.

Any day now, the Chicago White Sox will say they have hired old Cracker scout Claude Dietrich. The Dutchman who discovered Bill Goodman and Connie Ryan has realigned with Paul Richards. . . . Oscar Rodriguez had won five pennants in a row for Havana. Last week he was fired and replaced by old National League pitcher, Adolfo Luque. How's that for gratitude? . . . Wallace Butts has often insisted that his Athens eatery should have been named The Hurdle instead of The Huddle. Financially, that is.

Line last week from a wire service story: "Bobby Marlow will be used both offensively and defensively against Alabama." . . . How that would have changed the complexion of Tech's Saturday shock! . . . Speaking of coaches, had you heard that Wes Fesler struck hard and long for the job Ears Whitworth got at Oklahoma A&M? And Fesler with the recruiting power and might of Ohio State. And the pressure. . . . Sneak visitor in town last week was silver-haired, silver-voiced Jim Conzelman, ex-coach of the Chicago Cardinals.

Howard Grows a New Crop of Hair

Small wonder Frank Howard goes so strong on Billy Hair. After years of growing the fine head of skin he has, it's nice to have a Hair even in your backfield. . . . Bowl match I'd like to see: Howard and his tricky single wing versus Charley Caldwell and Princeton's tricky single wing. . . . Pound for pound, Wally Butts has designated Bobby Morris the hardest tackler and Chuck Magoni the hardest runner he ever coached. They'll check in at something like 160.

First sign of these war-torn times: Hartwick College in western New York State gave up football last week. Too much draft and too much cost. . . . Yet, at the Michigan-Indiana game "only" 67,379 showed up and it was called "a paltry turnout." . . . I read by the Yankee papers that Dixie Walker, Bobby Bragan, Peewee Reese and Lou Boudreau have all been dismissed as Dodger managerial prospects. It's now up to Burt Shotton and Chuck Dressen, and the insiders are riding on Shotton. . . . Sal (Zero) Maglie is striking for a $20,000 contract after his 18-4 year and string of goose-eggs. Golden goose-eggs, eh what?

Pore Choo-Choo Justice. He fumbled Sunday and cost the Redskins another touchdown. What was that Earl Blaik was saying about pro football? . . . Recommended reading: Tom Siler's piece on General Neyland in the latest Look magazine, and, if you're horse-inclined, Margaret Cabell Self's wonderful new "Treasury of Horse Stories," a collection of horse tales. . . . Most uncalled-for piece: Look's recent work on Hugh Devore, as football's upset king. What's he got to upset with at NYU?

Bought Your Freshman Ticket Yet?

Says Harry Mehre: "They shoulda come to see me. I'm the upset king. I got upset more than anybody." . . . There's more feeling than ever on the Georgia campus toward the Scottish Rite game with Tech's freshmen Thanksgiving Day at Grant Field. Buddy Rutledge's polio case brought it close to home. Bought your ticket yet?

Stanley Woodward is first to the post with his All-American basketball futures. He goes for Bill Spivey of Kentucky, Sam Ranzino of N. C. State, Toar Hester of Arkansas, Dick Groat of Duke, Clyde Lovellette of Kansas, Bob Zawoluk of St. John's, Ed Sheldrake of UCLA, Ed Warner of CCNY, Sherman White of Long Island and Gene Melchiorre of Bradley. . . . Worst bet of the year: that Vanderbilt would get knocked off by one of its breathers, Mid-Tennessee, Chattanooga or Memphis State. They were putting money on it in Nashville. . . . And wasn't it nice to see the SEC's favorite sparring partner, Chattanooga, lay into Duquesne Friday night. Scrappy Moore was getting pretty close to a shutout season.

Scout report: "Ted Hazelwood warned North Carolina not to take the Gamecocks' 199-6 loss to Citadel as an indication of weakness. . . ." Well, that's what the Associated Press said. . . . A Birmingham paper reports that Dixie Walker and son Fred, Jr., have been digging a cellar at the Walker home. I hope he's not preparing for '51. . . . Runs in the family, I guess. Slot man Bud Cox's pappy became the first picker in the history of Morganton, N. C., to call all 20 games in the local paper's football contest. . . . Headline: "Florida, Miami Both Crippled." Then who scored five touchdowns? Selah.

Grapplers Return Here on Friday

Feminine and male wrestlers share the spotlight Friday night as professional wrestling returns to the city auditorium after a lay-off. Lillian Bitters, making her first local appearance, and June Byers come to grips in one-half of the co-feature. Newcomer Jack Kennedy will defend his Southern heavyweight title belt against Lord Finis Hall in the champion piece.

Other matches include Don McIntyre vs. Nick Carter, Red Roberts vs. Red McIntyre and Tarzan White vs. Jack Steele. Opener is at 8:30 p. m.

North, Bossons INS Selectees

Kentucky's Babe Parilli, Duke's Billy Cox, South Carolina's Steve Wadiak and Mississippi's John Dottley make up the backfield on International News Service's 1950 All-South college football team, which is being announced Tuesday.

Fullback Bobby North and Center Bob Bossons, of Georgia Tech, were chosen for the second team.

Tech, Georgia Frosh Take Over Spotlight

Thanksgiving Day Classic Overshadows Varsity Tilts

By JESSE OUTLAR

It doesn't happen anywhere else in the nation and only the intense Tech-Georgia rivalry could produce such an unusual twist, but the Thanksgiving tussle between the Bullpups and Baby Jackets at Grant Field overshadows week-end varsity games of both institutions.

Of course, this is no ordinary freshman show. Newspapers devote more space and loquacious radio announcers spout more words about it than any other yearling game.

There are many reasons why the boys who act as sparring partners for the varsity suddenly zoom into the spotlight once a year.

First, every nickel of the proceeds goes to the Scottish Rite hospital. Hundreds of crippled children have walked because strong legs ran on Thanksgiving.

They call it a charity game, but it isn't. Fans get their money's worth.

The boys always play it to the hilt. It's the beginning of a bitter four-year feud for players of both squads. Players visit the Scottish Rite hospital before the game and it gives them an inspiration that no coach can instill in a dressing room.

Thirty-eight thousand fans are expected for this years' game, but plenty of good tickets are still available. The game won't be televised, and ducats may be purchased at Muse's.

Both Coach Bobby Dodd, of Tech, and Wallace Butts, of Georgia, have dismissed freshmen from work with the varsity in order to enable them to shoot the works Thanksgiving.

Baby Jacket Coach Lewis Woodruff moved his squad indoors for Monday's drill and plans little contact work for the rest of the week. The Tech team is one of the best to appear at the Flats in recent years, and reigns as a slight favorite.

Georgia worked outside Monday as Coach Larry Bouley polished his offensive attack and worked on a defense to halt Tech's highly touted aerial game.

Both teams boast rugged lines and two of the strongest links are at center.

Dick Inman, 195-pounder from Castle Heights, has been named captain of the Tech squad. He was a six-letter man and earned a spot in the Castle Heights Hall of Fame during his prep career. Woodruff considers him a deadly tackler, a fine leader and he'll probably see plenty of varsity action next season.

Georgia's Earl Gunn, a reformed fullback from Marist, is another in the long list of home-grown stars to shine at the pivot post for Georgia.

Most backs shudder when you shift them to the forward wall, but Gunn had rather jar ball carriers than score touchdowns. While at Marist he practiced snaps by the hour, and was used as a center on punts.

If Gunn gets the varsity assignment at Georgia, he'll follow in the footsteps of centers such as Quinton Lumpkin, Junior Meeks, Mike Cooley, Gene Chandler and Bill Bradshaw, all home-state boys.

Columbus Clips Jordan, 19-6

By ELLWOOD MOYER

Special to The Atlanta Constitution

COLUMBUS, Nov. 20—Columbus High wound up its 1950 season Monday with a 19-6 victory over bitter rival Jordan. A long run and a long pass play, both featuring Gene Hill, were mainly responsible.

More than 12,000 fans watched.

Jordan drew first blood, marching 64 yards on 12 plays in the first quarter. A nine-yard pass from Bob Chambers to Bob McGee accounted for the touchdown.

Three plays later, Hill broke off tackle and ran 57 yards to tie the score at 6-6.

Hill took a touchdown pass from Gary Kelly for 54 yards to give Columbus a 12-6 halftime lead. That was Columbus' only completion in eight tries.

Columbus scored its final touchdown when Knox Culpepper intercepted Chambless' pass at the Jordan 18 and returned it to the six. On fourth down, Culpepper scored from the two and Kelly converted.

The final victory gave Coach Dickie Butler's winners a 6-4 season record, his second best in six years at Columbus High. The defeat knocked Jordan's record down to seven losses against one victory.

| Score by periods: | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Jordan | 0 | 6 | 0 | 0—6 |
| Columbus | 0 | 12 | 0 | 7—19 |

Touchdowns: Columbus—Hill 2, Culpepper. Extra point—Kelly. Touchdown: Jordan—McGee.

Sooners Get Top Rating In AP Poll

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—(AP)—Oklahoma zoomed into first place in the Associated Press football poll Monday with 173 of 333 first-place votes. Ohio State, last week's leader, tumbled to eighth after its loss to Illinois.

More than half of the football writers and sportscasters ranked Oklahoma in the No. 1 spot after its 41-7 romp over Missouri. The Sooners were second last week.

Army lost first place support as it shaded Stanford, 7-0, in a mud battle but the Cadets picked up enough points to advance a notch from last week's position. Only 36 put Army first compared to 72 a week ago.

Kentucky drew attention with its 83-0 rout of North Dakota, moving from fifth to a strong third place with 55 firsts.

There were no changes in the top 10 membership. Four teams held the same positions. The biggest shuffle was Ohio State's drop from first to eighth.

Standings of all teams receiving at least 10 points with first place votes in parentheses. (Points figured on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis.)

| | |
|---|---|
| 1. Oklahoma (173) | 2,964 |
| 2. Army (36) | 2,438 |

| 17. Alabama | 71 |
| 18. Washington | 58 |
| 19. Washington and Lee (1) | 40 |
| 20. Loyola, Los Angeles (1) | 24 |

Others were: Lehigh and Cornell, each 20; Tulsa, 18; Tulane, 16, Wake Forest, 13, and Michigan, 10.

Roosevelt Harriers Cop GIAA Crown

With John Carson leading the way, Roosevelt High captured the annual GIAA cross-country meet over the weekend here on the waterworks course.

Roosevelt's score was 40 as compared with 47 for second-place Murphy and 72 for third-place Bass. Bobby Bennet, of Murphy, finished second.

Hamey Quits Bucs For Yankee Berth

Returns to Weiss Staff In Wake of Rickey Move

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—(AP)—Roy Hamey, general manager of the Pittsburgh baseball club for the last four years, is coming back to the New York Yankees as an assistant to the general manager.

The Yankees announced Monday the 48-year-old executive, who served 12 years in the New York organization, would sever connections with Pittsburgh Dec. 1 and join the club in Spring training.

Hamey's status with Pittsburgh had been up in the air since Branch Rickey left Brooklyn and moved into the Pirate front office as vice president and general manager.

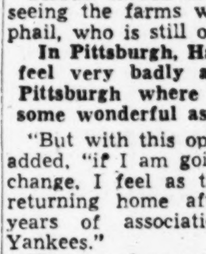
The Yankees said Hamey will serve as an aide to General Manager George Weiss. His duties, they said, would be operational but would deal with player personnel and farm clubs.



Hamey

Hamey is expected to take over some of the duties of Gene Martin, who helped direct Yankee farm clubs before moving to Syracuse, of the International League, as general manager.

Martin shared the job of overseeing the farms with Lee Macphail, who is still on the job.

In Pittsburgh, Hamey said, "I feel very badly about leaving Pittsburgh where I have had some wonderful associations."

"But with this opportunity," he added, "if I am going to make a change, I feel as though I were returning home after my many years of association with the Yankees."

Hamey, who never played professional ball, joined the Yankee organization as general manager at Binghamton, N. Y., in the Eastern League in 1934. After four years there, he shifted to the general manager's job at Kansas City, where he served through 1946.

He then took a year off from running ball clubs to run the American Association in 1946 as president.

Hamey moved into Pittsburgh as general manager in 1947 and helped provide the Pirates with million-fan gates for each of the next four years.

The Pirates drew 5,400,000 customers during Hamey's four-year tenure, although never a strong pennant contender.

Hamey started his career in baseball in 1925 as business manager of Springfield, Ill., in the Three-I League.

Vice President Thomas Johnson, of the Pirates, issued a statement, saying: "We sincerely regret Roy's going to take this new position with the Yankees. He has done a great job here and we deeply regret losing him."

Hamey's contract ran through 1952.

"Hamey asked to be released from his contract, which runs until 1952, because he thought that might make it easier for Rickey."

Texas Coaches Should Take Note

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—(AP) Note to Texas college football coaches:

There's an All-America tackle prospect at Blessing, Texas. It is Pudge Heffelfinger, Yale star of a half century ago. Heffelfinger, who has made his home in Minneapolis for many years, said Monday he was moving to Blessing.

"No matter how old a man gets, he ought to be in shape to play one football game a week," said the 1889 All-America tackle, who will be 83 next month.

Eugene Baird Leads State's Prep Scorers

Top high school football scorer in the State is Eugene Baird, who scored 32 points in a 33-0 triumph by Commerce over Winder over the weekend.

Only player with a chance to beat him out is Claxton's John Perkins who has a game yet to play against Glennville. Baird has 178, Perkins 170. Jefferson's Curtis Segars is second with 171. West Point's Larry Ruffin finished with 163.

Tom Sanson, of Bass Region Region 3-AA champions, ended with 68 points to pace all City League scorers.

Marietta's James Morris tops AA scorers with 109, but Moultrie's Ray Mercer, with a game yet to play, may take the scoring title. He has 108. Campbell's Bobby Neely seems to be the Class A champ with a final 157 total. Cartersville's Lamar Leachman finished at 154. Johnny Lipsey of Tifton, with 139, and Max Mason, Rockmart, with 121 still have a game to play and could move on top.

Turkey Winners

George Simons, Booty Pickett, T. E. Tolleson, Bonnie Buice and Bill Sherman were winners in the West End Golf Club Turkey tournament. John Walton won the red rooster.

Tennessee Harriers Win SEC Title

By BERT PRATHER

Swift-riding Alf Holmberg and his University of Tennessee mates turned the annual Southeastern Conference cross-country championship into strictly a Volunteer party Monday morning at the waterworks course.

The orange-clad runners, led by tireless Alf, finished first, second, third, ninth and fifteenth to easily retain their team title with a low score of 30 points. Alabama was next with 50 points, while Georgia Tech grabbed third place with 70. Florida scored 88 for fourth and Auburn took fifth with 132. Georgia's single entry, Joe Hattaway, took fourteenth place in the individual scramble.

Holmberg's winning time was 21:32.4, two and four-tenth seconds off the SEC record established here last year by Tom Scott of Tennessee.

Tommy Trent also carrying Tennessee's colors, trailed the Swedish ace across the finish line with a timing of 22:30 and then came Frank Alberson, a former Druid Hills High distance star, also wearing the Orange and White. Frank's time was 22:52.

Other high finishers were: 4. Jerry DeRieux, Alabama. 5. Judd Webster, Alabama. 6. Bill Wood, Florida. 7. Randall Jones, Tech. 8. Jimmy Seaver, Alabama. 9. Walter DeVault, Tennessee. 10. Bert McClammy, Florida. John Blane, who finished fifteenth, was the other Tennessee runner figuring in on his team's scoring. Alabama's other two scorers were John Berg (16th) and Dick Terzia (17th).

AMBLIN ALF HOLMBERG

Vol Tops Southeastern Harriers

Winds of near gale proportions whipping across the course probably prevented Holmberg from breaking the existing record. He was as fresh as a daisy after finishing the four-mile grind over the hill course. In fact, he circled the mile course again after putting on his sweat clothes.

Alabama's DeRieux paced the pack for the first mile, but from there on blond Alf took command.

11 Jackets in Final Grant Field Showing

By JESSE OUTLAR

Eleven Georgia Tech seniors will make their final appearance before local fans when the Jackets take on Davidson Saturday at Grant Field.

Fullback Bobby North, one of the most determined runners in football and Halfbacks Bob McCoy, Buster Humphreys and Red Patton are the departing ball carriers. Joe Cobb, also a senior, was previously injured, and wont play any more.

Ends Dick Harvin and George Gilbreath. Guards Derwood Flanagan and Butch Betha and Centers Bob Bossons, Charlie Brown and Gene Fizzell are linesmen who'll become Engineers in June.

"We'll miss several of the boys badly," Coach Bobby Dodd said Monday as the Jackets observed a holiday. "But, fortunately, we have a promising crop of freshmen."

Eyeing the Davidson tussle, Dodd indicated that Quarterback Joe Salome will see plenty of action against the Wildcats. "When a boy looks good, we believe in giving him every opportunity to play," Dodd said. And Salome was one of the bright spots in the 54-19 massacre by Alabama.

"Unless our line braces, Halfback Powell Sheffer may do most of our kicking," Dodd continued. "I'm satisfied with Robby Robinson's punting. He did a great job in the Kentucky and Duke games, but Robby kicks line drives and needs plenty of protection. Sheffer gets his boots off quicker and higher."

Needless to say, Tech isn't taking the Davidson game lightly.

Fullback Art Ross and Guard Larry Ladner sustained shoulder injuries in the Alabama game and probably won't play Saturday. Otherwise, the Jackets are in fair physical shape.

Davidson Can Lose Game AND Coach

By BOB QUINCY

Charlotte News Sports Editor

DAVIDSON, N. C., Nov. 20—Davidson College is expected to lose three things when it meets Georgia Tech at Atlanta Saturday.

One is Auburn Lambeth, a Decatur product and classiest of the Wildcats who will play the final game of a career in which he has completed 216 passes.

A second could be Crowell Little, who is being wooed by Virgia Tech for 1951.

Lambeth

Thirdly, the game itself.

"we are very proud of our team," said Little, "after beating Richmond, 39-0. However, we entertain no illusions. I am no pessimst but I see no good out of this thing Saturday."

Davidson works off the Split-T, designed by Little and engineered by Lambeth.

Lambeth is a slender youngster who did not burst into full throwing bloom until he became a sophomore. Since, he has missed his target about as seldom as a slot machine pays off.

Against VMI three weeks ago, Lambeth completed his 200th pass. Had he not missed the Erskine game because of injury, he might be shooting for a national mark against Tech. The nation's three-year throwing record is 240 completions.

Other than Lambeth, Little boasts few stars. Halfbacks A. C. Gregg and Roy White are small but scoot and cut like water-bugs. There isn't a fullback in the conference with more power than C. L. Runyan, but he has been hampered by injuries.

A lack of positive receivership has cut Lambeth's percentage.

Leader of the line is Jimmy Fasul, swarthy guard branded as the equal of any in the area. He lines up beside rugged, 240-pound Tackle Bill McNeely. At the other tackle is Bill (Bull) Freeman, one who ever seeks combat.

Davidson enters the game with a perfect record against Tech. In nine games since 1906, the 'Cats haven't won once.

GMA Runners Drub Darlington

GMA cross-country team members took all five first places in a meet with Darlington on the GMA course Monday. Major M. C. Paget's Cadets won the event, 15-43.

J. R. Perry, T. E. Dunn, J. F. Westerlund, J. H. Jerome and E. L. Happ finished in that order. Winning time was 11:51.

SEC TEAM OF WEEK

'Cheapest In USA,' Thunders Morton

By EDWIN POPE

Don't sneer, but:

"The cheapest fotoball team playing a major football schedule in America!" Monday became the first Southeastern Conference club to repeat as the Constitution's Team of the Week.

That was Mississippi State, which hopped up over the weekend and blacked LSU's eye with a 13-7 haymaker. That was the club that hasn't been given a prayer against a major foe this season despite a national magazine's reference to "the huge sums it is paying its football players."

"Sweet," sighed Coach Arthur (Slick) Morton of the late triumph, "That's the word for it—going back into your old stomping grounds and doing something they said you didn't have a chance of doing."

The sigh became a bellow when he was reminded of the (Life) magazine article.

"Absurd!" he thundered. "I challenge—I defy—anybody—anywhere—to prove that Mississippi State isn't the cheapest football team playing a major football schedule in America!

"None of my players get one red cent besides what is allowed under the Conference constitution and by-laws. Not one! I know how that all started. People up East and up North started it because we got some ballplayers from up there.

"When I came to Mississippi State, the University of Mississippi had already signed most of the good home-state boys and other SEC teams had gobbled up the good Southern boys. We had to go somewhere else. We went up East to get a few. Georgia does the same thing and because of that was mentioned along with us in that article.

"Rats!"

It was raining between Atlanta and Starkville, and the wire soon cooled.

"But about that ball game we won Saturday night," he resumed.

"Our boys played their best of the year, even better than against Tennessee," Slick said. "And our coaches did a magnificent job of getting them ready. Jess Fatheree and Pop Strange and myself played with (Coach Gaynell) Tinsley at LSU, so it was more than just another contest to us. Fatheree has been on LSU all year, scouting, and he did a perfect job."

So Frank Branch, State's 129-pound quarterback, can't take it, eh?

"He'll never play against anybody that hits harder than that LSU bunch, unless it's Georgia," Slick went on, "and he stuck in there and played wonderfully. Completed five out of eight passes.

"We have thought all along that Billy Pyron was a great defensive tackle. And Bill Stewart was used at sideback for the first time and did some fine tackling besides gaining about eight yards per rush. He got away for 60 yards once before that Ken Konz (what speed!) caught him, and for 30 again. "We gave the boys Monday back."

"Sweet, ah, sweet," he exhaled again. "We gave the boys Sunday and Tuesday off and won't go back to work for Mississippi until Wednesday.

"I don't know about that one, but right now we're walking on air."

Boone, Autrey Tie in Shoot

D. W. Boone and Bobby Autrey tied for first place in Class A of the Quail Walk shoot Sunday afternoon at Capitol Gun Club with 25x25, but on the shoot off Boone again cracked 25 while Bobby missed twice.

Class B winner was Billy Brooks with a 25x25, while Creighton Lee, of Tampa, Fla., was Class C victor with 23x25. All three winners were presented trophies by King Hardware.

Lee also won a turkey in the competition.

In skeet competition, Dr. Mason Baird grabbed first place with Ted Lytel taking Trap honors.

The Quail Walk proved so popular that it will be made an annual event at the Club.

Illini Students Declare Holiday

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 20. (AP)—There were no classes Monday on the main campus of the University of Illinois.

Instead, there was joyful pandemonium as the student body of 17,300 declared a holiday in celebration of Saturday's 14-7 Illini football victory over Ohio State.

Groups of students blockaded doors of University buildings at 7:30 a. m. Those who showed up for early classes became part of the celebrating crowd.

Dodgers Cut Valdosta Link

VALDOSTA, Ga., Nov. 29—(AP) Valdosta baseball officials have been formally notified by the Brooklyn organization that the Dodgers will not return to operate the local franchise in the Georgia-Florida League next year.

Financial losses and the wrangle over the building of a new stadium in the city were listed as the primary reasons for the withdrawal.

Brooklyn started operating at Valdosta in 1941 and was active for seven seasons. During that time, the Valdosta team finished second four seasons, narrowly missing the pennant in 1948 and the past campaign, and finished first, fourth and seven

Myers Seeks Cure For BC Headache

Condensed From Constitution Wire Reports

Coach Denny Myers confirmed reports Monday that he had asked Boston College to relieve him of his contract which runs through 1951.

"The college has been great to me, my assistants have been loyal and I never coached a finer bunch of boys," Myers said. "Unfortunately our opponents had better football players."

Lehigh, which wound up its first unbeaten season in 68 years, won't play in a post-season bowl, Pres. Martin Whitaker revealed. The Engineers had received "feelers" from the Sun and several other bowls.

Fred Digby, general manager of the Sugar Bowl Association, scoffed at rumors that a member would scout the Wyoming-Denver game Thursday. "We won't begin considering teams until after Thanksgiving," Digby said.

Texas A&M, eliminated from the lush Cotton Bowl by Rice last week, may accept a bid to the President's Cup Bowl Dec. 9, but officials have made no decision.

Moose Miller, former Decatur prep star and onetime Tech freshman, was one of three Cornell players selected to play for Herman Hickman's North team in the North-South game at Miami Christmas night. Fullback Jeff Fleischmann and Center John Pierik are the other two selections.

Abe Watner, president of the Baltimore Colts, has ordered the club's board of directors to pay him $75,000 or get out, otherwise he'll quit. Watner wants complete control of his money. Stanley Sagner, wealthy Baltimore businessman and Leo De Orsey, Washington attorney and adviser to Arthur Godfrey, were reported interested in the Colts.

Tennessee and Kentucky, preparing for the Southeastern Conference's game of the year, both worked indoors. Snow forced the unbeaten Wildcats off the practice Field at Lexington, and rain drove the Vols indoors. Two Tennesse regulars, Guard Tom Jumper and blocking back Bernie Sizemore, will miss the game with injuries.

Morocco In, Mixon Out At Georgia

By GENE ASHER

ATHENS, Nov. 20—Zippy Morocco, whose 18-yard touchdown run gave Georgia a victory over Auburn last week, will replace injured Billy Mixon Saturday against Furman.

Trainer Sam Richwine said Monday that Mixon probably will be unable to compete until the Tech game. Backfield Coach Bill Hartman named Morocco as starting offensive left halfback.

Ed Greenway will open at defensive right guard. Rocco Principe, who has a broken arm, is lost for the season.

"Morocco, a junior from Youngstown, Ohio, was Georgia's most elusive back during Fall drills. He's tops in pass receiving, kickoff returns and punt runbacks. Zippy has caught 10 passes for 179 yards, scoring once, gained 79 yards on four kickoff returns, and raced 104 yards with 11 punts.

One of Georgia's fastest players, Morocco is dangerous in the open field. He's used mostly on wide plays but against Auburn he cut off tackle, side-stepped four players and scored. He ran the same play between Maryland's Bob Ward and Ray Krause, setting up a Bulldog touchdown.

Guards Nick Feher and Clint Madray will continue to play offense since Geenway's shift to defense is permanent for 1950.

Georgia begin practice Tuesday for its 33rd battle with the Purple Hurricane. It will be Georgia's first home game in six weeks.

Claxton, Jesup Near Region 2-B Playoffs

By JACK JACKSON

Claxton and Jesup, two of three candidates still chasing the Region 2-B title, open the prep season's longest and most important week Tuesday night when they play hosts to league rivals in what should be stepping stones to play-off country.

Glennville, beaten six times in nine previous starts, invades Claxton while Blackshear carries a 2-6 record to Jesup. The latter is an optional game for the Yellow Jackets.

Victories for Claxton and Jesup will send them against each other Friday night in Jesup for the right to meet Swainsboro for the loop crown—that is, providing Swainsboro defeats Metter on Thursday.

Ridgeland, S. C., ended Claxton's dreams of an undefeated season last week by a 20-12 score, but the Carolina eleven was unable to halt Johnny Perkins, who scored both Tiger touchdowns. He will be the chief hope against Glennville.

Only A and AA teams have stopped Jesup this Fall. The defending Regional titlists lost to Valdosta Friday and had earlier fallen before Fitzgerald and Glynn Academy. Lavonne Counts and Dean Madry are expected to lead the Jackets Tuesday.

Return of Watts To Aid Hurricane

By ANTHON FOY
Special to The Constitution

GREENVILLE, S. C.—Counting his troubles one by one, Furman Coach Bill Young said concerning the meeting with Georgia Saturday in Athens—"We can't be any worse than we were against Clemson."

The rotund skipper was taking his lumps hard after seeing his Hurricane blasted apart by Clemson Saturday, 2-57.

THOMAS

"We didn't have Quarterback Joe Watts one minute against Clemson. He should be ready to go full steam against Georgia. That should improve our offense 50 percent."

With his three quarterbacks sidelined, Young had to convert Lamon Moates, Macon, Ga., senior, from defensive safety to offensive quarterback overnight.

Loss of Watts was doubly costly. Moates, while doing a good job under the circumstances, couldn't operate the split-T as did Watts. Ill-directed handoffs resulted in the first Clemson score and ended the Hurricane's only scoring threat. The Hurricane lost the ball on the Clemson one-yard line.

Use of Moates on offense put Soph Dee Craver, playing his first varsity game, at defensive safety. Tiger passes went over Craver's head for three touchdowns.

But with Watts back, prospects are brighter. Hurricane squadsmen, who have won two games, tied one and lost seven, feel they will be able to give the Bulldogs a real scuffle.

AKIN

The first four backs will operate as a unit for the first time since the Florida game three weeks ago. Junie Needham, soph fullback, has been out with an ankle sprain.

Watts will have 210-pound Senior Ed Jasonek and 190-pound Junior Sonny Horton as handoff receivers at halfbacks.

Georgia State Elects Stamps

Special to The Atlanta Constitution

DOUGLAS, Nov. 20—James S. Stamps, Sr., veteran McRae insurance man, Sunday was elected president of the Georgia State League at a meeting of loop directors, but he has not decided yet whether or not he will accept the post.

Stamps said Sunday night from his home that he would notify the league Wednesday of his decision.

Caps Beat Celtics

BOSTON, Nov. 20—(AP)—The Washington Capitols' accuracy at the free-throw line earned them an 81-75 National Basketball Association victory over the Boston Celtics Sunday before a 5,272 crowd which saw the Celts' win string clipped at seven games.

Sinkwich Dismisses 9 Regulars

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 20—(AP)—Coach Frank Sinkwich, who once quit the University of Georgia football team to "drink cokes and date my girl," Monday dropped nine first stringers from the University of Tampa team for breaking training.

It was a heavy blow to Tampa's chances of winning the season's most important game against Florida State University Saturday.

Sinkwich would not say what rule infraction was involved but said it was the same in all cases and occurred after the 48-0 defeat handed Tampa by the Quantico Marines last Saturday.

Those dismissed were co-Captain Jack Marley, guard from Bushnell, Fla.; John Natyshak, tackle, Youngstown, Ohio; John Lahosky, quarterback, Washington, Pa.; Charles Harris, halfback, Endicott, N. Y.; Dick Mace, tackle, Elmira, N. Y.

Mike Rovnak, center, Campbell, Ohio; Ed Cassella, guard, Erie, Pa.; Jack Jennings, center, Anderson, S. C., and Jim Hill, end, Tampa.

Lahosky, Harris, Hill, Rovnak and Cassella were starters on offense. The others were on the big starting defensive team.

Sinkwich said he realized "the loss of nine men would hurt us both physically and morally" against FSU, "but men who want to play football for me must obey training rules."

All the starting players held valuable places in the Spartan machine but probably Lahosky, Marley and Rovnak will be missed most.

Sand, Asphalt, Concrete—and Politics

U. S. Highway 1, a main route from Maine to Florida, is breaking up near Lyons while in nearby Soperton, home of State Highway Director Jim Gillis, State maintenance crews have been busy laying smooth asphalt paving on the city streets.

Such was the first report of Constitution Staff Writer Frank Majors, who was sent on a 3,000-mile inspection tour of Georgia roads. Other reports will follow.

Only a few weeks ago the new Morven road in Brooks County disintegrated within a few days after it was laid. The contractor, Talmadge stalwart James Dykes, explained that the break-up was due to high winds at the time South Georgia was feeling the lash of the Florida hurricane.

How can we accept the Dykes wind story unless we believe, too, that the Morven asphalt had the texture of angel food cake and the consistency of bubble gum?

In Dade County the E. Rivers Highway, built nine years ago during the administration of the Governor by the same name, is slipping and sliding off the side of Lookout Mountain. Poorly located, say the engineers, as they map out two miles of costly reconstruction along a new route.

The story of Georgia roads, strange mixture of sand, politics, asphalt and concrete, would be a funny one if the results were not tragic—wasted money, wasted time and wasted lives in wrecks caused by the open holes, the jagged edges, the narrow shoulders, the culverts concealed by ragweed and other roadside undergrowth.

There's nothing funny about the frequent remark that one can shut his eyes and tell when he crosses the State line into Georgia. With a possible exception or two, that statement is factual for the highways entering our State. Smooth, wide concrete or asphalt narrows and takes on holes and humps and other defects that record themselves forcibly on the automobile and its occupants.

If you don't believe it, try U. S. 41 above Ringgold or U. S. 23 above Clayton. At the North Carolina line above Blairsville, U. S. 129 tapers off as one enters Georgia into a nine-foot slab which doesn't deserve the title of a pavement. It's true that a new road is under construction there, but the evidence points to a months-long job as the State Highway Department fools away time and fritters away money with too many little projects to please too many politicians.

The State Highway Department last year had $43,569,974 available for highway construction and maintenance. Who knows how much of that was wasted through political erosion, gone with the wind in Morven or for gilding the streets in the home towns of the bigwigs?

Is it any wonder that the people are dubious about allotting to the Highway Department all the funds from the seven-cent gasoline tax and other motor vehicle taxes and fees? Can those who accomplish so little with so much be trusted with more?

Erle Cocke Wins National Acclaim

Georgians can be justly proud of the reception Erle Cocke, Jr., of Dawson, is getting in his travels around the country as new National Commander of the American Legion.

Commander Cocke is expounding the Legion's "Peace Through Strength" program with a vigor that is attracting wide and favorable comment. An Indianapolis newspaper observed that he invaded that city "with all the force and power of a combat division."

The Georgian is telling his audience America must become strong, quickly, and then serve notice on Moscow that we will fight no more satellites, but that Russia herself will be held responsible for further aggression.

His throng of admirers in Georgia will have a chance on Friday to add their acclaim to the growing national one. That will be "Erle Cocke Day" in his home town of Dawson and that thriving city, with the willing assistance of the surrounding area, has prepared a great welcome for a famous son.

Erle Cocke is furnishing the Legion with a new sort of dynamic leadership. Georgia has reason to be proud of him.

Albany Women Assist The Palsied Children

The work that the Woman's Club in Albany is doing in promoting care and treatment of cerebral palsied children in their city and in Dougherty County is told in a recent issue of The Albany Herald.

Members of the club take afflicted children and their parents to a cerebral palsy clinic held in Thomasville every few months with doctors and technicians from Aidmore Hospital in attendance. They see that the parents get copies of instruction sheets outlining the proper care of the children and they pay for toys and corrective appliances designed to meet the needs of palsied children.

But they don't stop there. The Woman's Club members visit in the homes of these children, carrying with them gifts that bring happiness and, what is more important, imparting the encouragement that comes from knowing that someone cares.

A benefit ball, the annual Pecan Harvest Dance at Radium Springs Wednesday, will give the club project a financial lift.

We congratulate these Albany women on this fine service intended to help crippled children find a happy and useful place in the world. May success attend their efforts and may other clubs be inspired to adopt the program in their communities.

For the Cost Of a Torn Fender

Every high school student in the nation could be given complete and thorough driver training at a cost of about $30 each, according to the American Automobile Association.

The AAA estimate is based on a nationwide survey covering 529 high schools and five teacher training schools in 43 states.

In announcing the results of the study, J. E. O'Neill, AAA traffic safety chairman, said, "In view of the low cost of driver training, it is no longer a question of whether schools can afford to provide this type of education. Rather it becomes clear that we cannot afford the cost of failure to provide such training."

Traffic accidents cost this nation about two billion dollars annually and that is not counting deaths and injuries. The $30 cost of training a young driver is about what the bill comes to for mending one ripped fender on a late model automobile.

Properly trained drivers have only half as many wrecks as do drivers without the benefit of training. Half of two billion is one billion.

Surely, we can afford the cost of a ripped fender to give each teen-ager the driver education that would help save a billion annually.

This State, and others, already are teaching drivers in the schools, but the program is still in its infancy. It needs all the encouragement we can give it.

THE PULSE OF THE PRESS

Both Funny and Fearless

(Dan Eden in The Jones County News)

Jack Tarver, brilliant, fearless assistant to the publisher of Atlanta Newspapers and Constitution columnist, speaks his piece very ingeniously and effectively on questions upon which the public needs enlightenment.

Half and Half

(Leon Smith in The Thomaston Free Press)

About half the people in Thomaston, East Thomaston and Silvertown seem to have television sets and the only thing holding up the other half of us is money . . . the desire is certainly with anyone who has watched the swell shows coming through now that the coaxial cable has been completed.

Toll Highways

(Savannah Evening Press)

Toll bridges and roads are of more than academic interest hereabouts right now and what other sections are doing is informative. For instance, recently Pennsylvania dedicated a 100-mile eastern extension of its famous turnpike which slices through the backbone of the Appalachian Highlands. By next Fall another 67-mile stretch westward beyond Pittsburgh to the Ohio line will be ready. Then a motorist can go from Philadelphia to the western border without encountering a single crossing or red light.

In November, 1951, New Jersey will have a turnpike running from New York southwestward across the State to the Delaware border below Wilmington. Ohio has one in the works, too, which is planned for use by about 1955. The eastern seaboard is strung with parkways—with some gaps—from Maine to Washington.

Most of these roads are toll highways. They cost money to ride on. But those who use them say they pay it back in the gasoline and driving time saved. And, it is further pointed out, they carry a vast burden of traffic which could not possibly be accommodated with such ease on the regular traffic networks of the various states.

GOP Advertising

(Byron Anglin in The Stewart-Webster Journal)

We get a weekly Democratic clip sheet from the National Committee in Washington, and about 98 percent of it is made up of criticisms of Republicans and their actions, which has put us to wondering whether or not Democrats have done anything worthy of favorable comment to which a little space could be devoted instead of column after column advertising Republicans.

A Blessing

(Rev. Gilbert Ramsey in The Cairo Messenger)

Billy Graham is reaching thousands of people that the churches have not been able to touch, and it is the fervent prayer of many that his current campaign in Georgia will see the conversion of our State officials. What a blessing that would be to our State that has been too long divided by selfish and petty politics!

This Will Save A Lot of Brass

The National Production Authority has banned construction of golf courses, tennis courts, swimming pools and yacht basins.

It's just as well. Indications are that this generation is going to get its exercise under the supervision of drill sergeants anyhow.

In addition to golf courses, tennis courts, etc., the NPA simultaneously banned construction of bars, saloons and night clubs.

Incidentally, the order restricting construction of new bars and saloons is officially attributed to the necessity of conserving "strategic defense materials."

What would that be: lumber . . . or alcohol?

Seriously, the ban on construction of such entertainment facilities as bowling alleys and tennis courts as well as night clubs and bars will undoubtedly mean the saving of vast quantities of alcohol of both varieties, rubbing and drinking.

Moreover, it will also contribute considerably to the mobilization of man power. Next to the common cold, nothing accounts for so many wasted man hours as charley-horses and hangovers.

Mrs. Truman Feels Strongly

WASHINGTON—Speculation over President Truman's future political plans has been intensified somewhat by the setback the Democrats suffered in the recent elections. Most observers are inclined to agree that the results tend to force a reappraisal of the outlook for a Truman third-term candidacy.

There have been two schools on the subject right along. One, reflecting the hopes and wishes of the White House inner circle, has held that the President was bound to seek re-election. The other, representing a less personal interest, has felt that he was more likely to step down at the end of his present term.

Heretofore, the majority opinion has been on the side of those who foresaw a third-term candidacy. That is to say, more people seemed to believe he would run again than those taking an opposing view. But since the election the third-term school has lost many of its adherents.

Not So Bad In view of what happened in 1946, it cannot be argued successfully that the President will be influenced any too much by the latest election results. After seeing his party suffer a seemingly disastrous defeat that year, with the Republicans capturing control of both houses of Congress, he went on to seek re-election and won a startling upset victory. The setback the Democrats met this year was not nearly as bad as the defeat handed them four years ago.

Nevertheless, it is logical to suppose that Mr. Truman may see in the recent returns the earmarks of a trend which make it prudent for him to retire gracefully in 1952. To put it another way, there is certainly less of a temptation for him to run than there would have been if the Democrats had won an overwhelming victory at the polls on Nov. 7.

Then he could have looked on the results as a mandate for him to carry on. As it is, while the elections cannot be said to constitute a repudiation of the Administration, they left the Democrats with a tenuous control at best. The outlook for 1952 has been made more dubious. It is bound to be a factor that will be weighed by the President when he comes to make his final decision.

Two years ago when Mr. Truman was making a bid for re-election he was guided by a spirit of vindication. The country had turned out a Democratic Congress midway of his first term and there was a clamor within his own party against his nomination. If he had stepped aside then or been defeated he would have been marked down in hstory as a failure. The zeal he displayed in making the vigorous whistle-stop campaign he did was inspired by a desire to justify his Administration.

That can hardly be a consideration in 1952. He has gained the vindication he sought, and to go beyond, it seems, would be to tempt fate. Moreover, at 68, which he will be when the next Presidential campaign rolls around, he will be lacking something in the degree of energy which enabled him to make one of the most vigorous campaigns in history.

Only Natural Among the people who surround a President—any President—there is always a desire to have him continue in office. It is natural because their jobs and influence depend on it. These are the people who have been largely responsible for touting the third-term idea.

Mr. Truman, himself, has never said anything to indicate he plans to run again. On the contrary, he has made several utterances which seem to put him down as definitely determined to retire when his term is up. He would seem to have more to gain by following a course of that kind.

There is something else that may weigh heavily on the side of his voluntary retirement. Some of the President's close friends say that he has a burning desire to go down in history as a man who brought about stabilized world peace conditions. To that end he is reported to have made plans for making a final approach to Marshal Stalin in the months that lie ahead. If he is able to work out some adjustment on the present unsettled world peace conditions, then, his associates say, he will be prepared to step down at the end of his term and rest on the laurels that will be his in history as a peacemaker.

Only the intervention of another world war, it is believed, could force a change in his plans. Even then it is not certain what his decision about a third term would be.

Finally, one of the best guides to what a man may do is often found in the attitude of his wife. Mrs. Truman is known to feel very strongly on the subject of his continuing in the White House. That may be the tipoff. Certain it is that more people feel this way about it now than they did before the election.

Just a Rhyme a Day

"Democracy has ever been the only hope of the common man to govern himself. His greatest indictment, he does not make the most of this opportunity."—Article quote.

When people speak of common men . . . and of the little they can give . . . it somehow hurts our feelings then . . . for they are hitting where we live . . . for common people dominate . . . the scene, wherever we may go . . . enhance the worth of real estate . . . and make the population grow.

No trumpets sound, no songs are sung . . . to glorify their simple deeds . . . but from the lowly ranks have sprung . . . great men to meet the greatest needs . . . the noblest men we have around . . . came from the homes of humble men . . . (they have so many they are bound . . . to get a good one now and then).

They may be dumb, and folks may say . . . that "ignorance is no excuse" . . . which may be true, but anyway . . . they know enough to reproduce . . . they may not know how to subtract . . . they may not even care to try . . . but it's an undisputed fact . . . they know enough to multiply.

Let others praise, as others can . . . the plutocrats or presidents . . . all glory to the common man . . . we wish he used his common sense.

She Wants Stokes

The Editors: Tom Stokes' column has appeared so infrequently in The Atlanta Constitution during the last few weeks. I and many others rely on and value highly his keen and objective analysis of men and events and we miss him sorely.

Surely there is space daily in a paper such as yours for so valuable a column.

MRS. PHILIP E. SHULHAFER.

No Cat Fights

The Editors: Please don't let Ralph McGill fire Harold Martin about the cats. Harold Martin is the best writer since Corra Harris, and you are badly in need of good writers.

I have known of women having fusses about cats, but I don't believe I have known of a family row breaking out between men about them until now.

If these boys want to go into the cat-raising business, they ought to move to Florida, where there is plenty of sand. The cat is the cleanest and most sanitary animal there is and I do not believe they can enjoy living around Atlanta because of the scarcity of nice, white, clean sand.

'No Talmadge Defeat'

The Editors: Being an election manager, I would like to tell Cooper Smith, of Waycross, a few things. Pro-Talmadge men voted against the unit system amendment at my precinct, while anti-Talmadge voters voted for it, so it was not a defeat for Talmadge at all.

Talmadge supporters are increasing. For example, when I first started voting for 'Gene I was the only one at my house. By the time Herman runs again, there will be five at my house. We'll be seeing you."

And to M. L. St. John, would like to state "election officials" are not responsible for "sufficient facilities" at the polls—these should be provided by county commissioners.

Nicholson. JEWETT BARNETT.

The Other Foot

The Editors: In Thursday's Pulse of the Public, Mrs. George Stephens Jr., of Lilburn, was very much wrought up over the defeat of the county unit amendment, not to mention socialism, communism and bloc voting.

I have no idea how many Socialists there are in Georgia, but according to the FBI there are about 83 or 84 Communists—hardly enough to take control of the State. As for bloc voting, how about the bloc which was swung for the amendment, largely in Southeast Georgia, the Talmadge bailiwick?

Seems to me that there is some bloc voting somewhere when the Governor's brother-in-law carries Dodge County for the county unit amendment by nearly 5-1. Or, when county boss Jim Gillis carries Treutlen for the amendment by nearly 14-1. Or when Sugar Creek and Telfair vote more than 16-1 for it. Or when Long and Glascock vote more than 40-1 for the amendment. In the counties of Long, Chattahoochee, Glascock, Quitman and Echols combined less than 100 persons voted against the amendment.

Maybe the bloc voting shoe fits the other foot, since none of the "big-city" counties showed these big margins against the amendment.

Jackson. JAMES E. HILLEY.

'Me Too, Pete'

The Editors: So much has been said about our so-called "Area Rent Control Board," and I am in position to state that if we have such a thing that they are very inefficient, or that they have become communistic.

We were notified that our rent was subject to be increased, and that if we wanted to file a complaint to do so within a few days. This, we and several others did.

There were circumstances that existed that any real rent control board would have investigated. This, they did not do. They sit up and it was a sort of "Me, too, Pete." They had no idea as to the real facts in the situation.

Now, they notified us with the rent increase notice that if we wanted the decision reviewed to make a recommendation to the area rent director within 20 days. Are we a nation of democracy, or are we communistic? Only the poor people who can't seem to get a square deal from our (democratic) government are the ones to answer that. A TENANT.

Atlanta.

Homemaking Courses

The Editors. Thank you so much for Leo Aikman's interesting article on the boys' homemaking class being offered at Acworth High School. Approximately 93 per cent of the high schools in the state are now offering homemaking training as a part of the curriculum. More and more girls are electing homemaking courses and there is considerable interest on the part of boys; that is, for certain phases of the work.

Incidentally, there were 2,354 boys enrolled in regular homemaking classes last year. As soon as the 12th grade is added, I believe many of the schools will offer a course at this level to boys and girls in Home and Family Living.

"But they measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves, are not wise." (2 Corinthians 10:12.)

Once upon a time there was a factory foreman who blew the whistle by the telephone operator's clock. He did not know that the telephone operator always set her clock by the factory whistle.

In my town and your town there is much setting of clocks by one another's whistles; whereas there is in our midst a timepiece, God's, that tells the correct time.

The Quakers point the way. They see to it that they are not hurried by multiplied appointments and demands.

They draw apart to seek the inner light, to listen to the still, small voice, and in their devotions they use the descriptive term, "concern."

Grant, Lord God, that Thou only shalt be our standard. O speak to us assuredly. Command all our resources for the building of Thy kingdom.

Seventy-Six Years Young

I ought to have more sense than this, I kept telling myself. Here he is, 76 years old and he wants to take out across the fields and woods for about a three-mile hike, just looking at the land, and what if he gets way off over there by the river somewhere and has a heart attack or something? How am I going to get him out of there and to a doctor? He weighs 190 pounds and I couldn't pack 190 pounds up hills and through woods and briar patches in half a day. I'd be in a fix. But you can't tell a man you are afraid to walk out with him to look at the land even if he is your daddy. You can't tell him you don't want to go because you are afraid he wouldn't be able to make it. So we set out. He had his Sunday suit on and his new black shoes and his big silver watch chain hung across his bay window and he had his hat set straight on top of his white head. And he set out across a plowed field, walking like he was 16 years old, and he stooped over every once in a while to see if the fescue was coming up.

He could see it just by bending over a little, even though he didn't have his specs on, but I had to bend way over and get my nose right down close to the ground to see the tiny sprigs of green.

THEN WE CAME out of the plowed ground and into the woods and he went through the woods like I used to go through them when I was 14 years old, headed for the river to fish for catfish. He went fast, letting the low-hanging branches fly back in my face.

He just plowed right through the woods. And it was hot in the woods and I shed my coat and carried it over my arm, but he kept his collar buttoned up to his neck, and his coat on, and his vest buttoned up. He didn't seem to notice the heat and when we came to an old house place and stopped, he wasn't even blowing hard, but I was panting and sweating by this time.

"You see that old oak tree there?" he said. "Well, I'll tell you about that oak. The only time I ever saw your granddaddy cry in my life was right there under that oak. I was just a little old boy then and Pa was up on that old house covering it with shingles and I come over here and told him that Henry Grady was dead. It said so in the paper. And he got right down off the house and sat down under that oak and read in the paper about Henry Grady being dead and he cried like a baby."

We left the old house place and went on and he showed me a sort of sunk place in the earth and he told me a story about that. He said years ago when he was young he bought a divining rod that would find money—at least the fellow who sold it to him said it would, and he set out with it over toward an old house place that was there way back in Indian days, because there was a legend about an old man who lived there having hidden his money, all of it in gold, in a little black iron pot. He said an old slave had told this story.

So he bought a divining rod and went to look for it and when he got near to this particular place the divining rod began to pull toward an old pine stump that looked like it had been there for ages, and every time he would walk away from this stump the rod would point right back to it. So he got a mattock and a shovel and lit in to digging and he dug the stump up and didn't find anything, and he kept on digging until he had a hole in the ground deep enough for a man to stand in up to his shoulders nearly, but he never did find anything.

Then he turned and lit out down through a thick tangle of brambles and sprouts and young trees to a little riffle in a stream, and he told me that right there his grandmother had told him, in the year 1852 an old miner coming back from the California gold fields had panned gold there, and had left there with a little box full of sand, nailed up tight, and that he had the box full of goose quills full of gold dust, stuck in the sand. And he had always meant to try to pan some gold there but had never got around to it, and if I had known where I could get ahold of a gold pan he would like to come back over there and try to pan some gold. Said if there was any gold washing down that stream there ought to be some there, even if the old miner did pan it out nearly a hundred years ago.

AND THEN HE struck out through the brush again, up a hill, through thick woods, walking along the slope of the hill as agile as a goat while I followed along behind slipping and sliding and halfway falling down, but he never stumbled or faltered, till he came to a place in the woods that looked just like any other place.

Right there, he said, when he was just about 11 or 12 years old, he drove a team of oxen called Buck and Ball to snake out a big pine log and bring it to the house for firewood.

It was snowing, he said, and cold, and his hands were cold, and when he drove the two big oxen astraddle of the log and leaned over to fix the hooks that hung under the log cart and then pulled the lever down to set the hooks, the oxen started up. And he hadn't set the hooks good, or hadn't caught the lever in the ring that held it down, or something. Anyway the whole great weight of the log went on the chains and the lever flew up as he was leaning over it and lifted him straight up in the air and threw him about 40 feet, and at the highest point of his flight he figured he was 15 feet in the air. But he hit the ground all spraddled out and got up and he wasn't hurt a bit, so he hitched on to the log again and dragged it on to the house though the blowing snow.

And we wandered the woods for about three hours, with him finding in every old tree and big rock some memory of his boyhood, and when we finally got back to the house I was scratched from briars and staggering from sheer leg weariness, but he hadn't turned a hair and he went back across the plowed field to the house still walking like a 16-year-old. And from now on, whenever we go out for what he calls a "little stroll," it won't be his health I'll be worrying about. It'll be my own.

Some Lessons In English

NEW YORK—The response of some teachers to recent observations of mine on the public school racket tends to confirm my belief that many of these people themselves are not educated and do not know what education is.

Some, being incapable of thinking, leap to the angry conclusion that in examining the conduct of the racket as a whole I was attacking the character and fidelity of the individual teacher. It has taken a long time to convince unlettered millions of toilers that I am defending their rights when I attack the ruthless and predatory institution of unionism.

One might have expected that teachers, professing to be capable of "educating" our youth, would have the skilled intelligence to understand that they occupy a similar status in their relation to the over-all racket of education. This racket exploits them and their pupils in a reach for power. However, if I may say so, I didn't expect too much of them. On the average, they have been taught but not educated.

$2,600 a Year

Here is a letter from the wife of a high school teacher employed in a school near Detroit. His basic pay is only $2,600 a year, plus $100 for coaching one sport. Of course this means a year of 10 months or slightly less. Her husband is at liberty to work for pay during the Summer vacation. Even so, it is a poor job, considered as a job. However, the glaring fact is that this young woman, the wife of an "educator," regards the coaching of students in team sports as education. This is a common American fallacy.

We even give degrees in something called "physical education." I will go into this subject only far enough to point out that our concept of education has strayed so far from the pursuit of intellectual knowledge in our devouring public school system that our youth deem it a duty of the state to teach them how to play games.

Teachers have been trained to regard this as a normal and correct function of public education.

Unquestionably this young woman's husband is wronged when he is required to spend "at least two hours at least three times a week for basketball and four hours the night of the game" and to "get to a football game at 6:30 p. m. when it doesn't start until 8 because someone had to open the gates for the cars and collect tickets."

But that is a problem of labor relations, not education.

Another letter comes from a teacher in Ferndale, Mich., whose use of the language is a comment on her own education.

"You see," she says, "they, to, are individual human beings."

Lobby

A reader in Winchester, Mass., wrote: "In our town many children learn neither to spell nor write. Examples of this came from our boys in World War II in their letters home. Our town meetings are ganged by a powerful lobby year after year for more money for the school department. A considerable segment of our population who have no children in public school have to be content with a street lighting system 50 years behind the times and inadequate sidewalks because our school system drains off so many tax dollars."

A woman teacher in St. Petersburg, Fla., betrays the class bigotry of the New Deal which been been forced upon millions of children who will grow up with distorted minds because they were exposed to applied ignorance under statutory compulsion.

My temperate, enlightened examination of the education racket was just my "way of getting back at the schools for increasing my taxes." There is no inspection of my facts or charges, and the rest of the letter discloses that the lady is incapable of thoughtful consideration of the situation.

She also resorts to a cliche of the ignoranti when she writes: "All teachers are not good." She is so ill-taught in the language which she presumes to teach to children that she says exactly the opposite of her intention. "All teachers are not good" means that no teacher is good. Undoubtedly she meant to say that "not all teachers are good."

The Nation's Number One Asset

We had a pleasant visit recently from a prominent New Yorker who was looking over the South as a possible hideout from the tensions of present-day metropolitan life.

He is one of those New Yorkers who live in rural Connecticut, commuting back and forth daily from home to office. He talks of buying a Georgia farm, but not for the purpose of farming. That is, not for farming purposes exclusively.

Uncertain

The uncertainty of the future and not the productivity of our land is the motivating influence driving him Southward. He thinks the inflationary period is here to stay, that the dollar will never buy much of anything any more, that our country will never enjoy a season of peace again and that it is but a question of time until the atom bomb is dropped on New York City.

When this happens the majority of those who remain there will be herded into the nearby countryside for safety and sustenance and the home place in Conecticut will become an armed camp.

His further reasoning should be a comfort to us. He doesn't believe the bomb will be used on us here in rural Georgia. Not that we are Uncle Joe's favorites, but that the density of population is less down our way and the industrial growth is less important than in other sections. We Southerners aren't worth a bomb, it must be used elsewhere on more important people.

Plenty of Logic

If our New York friend's view of the situation is correct, and there seems to be plenty of logic in his argument, our good old Southland becomes, not the nation's number one problem, but the nation's number one asset. We become important through our unimportance. We Horatio Alger Americans, who have made a fetish of personal success and personal prominence, have now arrived at the point where we desire obscurity, even anonymity, more than we desire anything else.

It's a peculiar situation and it leaves us somewhat mixed up. What's the good of forcing our way to the top through education, endurance and cunning if when we get there we learn that success lies in the other direction? That what is most helpful to our present situation is a complete lack of importance and scarcity of neighbors?

If it wasn't so serious one could get a deep chuckle out of the situation in which the business of being important finds itself. At the first challenge to its supremacy it is abandoned and in its stead its ancient enemy, the Chinese philosophy of "lying low" is adopted.

Same Story, Chapter and Verse

WASHINGTON—Why anyone should suppose that President Truman would retreat from his Fair Deal program because of the recent election, is hard to understand. But apparently some did—perhaps in hope. This is indicated by the "big news" it seemed to be when the President himself set the record straight. You may expect him to submit his program to the new Congress, chapter and verse, as he has done regularly since his first message to Congress after he succeeded the late President Roosevelt. There was no more reason to look for an election change in him than in Sen. Taft, his opposite number in the Republican Party, about whom Republican internationalists have begun to worry all over again. While Mr. Truman is not yet ready for comment on whether he will be a candidate for renomination in 1952, you may count upon that being revealed in due course—in the affirmative.

Beyond the fact that men who get into the White House come to like the job very much—and Harry Truman is no exception—he has the advantage of being identified with a political and economic program that has wide appeal, and politicians who manage national conventions usually prefer a known rather than an unknown product.

This is for the very practical reason that they want a winner in order to retain their own power locally. This was strikingly demonstrated in the case of Harry Truman's predecessor. Despite revolt within the party against Franklin D. Roosevelt, it was, notably, the professional politicians in the National Committee who were the first to beseech Mr. Roosevelt to run for a third term and at a time when a third term was unprecedented.

While the President said cockily that he would get his Fair Deal program though Congress, he is realist enough to know this just won't be so if he was talking about the coming Eighty-second Congress. But his strategy, as before, is to keep that program constantly before the public, to remind the people it is there waiting for action, so that afterward he can point to the record as he did successfully two years ago.

The Eighty-second is not nominally a Republican Congress. But the fact that Republicans will have command in regard to the Fair Deal program and can block it with the aid of Southern conservative Democrats has been widely advertised in analyses of the election, including those of Republicans themselves. Consequently, Mr. Truman can fix responsibility more easily than in the case of the Eighty-first Congress that ends in January.

Harry Truman is not easily discouraged by reverses, and he has far less reason for discouragement now than when Republicans captured control of Congress in the 1946 election. After that he picked himself up by his bootstraps, so to speak, to win in 1948 because of the way Republicans exploited their 1946 victory in the subsequent Eightieth Congress.

In looking forward to 1952, Democrats count upon a well-known factor, which is that in Presidential elections interest is concentrated on national party candidates and programs without local and other complications as in mid-term elections. Labor, while working actively, then becomes a part of the general campaign and is not spotlighted as it made itself in Ohio, for example, by its nationally publicized campaign against Sen. Taft.

That magnified its defeat there perhaps out of proportion, serving chiefly to show that our people resent any attempt at domination by any one group when such is plainly revealed.

The Fair Deal program has a much wider base of support than labor, which is manifest in Presidential elections where the issue is clear, and President Truman is expected to emphasize henceforth that broader appeal as he restates his program.

Next to a Man's Home!

Nice to stay home today, he thinks. He's a little behind on his reading—and there's his favorite easy chair in the corner, with the soft light sifting in through the window.

But duty calls and there are things to do—so it's on with the topcoat and out into the day. And then he sees it!

Maybe it's blue, maybe it's black—maybe it's maroon or yellow. Maybe it's a sedan, or a coupe, or a pulse-tingling convertible.

But high on its hood is the Cadillac crest—and under its hood is the great Cadillac engine.

Heigh ho, everybody! Between here and work is a stretch of fun—and relaxation!

He touches the starter button and a sound comes back you can hear from no other source—deep, and soft, and powerful—like a mighty roar under perfect control.

And then he's out in the street. He touches his toe to the throttle and heads for duty—and that's all there is to it, insofar as effort is concerned.

When he wants to stop, he takes his foot off the throttle and touches the brake. When he wants to start, he touches the throttle again. Quietly, smoothly, effortlessly—the great Hydra-Matic does the rest.

Steering is almost in response to his wish. Acceleration is so swift and certain that there is never a moment of anxiety. He just sits and relaxes—and thinks of the job ahead.

And so it goes, morning after morning. Every time he takes the wheel, it's a lift to his spirits and a rest for his body. Next to his home, it's his greatest source of rest and recreation.

And, oh, the men who fail to enjoy it because they don't understand that it's within their means! It really costs less to own a Cadillac than numerous models of a great many other makes of cars.

So investigate before you invest. If you pay for a Cadillac—be sure that you get it!

Blondell Again Is Magic In a Penthouse Vehicle

By PAUL JONES

The Penthouse Theater has another colossal hit. It's Anita Loos' delightful, imaginative comedy in two acts, "Happy Birthday," which made its debut Monday night before a standing-room-only audience in the arena theater.

The name of Joan Blondell has proved a magic one for the Penthouse. Not in its 43 weeks has the arena showcase presented a star and a play creating as widespread interest as the appearance of the luscious screen and Broadway actress in this comedy.

Before the curtain went up Monday night, Producer Jerry Appy announced only a few seats remained for the balance of the week. This heightened interest all the more for those who saw Miss Blondell and a grand cast—grand from top to bottom—perform the comedy, which Miss Helen Hayes made popular on Broadway.

The star of our show deserves every ounce of the ovation her fans accorded her at the curtain. She exercised restraint in bringing to life the character of Addie, a homely girl who wanders into a cabaret and finds her man. Being the gifted actress she is, Miss Blondell underplayed the part and in doing so she relinquished scene after scene to Isabel Price and Elsbeth Hofmann, the two old spinsters who were treated rather kindly by the script.

She saw Shirley Krayble walk off with several other scenes and she played into the hands of Douglas Gordon, who, incidentally, did a grand role. But, when her big moments came, Miss Blondell took the stage and she held it with an appealing comedy part, which stacks up favorably with the best done in the arena in its two seasons here.

All in the company executed their parts with real know-how. Bob McBride, Laura McClure, John Drew Devereaux, Larry Mellert, Aileen Morris, Syd Owen, George Trent and Elaine May, Lauline Lord and the principals already mentioned were all excellent.

Our hat's off to Robert Downing, director, and to Bert Wellborn, electrician, for a bang-up show.

This was to have been the final play of the current season. But, popular demand has forced the return of John Carradine in "Tobacco Road," starting next Monday.

Janis Shows Tremendous Piano Talent

By HOWELL JONES

Byron Janis, sensational young pianist, who has all America talking, Monday night made his Atlanta debut in a recital feature of the Atlanta Music Club Series at the Atlanta Woman's Club Auditorium.

Many in the large audience were disappointed. They had expected the 21-year-old artist to be a master musician comparable to Horowitz and Rubinstein. The majority of listeners, however, expected him to be exactly what he was—a young artist who has tremendous technical skill and an average amount of musicianship—and they were pleased.

Janis gave a preview of what may be expected of him in the next few years. With a solid foundation in mechanics, Janis has only to achieve the master's touch in tone and color control and to live with music long enough for it to be an inseparable part of him to become one of the all-time great American musicians.

He proved to the satisfaction of an enthusiastic audience that he has the technical equipment. The rest comes with time and he has plenty of that.

Showing a fondness for modern music, which he played exceptionally well, Janis offered a program that included Medtner, Ravel, Debussy and such masters as Mozart, Chopin and Liszt.

Highlights of the program were Mozart's "Sonata in G-Major," two Etudes by Chopin, Chopin's "Sonata in b-flat Minor," and Debussy's "Pour le Piano."

KEEPING UP WITH ATLANTA

St. Paul Volume

Dr. John W. Shepard, Atlanta author of religious books, has a new volume just off the press, entitled "The Life and Letters of St. Paul."

The book, designed particularly for ministers, Sunday School teachers, students, and seminary classes, is a companion volume to Dr. Shepard's earlier book, "The Christ of the Gospels."

The author, who resides at 1587 Olympian Circle, S. W., is a former professor of New Testament Interpretation in New Orleans Baptist Seminary and for many years was a missionary to Brazil. He now devotes his time to writing and is a Sunday School teacher at Cascade Baptist Church.

Starvation Money

Col. Donald Spicer, retired Atlanta Marine colonel of 2111 Howell Mill Rd., N. W., was among the first in this area to receive one of the checks drawn against frozen Japanese assets as partial payment for suffering while a prisoner of war.

Col. Spicer, who spent nearly four years in Japanese prison camps, received a check for $1,309—"starvation money." He plans to use the money to help finance the education of his youngest son, Rolfe Spicer, now a freshman at the University of the South.

Dental Speaker

Dr. George F. Seeman, of Nashville, Tenn., will address the Fifth District Dental Society at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Piedmont Hotel . . . Civic clubs of Eastanolle will pay special tribute Tuesday to P. F. Brock, of Atlanta, at the dedication of a new library building named for him. Brock has contributed to the building fund since 1940. He also has established a trust fund, the proceeds of which will be used to help furnish future needs of the library . . . Farrar Schultz, of Atlanta, was one of 17 students selected at Stetson University, in DeLand, Fla., for membership in Iota Chi, International Relations Club Chapter.

Victim Seizes Suspect After Holdup Here

William Harrison, 22, of Chattanooga, was jailed Monday after an unusual holdup at Sanford Jewelers, 15 Forstyh St., N. W., police said.

His right hand deep in his coat pocket, Harrison walked up to Sandy Grossbart, store manager.

"I got a gun," he was quoted as saying, "Gimme $8."

Grossbart didn't have the change so he handed over $10.

As the man left the store Grossbart gave chase and overtook him at Forsyth and Marietta Streets. The store manager explained to detectives he did not resist inside the establishment because women customers were standing around.

Taken into custody by Det. George Christian, Harrison said simply: "I'm drunk." He was booked for suspicion of robbery.

Allied Power Shocked China Reds, Captives Say

TOKYO, Nov. 20—(AP)—The shock of allied firepower has demoralized Chinese Communist morale in Korea, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said Monday.

The word comes from Chinese Communist prisoners, who also deny they came to Korea as volunteers, headquarters reported. Red China insists only Chinese "volunteers" are fighting in Korea.

An intelligence spokesman said these statements were gained from interrogating approximately 150 prisoners from one division of the Chinese Communist 38th Army.

The captives said the Army's morale had been high before it was hit by the Allied sledgehammer in northwest Korea Nov. 5. Chinese soldiers had not expected anything like this blow, the spokesman said.

In their wars with the Chinese Nationalists, the officer observed, the Chinese Reds could not have felt the firepower force of "a modern army."

Strafing attacks and fire bombs, the prisoners said, were particularly demoralizing. They said they had been strafed before, in the Chinese civil war, "but never from as low as 50 feet."

Not only did they deny volunteering, the spokesman reported, but they said they did not know any Chinese who did volunteer.

Dates of movements of the 38th Army, the spokesman said, show that Communist China began preparing to put Chinese troops into the fight during the first weeks of October.

The army, comprised of three divisions of 9,000 or 10,000 men each and some special units, originated at Changchung, capital of Manchuria. It probably entrained for Mukden about Oct. 10.

The army left Mukden Oct. 18 and two days later reached Manpojin, a border point in North Korea. At Manpojin the three divisions of the 38th separated, each taking a different route southward.

State's Growth Film Subject

Georgia's development in industry and agriculture, together with its importance as a recreational and tourist center, will be the theme of a color, talking motion picture.

The project was announced Sunday by Jesse D. Jewell, president of the Georgia State Chamber of Commerce. The film is sponsored by business, professional and manufacturing leaders throughout the State. Production will begin immediately and the film will be available for distribution early in 1952.

The completed film will be available to visual education programs at schools, for television purposes, for answering inquiries to out-of-state business firms and for the general use of Chamber of Commerce, fraternal and civic organizations.

Committee members of the motion picture project include: John A. Sibley, E. Smyth Gambrell and A. Linton Zachry, all of Atlanta; H. Hansell Hilyyer, of Savannah, and J. W. Woodruff, Jr., of Columbus.

London Mother and 2 Children Fall Under Fast Subway Train and Live

LONDON, Nov. 20—(AP)—A mother and her two children fell into the path of a speeding subway train Monday night—and lived.

Several cars passed over them before the train halted at London's busy Charing Cross underground station. The electricity was quickly cut off from the live rail. Station guards crawled under the train and pulled the three to safety.

The mother, Mrs. Ivy Learwood, 38, suffered a fractured arm and head injuries. A daughter, Irene, two, and a son, Clive, eight, suffered minor injuries and shock.

The three fell onto the tracks when the mother tried to grab another son, Nigel, six, who was running along the platform. Nigel fell, too, but on the platform and was only scratched.

Bra-Brigade Trio Gets Year in Jail

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 20—(AP)—Three members of Miami's "Brassiere Brigade" Monday were sentenced to a year in the State Prison.

Marie Orr, 21; Mrs. Bessie Corrigan, 23, and Mrs. Billie Ruth McNabb, 27, were sentenced by Criminal Court Judge Ben C. Willard following their conviction last week.

It took a six-man Criminal Court jury only 24 minutes to convict Miss Orr and Mrs. Corrigan of grand larceny and Mrs. McNabb of helping the girls remove stolen money from the Southern Bell Telephone Company.

Miss Dwiggins Engaged To Lt. Kelly

MISS DWIGGINS

Mr. and Mrs. Ford L. Dwiggins announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Genevieve Dwiggins, to Lieut. Andrew McCormick Kelly, of Savannah, the marriage to be solemnized Dec. 16 at the Cathedral of Christ the King.

The bride-to-be received a degree in economics from the University of Georgia where she belonged to the Tri Delta sorority, Mortar Board and Alpha Lambda Delta, scholastic society. She graduated in law from the Atlanta Law School, and has been employed by the law firm of Dorsey and Dorsey for the past two years. She is a member of the Atlanta Chapter, DAR.

Lieut. Kelly is the son of J. Herbert Kelly and Mrs. Josephine O'Leary Kelly, of Savannah. He received his degree in industrial management from Georgia Institute of Technology where he belonged to the SAE fraternity. Lieut. Kelly was recently called back into service with the 351st Marine Air Reserve Squadron at the Naval Air Station, and is now stationed at El Toro, Calif., where he is a Marine flyer.

Mrs. Robert C. Fryer, Jr., of Manchester, is in New York where she attended a meeting of State Advisors on Women's Activities of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The State Advisors were guests of the actress, Helen Hayes, at her home in Nyack, N. Y., for tea, and Miss Hayes accompanied them by bus to West Haverstraw, N. Y., to visit the N. Y. State Rehabilitation Hospital where she served as a board member for several years before the death of her daughter who was a victim of the 1949 polio epidemic. Miss Hayes is national chairman of Women's Activities for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Saturday Mrs. Fryer attended a United Nations session at Lake Success.

Pay Your Money; Take Your Pick

By DORIS LOCKERMAN

In that paradoxical habit of women who like to eat their cake and have it too, the farther we get away from home, the more we hope we're indispensable.

The emancipated ones who take pride in mates who stand on their own two feet, in children both resourceful and independent, an office where every member is an expert, are apt to be the very girls who grow woolly and soft, given a little distance and perspective.

The grocery buying, the vitamins every morning, the arithmetic problems, the tucking in at night, the laundry, the baths, the resoled shoes, the clean sox . . . all mere details catalogued in the daily work of the regular mama, become Very Important Problems the minute you begin neglecting them, even for a week.

You muse on the music lessons . . . who will remind him to practice, and who will tune his violin . . . who will nudge the law student to study, and for heaven's sake to typewrite instead of scratch that ridiculous handwriting for the professors to read . . . you remember the morning melee when Grace hasn't shown up and there is breakfast to get and boy children to shoo into shoes, and badger into tooth-brushing, and your conscience awakens, dully bruised and aching.

You find yourself a mental bed of nails and stretch out on it, expatiating for your sins of irresponsibility.

Then you come home, find everything smooth as silk, the men clean, happy, sleek, the house shining with preparation, and the conversation at the table punctuated with reflections on events you've missed entirely. A square dance in the fifth grade at E. Rivers, the best party in memory, and Daddy dancing with Miss Sutton . . . the Hunt Club dance, a terrific soiree . . . overnight visitors from the country who sat up most of the night getting election returns by television in a new experience . . . debut of the Atlanta Civic Opera, a huge success . . . not one but two new pairs of shoes for the younger one, and a coat with a fuzzy warm collar . . . from Wolf Scout to Bear, with Gold, for your Cub . . .

You're pained, but for another reason. Life went on. There is a sneaking suspicion nobody missed your haggling after all . . .

You think Georgia was calm this month, except maybe for the election? Why, Billy Graham came and promised to turn the city of Atlanta upside down spiritually; they started a Memorial Building Fund to honor Coach Alexander; Helen Traubel, the great singer, came; and Sir Thomas Beecham brought his symphony. Voters said "No" to increased judges' salaries in a fit of unwise economy, and William Parker, one of the city's finest leaders of youth, was killed by a madman in a shocking fit of revenge.

In the world, King Gustav died, a light-handed, fleet-footed, high-hearted ruler, and George Bernard Shaw, the rusty old curmudgeon, went to his rest. The Korean war changed, and with it shattered the too-hasty hopes of millions of people all over the world, and in the West, John Boettiger, who fell in love with the Roosevelts long ago, jumped to his death, a suicide.

The winter grass came up all over Atlanta, and the trees changed to topaz and russet, gold and scarlet in the last flaming farewell of autumn.

You pays your money and takes your pick. Whatever you choose, no matter how rewarding, you have blacked out an irretrievable period at home.

MARY HAWORTH

Bride Seeks Relatives' Respect

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My problem involves my mother's family and their attitudes towards her and us children. When I was a little girl, my aunts, then unmarried, would openly berate mother. For example, they would ask why she didn't buy new linoleum for her kitchen, the old one being worn in spots. She would say nothing.

One aunt in particular puzzles me. She seems to pick on me. I was married recently and in time went to visit her. As she invited me in, she looked me up and down with a critical stare, but I was polite to her. It was mid-afternoon but her breakfast dishes were undone, and I noticed too that her beds were unmade, and there was considerable dust around; also a worn spot on the kitchen floor. And her children were dirty.

She continued to give me a critical stare, although I was dressed very neatly and plainly. We talked of various things and then I mentioned that my husband had given me a sewing machine, of which I was very proud. (Mother never had a sewing machine, and us children often wore torn clothes.) When I spoke of the sewing machine, Aunt Kit laughed very loud and very long in my face, as if to say "Why do you try? You'll never have anything or be anybody." Looking back on our conversation, I wonder why things are like this. Can you shed any light on the situation?

—E. P.

DEAR E. P.: It is probable that the aunt who "seems to pick on" you was also the most actively unfriendly critic of your mother during your childhood—the relative most vocal and persistent in taunting her face-to-face, and in agitating unkind chatter about her behind her back, but in your hearing. And in those years, perhaps this Aunt Kit perceived your sensitive, reproachful and possibly mutely defiant reaction to her loud-mouthed hostility to your mother.

As I get the pitch, there were mixed motives for your visit. There was a wistful hope of making a hit with your aunt at last, with your nice clothes, new prosperity, etc., thus figuratively elevating your mother too. Also there was a latent intent to look down your nose at Kit's squalid domesticity, as pay-off for the snide treatment she dealt your mother in the old days.

You are definitely "somebody" in the gentle dignity of your personality; and you already have a great deal else, from the world's viewpoint, in your marriage and the solid fact of owning your home.

—M. H.

Prevent Need For Big Doses Of Vitamins

The development of vitamin deficiency diseases may be prevented by an adequate and continuous daily intake of vitamins. Once a vitamin deficiency disease has developed, it is customarily and scientifically treated by giving the deficient vitamin in quantities considerably greater than those required for prevention only.

The pharmaceutical industry has evolved two general classes of vitamin preparations. One is used for preventive purposes only. The potency of the preparation is such that it supplies the body with sufficient vitamin to prevent the development of disease, if used continuously and adequately in cases where the diet fails to provide the necessary quantity.

The preparations used for treatment of vitamin deficiency disease are of much higher potency. To be sure, the preparation used for prevention could, in large doses, serve the purpose of the higher potency preparations, but inconvenience and needless expense would be involved.

It is not good judgment to continually use high-potency vitamin products for preventive purposes. The absorption and retention of the vitamin depends largely upon the need for it which exists in the tissues. If the need is not great, the excess is "thrown off" quite rapidly. As a matter of fact, some vitamins are stored or retained, but very briefly in the tissues and need constant replenishment.

A continued deficiency in the diet of one or more vitamins gives rise to abnormal conditions for sometime before these conditions become noticeable. This period of time is included in the medical phrase, "subclinical state." Such a state is most difficult to diagnose, in the absence of significant symptoms, and must be assumed on the basis of the character of the diet. Unless the diet continuously provides an optimal amount of the needed vitamins, the subclinical state may be suspected. The patient is unaware of this state and the physician is unable to diagnose it.

It follows, therefore, that the daily intake of supplemental vitamins in PREVENTIVE doses (not therapeutic doses) can do no harm and may do much good. The daily minimal requirement may be safely exceeded by taking supplemental vitamins in these doses. In experimental animals and occasionally in human subjects who have taken enormous doses of vitamins over a period of time, certain disease states have been noted which are usually referred to as "poisoning." This possibility is most remote when one confines himself to preventive doses. In fact it does not exist.

The statement sometimes heard to the effect that a person who eats an "adequate" diet has no need for supplemental vitamins is very questionable. It is improbable that on a diet of refined, bleached and preserved food—which constitutes a large part of the present-day diet——the daily vitamin requirements are met with in most instances. This type of diet is unfortunately largely favored by those who "can't eat this," and "can't eat that."

Everyone should eat "protective foods"—raw and unprocessed foods in sufficient amount, daily, to insure adequate nutrition. Too often these foods are taken in dainty amounts as a "gesture," and fail to provide the protection needed. The daily intake of supplemental vitamins in proper form and dosages remedies this defect.

Symphony Lecture Set Wednesday

Members of the Junior Committee of the Atlanta Symphony Guild will gather for a lecture by Hans-Karl Piltz Wednesday at 11 a. m. at the Piedmont Driving Club.

Mr. Piltz will discuss the history and playing of brass instruments in the symphony orchestras. His lecture is one of a series given preceding a performance by the local group. The concert takes place Sunday afternoon at the auditorium.

Open House Cements Family Ties

By ANNIE LOU HARDY

A delightful family custom came to light when Mr. and Mrs. John C. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. William Peterson of Ailey, and Mr. and Mrs. James Peterson, of Soperton, spent the week end as guests of Dr. and Mrs. Phil Narmore on Peachtree Road.

With four brothers and as many sisters all living within a radius of 25 miles around Ailey, the Petersons instituted the custom of holding open house every third Sunday in order that members of the family might keep in touch with each other. That was 20 years ago, and the family is still gathering one Sunday in each month at the home of one of the members to catch up on all the news and at least get a glimpse of the others.

"We begin calling about 4 o'clock in the afternoon," said Mrs. John Peterson, "and there are so many of us, it is often 11 o'clock before all are gone. There are always refreshments—enough for a light supper—and the occasion is invariably anticipated with lots of pleasure."

Since there are so many members, the task of host comes round just a little oftener than once a year. The brothers are John C., William J., and Hugh Peterson, of Ailey, and James Peterson of Soperton. The sisters are Mrs. J. W. Palmer and Mrs. B. R. Snooks of Ailey, Mrs. D. C. Colson, of Glenwood, and Mrs. Broadus Brewton of Vidalia. Then there is the widow of the fifth brother, Mrs. Tom Peterson, who also lives in Ailey.

Also there are 27 children in the combined families, and nine grandchildren. So it is small wonder that when you think of Ailey, you naturally think of the Petersons.

A Weekly Advertising Column of Things New and Interesting

New York, Nov. 21—You'll be thankful if you take this suggestion . . . add CALGON, the amazing water conditioner when you suds your duds. The makers of leading washing machines and garments join me in this recommendation . . . for CALGON makes any soap or washing compound wash better. "Locks out" washing film and keeps woolens fluffy, whites white, and colors bright . . . so use CALGON on washday, and keep your clothes looking fresh and new l-o-n-g-e-r. It's a washbowl wonder, too . . . marvelously kind and gentle to your face and hands, hair and dainty wear. But don't "neglect" the dishes and your bath . . . CALGON is a "must" for every washing task.

BAKE A PERFECT PUMPKIN PIE for your Thanksgiving Dinner . . . yet do it the quick, easy, economical way. How? Just use CARNATION Evaporated Milk . . . for this milk that whips makes your pie filling richer, smoother and more delicious . . . but costs less than half as much as cream. Here's all you do:

Blend in mixing bowl 1 cup sugar, 1½ tsp. cinnamon, ½ tsp. cloves, ½ tsp. allspice, ½ tsp. nutmeg, ½ tsp. ginger, ½ tsp. salt. Add 2 eggs, beaten, 1½ cups pumpkin and 1⅔ cups CARNATION Evaporated Milk (1 tall can). Pour into unbaked 9-inch pie shell. Bake in hot oven (425°F.) 15 mins.; then reduce heat to moderate (350°F.) and continue baking 40 mins. Cool.

You'll find CARNATION ideal for all your "milk cookery", too . . . because diluted half and half with water it's still richer than your standard for whole milk . . . yet costs far less. P.S. CARNATION Cream Sauce makes leftovers the best part of the turkey.

BELIEVE IN MIRACLES? I do . . . because even though it is Thanksgiving, I'm able to relax and let my FRIGIDAIRE Electric Range "miraculously" take the work out of preparing my dinner. And, before another holiday appears, you'll be wise to visit your FRIGIDAIRE Dealer and learn the labor-saving ways of the various sizes and types of FRIGIDAIRE Electric Ranges. From the low-priced "Thrifty-30" to the double-oven DeLuxe Models, all FRIGIDAIRE Ranges have faster-cooking Radiantube Units—easy-to-clean all-porcelain finish, inside and out—and a host of convenience features. So discover how simple cooking can be . . . the FRIGIDAIRE way.

IT'S AN OLD AMERICAN CUSTOM . . . to serve luscious turkey giblet gravy with Thanksgiving dinner. So let me remind you . . . the one sure way to make it best-you-ever-tasted is to use KITCHEN BOUQUET! It's absolutely miss-proof . . . rewards with extra-rich, extra-brown, extra-delicious gravy, every time. Never adds any artificial flavor, either . . . because its delicate blend of nature's finest herbs, spices and vegetables merely heightens the true, natural meat taste. Good cooks have been depending on KITCHEN BOUQUET for over 70 years . . . and so will you once you see what perfectly delicious gravy it makes. P. S. It's very economical!

HERE'S ADVICE I hope all mothers will hear and heed . . . CREAM OF RICE is the best cereal you can serve to babies and growing children. Child specialists recommend it for infant feeding because it has important advantages. For example, this scrumptious creamy-smooth rice gives more energy . . . with Vitamins $B_1$, $B_2$ and Niacin added . . . plus Iron for rich, red blood and better growth. But that's not all . . . it gives more nutrition faster, is easier to digest and is least likely of all cereals to cause allergic reactions! So remember to get CREAM OF RICE and serve it to your family every day.

TURKEY PICKIN'S are a family favorite in my house . . . especially when dressed up in a luscious homemade chop suey or chow mein! Sounds intriguing? It is . . . provided you use LaCHOY Mixed Chinese Vegetables, LaCHOY Chow Mein Noodles and LaCHOY Soy Sauce! Still it's ABC-easy . . . just follow simple directions on the label! LaCHOY Mixed Chinese Vegetables (combination of bean sprouts, water chestnuts, bamboo shoots, mushrooms and sweet peppers) add an exotic flavor charm to other leftovers, too . . . so stock up today! And send for this FREE booklet, "The Art & Secrets of Chinese Cookery" . . . to Nancy Sasser, 271 Madison Ave., New York 16, N. Y.

I BEAMED WITH PRIDE when my family "applauded" my dinner last night . . . but I paid my secret compliments to RATH BLACK HAWK Pork with Gravy. They fix it just the way I would myself (maybe a little better) . . . for they cut the pork in thick, juicy slices and cook it 'til it almost falls apart. And, of course, they use their own choice RATH corn-fed pork . . . extra-lean and trimmed of all bone and waste. Furthermore, since RATH BLACK HAWK Pork with Gravy has just enough gravy to moisten it, you get almost a pound of tender meat, enough for 3 or 4 persons . . . yet it costs less than most meat dishes. Do try it. I know you'll be pleased.

YOU'LL BE PLEASED and surprised if you take this tip . . . give a dinner party the California Way. Why? Because it's the easiest, friendliest, nicest way I know of to entertain . . . with less fuss for you and more fun for everyone! Let me explain. The California Way is informal — yet glamorous. You serve simple food . . . you can even use your "everyday" dishes. Then you give your table gay, bright sparkle . . . you give extra-special flavor to your food . . . you add a gala touch of hospitality . . . by serving wine. A fine Sauterne WINE OF CALIFORNIA, for example. The wine works sheer wonders, believe me! I've tried it . . . and know. I've found, for instance, that when I serve a fine WINE OF CALIFORNIA my dinners become something special . . . my table has a dash of glamor . . . my food wins extra praise . . . my guests enjoy the whole dinner more. And I do, too . . . because dinner the California Way is so easy for the hostess. And it's easy for the host, too! For with wine, all he does is cool and serve. And best of all, you can entertain this pleasant, colorful California Way wherever you live . . . because the fine WINES OF CALIFORNIA are plentiful . . . and popular . . . everywhere. Remember all this next time you plan a party. I know you'll be pleased at the happy hit your dinner makes . . . and surprised at how nice and easy it is for you.

Reticule Becomes Valise

By MAYNITA GERRY

If you work eight hours a day and sleep eight hours (or thereabouts), that leaves only eight hours in which to shop, have your hair done, write letters, read books, have your shoe heels fixed, gossip about the neighbors, give yourself a manicure, take up a hem, let out a seam and, well, who knows better than you all the things you must cram into a brief eight-hour span — after you have deducted commuting time to and from work?

As the exigencies of living begin to crowd in upon us, we often find ourselves either forced to omit certain chores from our daily schedule or rearrange our schedule to accommodate two or more projects in one operation. For instance, you can read as you travel to and from work or write letters or both and you can, of course, gossip about the neighbors, if you can borrow a receptive ear.

IT'S ALL DONE WITH JEWELRY

Keep change of clothes in the bag.

No one, however, has yet been able to devise an acceptable method for taking a bath and changing your clothes at one and the same moment either at home or en route to any given destination. An oversight, perhaps, but true.

In lieu of the latter, or until such time as a suitable formula can be worked out, we must content ourselves with substitutes. Although we seriously doubt that anyone will ever discover an acceptable substitute for the daily bath, a number of noteworthy innovations have been introduced that give the appearance of a complete change of clothes. Reversible suits, coats and dresses, for instances, that are a work-a-day color and texture on one side, and just the reverse on the other.

Other costumes change personality by the addition of a bit of fur, a clump of flowers, a change of gloves, a piece of veiling.

The latest along this line is done with jewelry. This is an idea promoted, of course, by a well-known jewelry house, with the provocative suggestion that every woman can carry a change of clothes in her pocketbook.

In the morning, she will be seen boarding the trolley or stepping into a chauffeur-driven limousine, in a smartly tailored black wool suit, wearing a small, inconspicuous calot on her head, with neat gold earrings, bracelet and necklace and carrying a black calf bag.

Come night and by the quick and simple expedient of turning her calot inside out to reveal an evening hat of pink and blue paillettes, flipping the cover of her bag to its suede side and exchanging her gold for rhinestone jewelry, she is dressed for an evening in and on the town.

Dinner To Cost Less Here

A family of four may enjoy a Thanksgiving dinner in Atlanta for as little as $4.57, with chicken as the main course. Or, if you prefer turkey, the cost will be $5.60.

The Atlanta holiday feast is on the thrifty side when we compared it to a survey of key cities throughout the nation. Americans will pay more for their holiday dinners if they live elsewhere. In Des Moines, Iowa, a chicken dinner will add up to $6.19 with a turkey dinner costing $8.84. A complete dinner with a five-pound chicken would cost $4.97 in Los Angeles and $5.88 in San Francisco. With a six-pound turkey, the meal would cost $5.94 in Los Angeles and $7.78 in San Francisco. Seattle, Washington, will serve a chicken dinner for $4.84 and turkey for $6.01.

Miami, Fla., reports a festive holiday meal with chicken for $5.35 and a turkey dinner for $5.73.

The sample meal for four was cost—figured on this typical menu: A five-pound chicken or a six-pound half turkey; bread dressing, sweet potatoes, giblet gravy, buttered onions, cranberry sauce, celery, hot rolls and butter, pumpkin pie and coffee.

It should be good news to all Atlanta homemakers that plentiful foods at reasonable cost are available. With careful planning and shopping, the homemaker should find little difficulty in fitting holiday dinners into her food budget.

Overweight Often Begins In Boredom

Advice to the lovelorn is not exactly in my line. Nutrition is my field. But even so, if you are unhappy, bored or frustrated, and threatened with overweight, tune in to this column. There is abundant evidence that overweight often begins with boredom or some emotional disturbance . . . and grows through habit.

Some women, when bored, move the furniture to give the living room a new look. Others buy a new hat . . . but prices being what they are, shopping has become frustrating. Some women bake a cake when bored. Others simply eat. It appears that many women turn to food because they are just plain bored.

But the urge to be always eating may stem from something deeper. The real cause may be worry or anxiety. Food is a comfort, and eating soothes troubled minds, temporarily. This question was put to several hundred overweight women. "When emotionally upset, do you eat more or less?" The majority readily admitted they ate more. Turning to food to satisfy a need other than hunger, invariably makes for overweight.

If you have a weight problem, it may be very enlightening to ask yourself some leading questions. It's often uncommonly hard to recognize the underlying cause of overeating, so put on your thinking cap and ferret it out. Analyze when you tend to turn to food—then try to reason out why.

Be your own detective. If you are turning to food in an effort to solve some problem, face that fact and find some better solution. You'll be happier, and normal weight. Look at it this way—overeating never solved any problem.

Children Have Ideas on Food; Cater to Them

By GLADYS BEVANS

We recently mentioned the "choosiness" of a baby about his food; and the fact that this interesting change in his eating habits (interesting to the baby, but not always to his mother!) is apt to take place when he is somewhere around a year old.

If this choosiness is disregarded by you, and you insist upon this young individualist always eating exactly what you choose, as often as you choose it, you will get his back up, arouse his ire, get him to hate the one item of food forced upon him.

Many times, in recommending a good underlying feeding attitude for mothers, "I've suggested that they parallel the approach they quite instinctively employ with the adults at their table. That is, offer them a well-balanced diet of the vegetables, fruit, grains, milk, meat and eggs they should have; then accept the fact that tastes, and the size of their adult appetites will vary.

Anyone who has fed children—especially the young ones—over a period of years, knows that they have "spells" of liking or being "crazy" about one food, and of turning against another. When they are older and have established good eating habits, you can make known to them some point about eating what is good for them—or do a disguising act in a new recipe. But in the beginning you have to tread more carefully when your baby's eating is—to him—a big new adventure in new tastes.

Some nutritionists say that if a baby "goes off" vegetables entirely for a while, but loves his fruits, then give him extra fruit. There are a number of cooked fruits suitable for babies

JESSIE'S Notebook by JESSIE DE BOTH

A How-To-Do From Jessie's Test Kitchen: Colorful garnish for a Thanksgiving bird: Bake bananas in tangy Cranberry Sauce and serve in a ring around the platter.

For THANKS Giving I propose stuffing the bird with this savory rice triumph. Be sure it's made with Uncle Ben's Converted Rice—the choice long grain rice, that cooks up fluffy, fluffy white every time, each grain separate. The rice with sealed in B vitamins and rich flavor!

UNCLE BEN'S SOUTHERN DRESSING

2 cups Uncle Ben's Converted Rice
4 large stalks celery, chopped fine
Ground turkey heart, gizzard, and liver
Poultry seasoning
2 tsp. salt
1 cup chopped pecans
3 large onions, chopped fine
1 bell pepper, chopped
Turkey fat (rendered or chopped fine)
Pepper
2 whole eggs
½ bunch parsley

Cook rice as package directs. Saute onions, celery, pepper and giblets in fat till well done. Add seasonings. Beat eggs stiff. Remove skillet from heat, add rice, fold in eggs, mix well. Add nuts and parsley. Stuffs a 12-15 lb. bird.

Second Helpings are in order every time you make Royal Puddings for children. One serving never seems enough and I think that's fine because Royal Puddings give more Food-Energy than the sweet, fresh milk you make them with. And these creamy-textured fine-flavored Royal Puddings please every taste—fit every occasion. All "Royals" are "hits". Luscious Vanilla, two Chocolates—rich milk-chocolaty Royal Chocolate Pudding and dark, extra-chocolaty Royal Dark 'N' Sweet. And this Royal Butterscotch, too!

Whip cream till fluffy and not too stiff; fold in about 6 to 8 solid chocolate wafers, sliced. Serve over chilled Royal Butterscotch Pudding.

Coffee Brewed By Experts is yours, with G. Washington's revolutionary new-type Instant Coffee. You get a perfect cup every time! G. Washington's is unlike any other instant coffee you've ever tried! It's not powdered coffee beans, not a coffee substitute—but real coffee brewed to full flavor peak. At this point the water's removed—in a flash. Then carbohydrates are added to seal-in that freshly-brewed coffee flavor. All you do is put the hot water back in! And thanks to G. Washington's exclusive process to seal-in flavor and freshness, the coffee can't go stale, even after you open the can. Result: A perfect cup of coffee—every time! Try New Instant G. Washington's.

Show Me A Fresh Lemon and I'll name you dozens of dishes made more delicious—and healthful—by lemon's golden juice. Lemons, you know, are famous alike for flavor and extra Vitamin C. I get Sunkist—they're best. Why not top your shopping list with lemons, too—and squeeze their tangy juice in fruit juices, on vegetables, salads, salad dressings and in tea. And twin-up lemons with honey for this good all-year-round

SEVEN-MINUTE HONEY FROSTING

1 egg white
¾ cup sugar
Salt
3 Tbsp. Sunkist Lemon Juice
¼ tsp. grated Sunkist Lemon peel

Combine all in double boiler over water at full boil. Beat with whirl-type beater 7 min. or till thick. Take off heat. Beat till firm enough to spread. Frosts two 8-inch layers.

Instant Cinnamon Toast is yours! Just get Domino Sugar and Cinnamon in the new glass shaker—you'll have sweet 'n' spicy hot buttered cinnamon toast in "two shakes!" And thank Domino for putting its tempting Sugar and Cinnamon two-some in an exclusive shaker that's handsome on the table and easy to use, too. It encourages children to "fix their own" and eat a better breakfast—so do get one! In the kichen, too, you'll find the Domino shaker a timesaver. Wherever you use it—Domino Sugar and Cinnamon is handy-dandy for adding sparkling flavor to dozens of dishes. Like these:

Custards, French Toast, Waffles, Brown Betty, Apple Pie, Baked Apples, Apple Sauce, or Pancakes with Apple Sauce.

Here's How To Carve Turkey

By AGNES REASOR OLMSTEAD

Every picture and every vision of a real Thanksgiving table seems to center around a golden crusted whopping turkey. It's a beautiful sight! Usually one the family can enjoy only a few times during the year. So by all means bring the king size bird to the table and carve it there so everyone can enjoy the full glamour.

Carving the turkey (chicken is done the same way) is not a difficult job if the bird is properly cooked and if simple directions are followed.

It's the hostess' job to do these things: Cook the bird to just the right degree of doneness and let it stand outside the oven 15 to 30 minutes. It carves easier and it allows time for the juices to be absorbed. Remove all trussing equipment such as skewers and cord. Place the bird on a warm, large, flat platter. Use a simple garnish. Don't overdo it. Place the platter—breast of bird at left—directly above the hot plates in front of the host. Some men may prefer to have the platter in front of them and the dinner plates to the left.

A sharp knife and the simple directions given here will help the carver do a perfect job.

HOW TO CARVE TURKEY

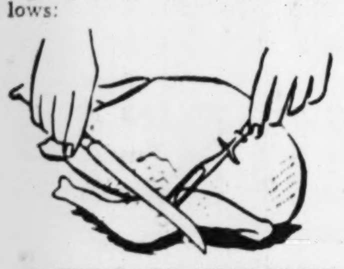
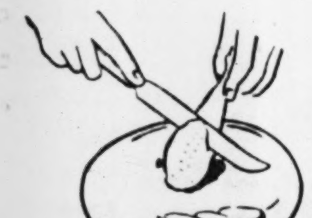
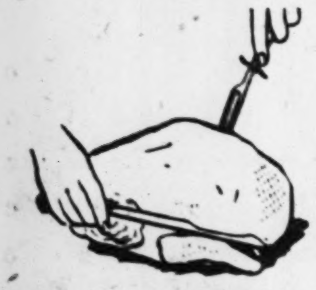
1. REMOVE LEG (thigh or second joint and drumstick). Hold the drumstick firmly with fingers, pulling gently away from turkey body. At the same time cut through skin between leg and body Continue as follows:



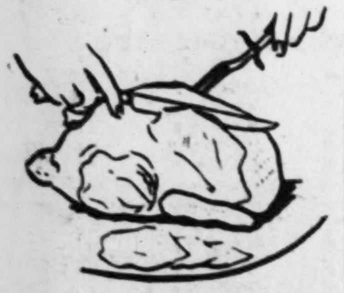
2. PRESS LEG AWAY FROM BODY WITH FLAT SIDE OF KNIFE. Then cut through joint joining leg to backbone and skin on the back. If the "oyster," a choice oyster-shaped piece lying in the spoon-shaped section of the backbone was not removed with the thigh, remove it at this point. Hold leg on service plate with drumstick at a convenient angle to plate. Separate drumstick and thigh by cutting down through the joint to the plate



3. SLICE DRUMSTICK MEAT. Hold drumstick upright at a convenient angle to plate and cut down, turning drumstick to get uniform slices. Chicken drumsticks and thighs are usually served without slicing.



4. CUT INTO WHITE MEAT PARALLEL TO WING. Make a cut deep into the breast to the body frame parallel to and as close to the wing as possible.



5. SLICE WHITE MEAT. Beginning at front, starting halfway up the breast, cut thin slices of white meat down to the cut made parallel to the wing. The slices will fall away from the turkey as they are cut to this line. Continue carving until enough meat has been carved for first servings. Additional turkey may be carved as needed.

Remove individual servings of stuffing from an opening cut into side of the turkey where leg has been removed.

Easy Chopping

When you need chopped celery for stews, salads or sandwich fillings cut the stalks lengthwise into strips first; then lay the strips together and cut across in desired pieces.

THANKSGIVING MEAL STARTER

Serve a cheese tray with iced tomato juice as a first course in the living room.

FIRST COURSE

Cheese Tray Sets Mood For Feasting

To lessen Thanksgiving work, it's a good idea to serve the first course in the living room. While family and guests are enjoying that, you can go to the kitchen to put the finishing touches on the food and bring it to the table. Then when everyone is seated at the table you can be with them and not have to be errand girl.

Canned fruit or vegetable juices and a versatile cheese tray is the easiest first course we know. A cheese tray, whether assembled on a wooden tray or your most beautiful silver platter, is a conversation starter. With the variety in color, flavor and texture of cheese you can let your imagination take full swing when it comes to arranging the tray. Remember that the purpose of the cheese tray is to have an assortment so that each guest can select his favorite or try a variety of flavors.

Here is a blueprint for a simple cheese tray which echoes elegance and extends a warm glow of hospitality wherever served. Our master pattern for a before-dinner tray always features one "dunk it" mixture. A recipe which seems to be a real favorite, calls for a 3-ounce package of cream cheese, half a mashed avocado, a teaspoon of grated lemon rind and lemon juice. Blend together until light and fluffy and sprinkle with chopped chives. Wedges and cubes of medium and sharp age cheddar give the tray variety in color, flavor and shapes. Top the cubes with small stuffed olives or pearl onions. In a bowl or on a tray to the side have assortment of crackers and potato chips for dunking.

Prepare Salad Holiday Eve

You can save a lot of time Thanksgiving day by preparing the holiday salad a day early. If you plan a whopping big dinner, serve this pretty salad as a first course.

ORANGE GINGER ALE RING

1 envelope plain gelatin
¼ cup fresh lemon juice
¼ cup sugar
¾ cup fresh orange juice
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup ginger ale
1 cup orange sections
½ cup pecan halves

Put lemon juice in small saucepan; sprinkle plain gelatin over top and let set about five minutes. Heat mixture until gelatin is thoroughly dissolved. Add sugar, salt, orange juice and ginger ale. Arrange orange sections and pecans in mold or add them to gelatin mixture. Pour gelatin into mold and place in refrigerator. Unmold and serve with orange slice garnish.

Sausage Burgers Please Poker Crowd

There's no night more fun than the one topped off with a few snacks. For brisk Fall nights you'll be wanting something tasty to serve the bridge foursome or poker crowd. A meaty treat over which your men guests will rave is liver sausage burgers.

Make up an attractive trayful of the burgers with slices of tomato and raw sweet onion or lightly browned yellow onions. Accompany these with raw relishes and ripe olives and you've an eye-catching array.

Smoked liver sausage, usually referred to as Braunschweiger, makes a rich tasting burger. These are a nice change from the traditional hamburger. Here's the way to prepare liver sausage burgers.

LIVER SAUSAGE BURGERS

1 pound liver sausage (Braunschweiger)
2 medium onions
2 medium tomatoes
6 round buns

Cut liver sausage into ½-inch thick slices and brown slowly in hot fat. Turn and continue cooking slowly until well browned. Cut thin slices of sweet Bermuda onion and tomatoes. If desired, use yellow onions and brown lightly in hot fat. Split buns, toast and butter. Serve hot liver sausage slices between bun halves and top with onion slices and tomatoes. Instead of onion you might use pickle relish or chili sauce. Six servings.

Fish fillets are good baked with salt, pepper, finely diced green pepper and onion and solid pieces of canned tomato.

Spiced Veal On Noodles Meat Treat

Every family likes variety in its "three-squares-a-day." If you've been on a run of pork and stews, perhaps it's time to serve a tasty veal dish. This pleasing spiced mixture is served on buttered noodles.

VEAL PIQUANTE

1 pound boneless veal stew meat
½ cup chopped onion
¾ teaspoon vinegar
4 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon caraway seeds
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon marjoram
1½ cups water

Cut veal into small pieces. Brown in 3 tablespoons melted fat. Push veal to one side of skillet and in fat cook onion until soft. Add remaining ingredients, cover and simmer 1½ to 2 hours or until tender. Add more water during cooking to keep quite moist. Thicken with 1 tablespoon flour mixed to a paste with a little cold water. serve hot over boiled noodles which have been generously buttered. 4 servings.

Quick Tricks Add Glamor To Vegetables

A bit of glamour for vegetables to make them captivating is an easy matter. And if an extra flavor-touch will renew interest in everyday vegetables . . . it's worth it. So, we have gathered together a few quick and easy flavor tricks to suggest that are ever so tempting. For instance . . . add a bit of lemon juice to melted butter or margarine and pour it over hot cooked broccoli. It's wonderful! Another good one is to heat together equal portions of butter or margarine and catsup to serve with hot cooked cabbage. Or, pan fry slivered almonds in butter or margarine until they're lightly browned. Then pour it over hot cooked asparagus . . . for an elegant dish. And the last one is to pan fry 2 tablespoons of finely chopped onion in about ¼ cup butter or margarine. Add 2 tablespoons dry bread crumbs and stir. Sprinkle this mixture over hot cooked green beans for an outstanding vegetable dish. As a matter of fact, they're all outstanding . . . they're vegetable captivators!

ITALIAN

TASTY ITALIAN FAVORITE

Try Pizza Pie for Party

We can thank the Italians for delicious Pizza pie (pronounced peet-za). This tasty cheese dish has long been a favorite at Italian restaurants. It's like a huge pancake, topped with a tomato cheese mixture and baked until crust is crisp and golden brown.

Hot out of the oven, it's cut into wedges. You fold a wedge, eat it with your fingers if it is an appetizer. Or, with a fork when served as a bread with dinner or for a main course.

Pizza plus a green salad and fruit for dessert are the makings of a menu that will hit the spot for light suppers during the Fall and Winter months. If the crowd is really hungry though, you'd better make 2 Pizzas for a group of 6.

PIZZA PIE

1 package hot roll mix
¼ cup butter, melted
2 No. 2½ cans whole tomatoes, drained
½ cup thinly sliced onion
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
¼ cup chopped parsley
2 cups grated American cheese

Follow directions given on package for mixing roll dough. Grease mixture, cover and let rise to double in bulk, about 1 hour, at about 85 degrees F. Roll out into a ¼-inch thick round on a buttered cookie sheet, leaving edge slightly thicker. Brush with butter. Spread dough with tomatoes, onions, seasonings and cheese. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 400 degrees, for 15 minutes, then reduce temperature to 325 degrees, and continue baking for 15 to 20 minutes. 6 servings.

If you add fruit or nuts to a chiffon cake batter, they must be finely chopped or they will sink to the bottom of the cake.

Ice Cream In Meringue Top Dessert

A dessert that seems to hold its popularity year 'round is that crispy base of a meringue shell filled with ice cream. Here's a new way to make the shells with a touch of cocoa. Vanilla ice cream is a fine filler but don't overlook coffee or peppermint ice cream.

ICE CREAM COCONUT MERINGUES

3 egg whites
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sugar
1 cup shredded coconut
Cocoa
1 quart vanilla ice cream

Beat egg whites with salt and cream of tartar until mixture peaks. Add vanilla and sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating well between each addition. Fold in coconut. Spoon in mounds on cookie sheet covered with ungreased, plain paper, shaping into cups with spoon. Sprinkle lightly with a little cocoa. Bake in a slow oven (275 degrees) for 45 to 50 minutes. Remove from paper; cool. Serve filled with ice cream. Top with bitter chocolate shavings or chocolate sauce. 6 servings.

NAM Asks Defense Tax Substitute

Business Fights Profit-Levy Plan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20—(AP)—Organized business suggested Monday that a "defense tax" on top of corporate income levies be substituted for the administration's excess profits tax proposal.

The suggestion came from Charlie R. Sligh, Jr., Holland, Mich., representing the National Association of Manufacturers.

Despite a committee ban against discussion of anything except an excess profits tax, the NAM got its alternative proposal into the House Ways and Means Committee record.

What Sligh did was to advise the committee its records contained an inaccurate description of the NAM proposal. He then explained the inaccuracy and quoted the associations' tax program.

However, for the fourth time since the hearings started, the committee reiterated its intention to stick to the subject of excess profits. By a vote of 15 Democrats to 10 Republicans, it ruled that witnesses could not comment on a substitute plan proposed by Rep. Reed, of New York, top Republican committee member.

The Reed plan would let corporations pay a maximum corporate income tax of 55 per cent or, if they elected to pay under an excess profits tax plan, they could pay a minimum of 50 per cent of their net income.

Prospects were that the Democratic majority would finally draft a bill closely following President Truman's proposal for a 75 per cent tax on corporation income determined to be excessive when compared with 1946-1949 earnings.

In effect, the NAM tax proposal would set the standard corporation income tax at 38 per cent instead of the present 45 per cent. It would do this by cutting the normal rate from 25 to 18 per cent and leave the 20 per cent surtax unchanged. Then, after a corporation had figured its tax liability at the reduced rate, it would add a flat percentage as a corporation defense tax. Sligh said the extra tax, which would be based on tax liability and not on net income, could be 20 or 30 per cent.

It would, he said, be particularly helpful to small corporations and would produce as much revenue as an excess profits tax.

Sligh described an excess profits tax as unsound, unworkable, inflationary and vastly overrated as a revenue producer.

German News Agency Drops 'B. C.' Dating

BERLIN, Nov. 20—(AP)—ADN, East Germany's government news agency, adopted Monday the Soviet practice of ignoring Christ in dating historical events.

ADN said archeological excavations near Kharkov, Russia, had unearthed relics belonging to the Sixth to Ninth Centuries "of our time reckoning" and to the Sixth Century "before our time reckoning."

Communist-published textbooks for the school system of East Germany already omit references to A. D. and B. C.

Georgia Housewife Cuts Corners

Mrs. Charles C. Snow, teacher at Russell High School, has combined a career of teaching and homemaking successfully but with little time during the school year for housekeeping. "Naturally," says Mrs. Snow, "I'm interested in cutting all the corners possible. The quick action of Texize Household Cleaner helps me to do my cleaning chores in half the time consumed by other cleaning products I have used. Since the first time I used it, it has been Texize Cleaner for me."

Thousands of housewives have found that Texize Cleaner saves them time and work because "The Maid in the Bottle" does the hard 50% of their cleaning. Texize Cleaner makes dirt and grease disappear as if by magic. Walls, floors, woodwork, tile, porcelain, linoleum—every washable surface will be spotless; original colors and finishes will be restored.

Modern, liquid Texize Household Cleaner costs less than 1¼c per pint when diluted with water. Let "The Maid in the Bottle" do your housecleaning for you the easy way. Take home a bottle of Texize Cleaner from your grocer's today, and cut corners in your housework as Mrs. Snow does.

Here's How . . .

A&P's Policy of Storewide Low Prices on Hundreds of Items Every Day Will Help You Save More Money This Thanksgiving Than Just a Few "Specials"

What a big help it would be if you could buy everything for your Thanksgiving feast in one store . . . and save money, too! Well, you can . . . at your A&P Super Market. Because A&P's policy of storewide low prices every day on hundreds of items makes it unnecessary to trudge from store to store. Thanks to this policy, you can make savings on hundreds of good things, rather than on just a few "specials." And it stands to reason that such storewide savings will add up to much more than those you might make by getting a few "specials."

They'll Do It Every Time

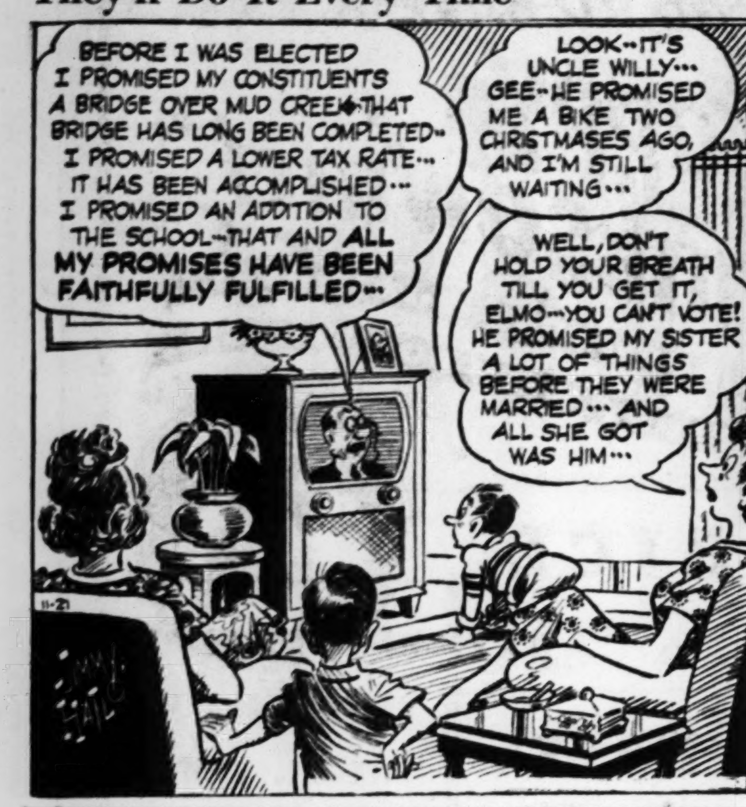
By Hatlo



BEFORE I WAS ELECTED I PROMISED MY CONSTITUENTS A BRIDGE OVER MUD CREEK◆THAT BRIDGE HAS LONG BEEN COMPLETED-- I PROMISED A LOWER TAX RATE... IT HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED... I PROMISED AN ADDITION TO THE SCHOOL--THAT AND ALL MY PROMISES HAVE BEEN FAITHFULLY FULFILLED...
LOOK--IT'S UNCLE WILLY... GEE--HE PROMISED ME A BIKE TWO CHRISTMASES AGO, AND I'M STILL WAITING...
WELL, DON'T HOLD YOUR BREATH TILL YOU GET IT, ELMO--YOU CAN'T VOTE! HE PROMISED MY SISTER A LOT OF THINGS BEFORE THEY WERE MARRIED... AND ALL SHE GOT WAS HIM...
LAST WEEK HE PROMISED THE FERRY-BOAT INTERESTS THAT HE'D TEAR DOWN THE MUD CREEK BRIDGE...
HE SWORE TO EMMA HE'D BE HOME EARLY...BUT ONCE HE STARTS TALKING, THAT'S ANOTHER PROMISE THAT WON'T BE KEPT...

YOUR STARS TODAY

Sun in Scorpio

General Tendencies — Today should be a better time for money matters than yesterday, with chances for profit all during the afternoon. You may have to struggle a little in order to get your way about any possible bargains which may be offered to you but you can win after some argument. Do not take this quarrelsome attitude home with you because household affairs are touchy just now and relatives may just be waiting for a chance to disagree.

If It's Your Birthday—Most people will find the first part of 1951 troublesome for business arrangements but people of your date appear to gain through the very things which disturb their neighbors. Your temperament is one which does not dislike a battle and can usually scare the other fellow off, but if you are wise you will give matters time to settle themselves all during the warm weather in 1951. Don't rush into romances in the Spring.

A Noble breakfast!

Good for lunch and dinner too!

For Thanksgiving you'll want the finest red apples. Washington State Delicious! So rich and festive to look at... so marvelous to eat! Get some of the big Delicious to set off your centerpiece... get some of the small, kid-sized Delicious to treat the small fry.

Atlantans Slate Religious Drama

"Passion and Triumph," a dramatic story of the last days of Christ, will be presented by the Atlanta Committee of Religious Drama Nov. 30 at the Municipal Auditorium.

Written and directed by Dr. Ralph Mark Gilbert, the play will have a cast of 150 Atlanta performers and a chorus of 150 singers trained by Robert Harrison. The story involves some of the miracles of Christ.

Regina Pudney's Recital Tonight

Regina Pudney, well-known Atlanta pianist, will be presented by the East Point Music Lovers' Club in recital at 8 p. m., Tuesday at the East Point City Auditorium.

Miss Pudney, who studied at the Julliard Graduate School of Music in New York and with Guy Maier in California, has appeared as soloist with the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra, and on the Pop Concert summer series.

She will play selections by Bach, Beethoven, Hugh Hodgson, Chopin, Schumann and Liszt.

Pup Phillips Briefs Nurses

More than 200 nurses and health workers from Atlanta and Fulton County were briefed on civil defense plans Monday at the Municipal Auditorium by George M. "Pup" Phillips, Director of Civil Defense for Metropolitan Atlanta, and Joe Haynes, his assistant.

Phillips said the nurses volunteered to take a short home nursing course and then serve as instructors in home nursing to train other teachers. The home nursing courses will be under the general supervision of the Atlanta Chapter, American Red Cross.

The health workers were shown a movie, "Tale of Two Cities," depicting the destruction from atom bombing in Japan.

Talks Slated On Personnel

Mattox L. Purvis, Deputy Director, Georgia State Merit System, and H. M. Chester, Personnel Administrator, Georgia Department of Public Health, will speak at the 1950 Annual Conference on Public Personnel Administration to be held Nov. 27-30 at the Biltmore Hotel.

More than 600 personnel experts from governments in the United States, Canada, several South American countries and United Nations delegations will attend the conference. Principal speakers will be Herbert Emmerich of Public Administration Clearing House, and Gordon R. Clapp, Chairman of the Board of Directors, Tennessee Valley Authority.

The Conference is sponsored by the Civil Service Assembly, a professional organization founded in 1906 to improve standards, practices and methods in public personnel work.

Princeton's Dean Root Dies on St. Louis Trip

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 20—(AP)—Robert K. Root, 73, emeritus dean of faculty at Princeton University, died of a stroke Monday.

Dean Root, also Woodrow Wilson Professor Emeritus of Literature at Princeton, was here to give a talk at Washington University. He collapsed and died on the steps of McMillan Hall on the Washington campus.

Maneuver in Fog Saves Lost Pilot

Ensign D. A. Tuck, pilot stationed at the Naval Air Station here, circled his Navy fighter plane above fog-blanketed Indianapolis for almost three hours Sunday—his instruments dead and his fuel dwindling to a 15-minute supply.

His radio and an Air National Guard instructor saved him.

The instructor, Maj. A. W. Lewis, told Tuck by radio to fly above the overcast. Then Lewis took off in an Air Force F-51 fighter, found the lost ensign and guided his F-14 Corsair to a perfect landing.

Tuck said his instruments went bad two minutes after he took off from Indianapolis for Atlanta. A repair crew said the trouble was in an intake that provided air pressure to operate the instruments.

Well, what would you do with the $500?... or $1,500?... or $5,000?

That doesn't sound like too much of a problem, does it?

But suppose it was money you didn't really need. Suppose you had all the insurance you wanted and enough cash in the bank for emergencies. Then what would you do with the money?

Oh, you could take a trip or buy a car, all right. Spending it would be easy. Especially these days of higher and higher prices — and dollars that buy less and less.

But maybe you wouldn't want to. Maybe you'd rather put that extra money to work. Put it where it had a good chance to grow. Where it might bring you a 5% or 6% return year after year.

If you'd like to do something like that with your money, we think you should consider investing in common stocks.

Right now, for example, 900 of the 1,024 common stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange pay dividends. Dividends that average about 7% of their purchase price. That's pretty much the story ever since 1940, too. Because the ten year average stands at a little better than 8 out of 10 stocks, paying dividends of 6.3%.

Still, dividends aren't everything.

Just as in any other form of investing, there is risk in owning common stock. The risk that the price may fall after you buy.

But if you stick to sound stocks in sound companies, the chances are that over the years you'll find them selling at higher prices more often than lower ones.

Of course, if you've never invested before, there are lots of other things you may want to know about the risks and rewards in owning common stocks.

That's why we prepared a pamphlet that answers many of the most common questions about our business.

The pamphlet explains just what stocks and bonds are, and the difference between them. It tells you what stocks are worth, just how they're traded, and why prices change. It describes what a Stock Exchange is and just what it does. And there's a separate section on how to buy and sell securities, on how to open an account, what services to expect from your broker, and what commissions you pay.

If you'd like this primer — in plain English — on investing, just ask for "What Everybody Ought to Know . . . About This Stock and Bond Business". There's no charge. Just write to —

EAL Allots $45 Million For Plane Purchases

By BILL BORING

In Atlanta Monday for the monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of Eastern Air Lines, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, the Lines' president and General Manager, was in a reminiscent mood.

He recalled how back in 1909 he was racing automobiles on the old Atlanta Speedway, now the site of Atlanta's Municipal Airport, and how both Eastern Air Lines and Atlanta got into the air passenger transport business together just 22 years ago.

Since that not too distant day, Eastern has grown into a 12,000-route-mile airline tieing into a community a number of America's greatest cities and Capt. Rickenbacker says Atlanta is the "hub" of this far-flung air system.

We checked with Jack Gray, manager of Municipal Airport, and learned that when conversion of the dirt race track, over which Rickenbacker raced, was completed and Atlanta's airport was ready to receive and send off planes, it was an establishment employing only six persons.

The airport now employs 3,200 persons and is the terminal for 192 scheduled passenger plane flights daily. In addition to Eastern Airlines, three other passenger lines (Delta, Capital and Southern) and one cargo line (U. S. Airlines) operate in and out of it.

The planes of these lines transport 100,000 persons monthly and a considerable volume of air freight, in and out of Atlanta, and on an average month, 350,000 persons will visit the air terminal either to fly or to meet or see off passengers.

Currently, Atlanta and the Federal government is spending $6,000,000, on a fifty-fifty basis, to build new runways and generally enlarge the airport and when this work is completed, Atlanta will have gained the Civil Aeronautics Board's top rating for an inland airport.

During these years, Eastern Air Lines has grown apace and Monday Capt. Rickenbacker announced plans for the purchase of $45,000,000 worth of new Martin 404 and Lockheed Super Constellation airplanes. These new ships will double Eastern's seating capacity and step up the already plenty-fast speed of the passenger plane by 100 miles per hour.

Moreover, Capt. Rickenbacker says, the two ships are so designed that they can be equipped with turbo-jet motors once the military releases this type for civilian use. Capt. Rickenbacker hopes that will be within three or four years and once it is accomplished, then Atlanta will be only an hour-and-a-quarter to an hour-and-a-half from New York.

The Martin 404's, Rickenbacker says, eventually will replace the present 21-passenger DC-3's and will be used for local and semi-local trips. The 92-passenger Super Constellations, which will have a cruising speed of 330 miles per hour, will be used on long haul express flights.

Delivery of both new models will start in the Summer of 1951.

Capt. Rickenbacker said Eastern has increased its earnings for the first nine months of 1950 approximately 30 percent above those of the same period in 1949. In line with this, the Board of Directors declared a dividend of 25 cents per share of common stock payable Dec. 18 to stockholders of record Dec. 1, 1950.

The action resumes the annual 50-cent-per-share dividend policy previously adopted by Eastern but interrupted in 1947 because of generally unsettled conditions within the air transport industry.

Industry Position Up

From the standpoint of the availability of labor, Georgia and the rest of the Southeast have improved their position, industry-wise, in the past ten years, a study of 1950 census returns reveals.

These states recorded an 18 percent population gain since 1940, as against a 10.8 percent rise for the South Central region, our chief rival in the race for industry, and a 13.8 percent increase for the industry as a whole.

A healthy, growing supply of labor is a "must" for any section going after new industries and our population increase reflects such a condition. Still, despite the fact that we're the second fastest-growing region in the nation, we are still being greatly out-paced by the Far West, which rang the bell with a phenomenal 38 percent jump in the ten-year period.

Our consolation in this regard may be found in the fact that the West got their newcomers from other sections, not from the Southeast.

TV Sales Boom

The country's new booming industry—television—is kicking up a lot of money in local trade channels. A survey Monday indicated that through September of this year, Metropolitan Atlanta television dealers sold 45,497 sets at an estimated $13,769,100.

Construction Drops

Construction contract awards in the Southeast in October totaled $108,690,000, a decrease of 37 percent from the September total of $171,627,000, and 24 percent below October, 1949.

This was announced Monday by Ralph M. Hairston, District Manager of F. W. Dodge Corporation, construction news and marketing specialists. The 10-month construction contract award for the area was 50 percent higher than the comparable total for 1949, however.

New Yates Unit

Georgia Power announced Monday that a second 100,000 kilowatt steam-electric generating unit at Plant Yates, on the Chattahoochee River between Newnan and Carrollton, is now in operation; also that excavation has begun for an enlarged powerhouse at Bartlett's Ferry hydroelectric project on the Chattahoochee near Columbus.

Here and There

Dr. Aili Linnea Nurmien, chief meteorologist for aviation, Helsinki, Finland, is in Atlanta to confer with J. J. George, superintendent of meteorology for Eastern Air Lines. . . . A. L. Faulkner, of Monticello, has been re-elected a director of the National Milk Producers Federation. . . . The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has declared a $4 dividend for 1950 on its preferred stock. The dividend will be paid Dec. 21 to share holders of record Dec. 1. . . . K. V. P. Burnham, of J. P. Allen & Co., received an honorable mention in the national window display contest sponsored by the Wool Bureau, Inc. . . . In the second week of November there was a small increase in loans at the 27 weekly reporting member banks in leading cities of the Sixth Federal Reserve District. . . . If peanut growers voting in the December referendum approve marketing quotas for the 1951, 1952 and 1953 crops, the national acreage allotment of 1,771,117 acres for peanuts picked and thrashed will go into effect in 1951. If the marketing quotas are approved the support prices on the 1951 crop may be slightly higher than on the 1950 crop because of the probable rise in the parity index. . . . In view of the expected increase in consumer incomes and the high level of employment in prospect for 1951, tobacco consumption will probably increase. The export demand in 1951 is also likely to be strong, especially for cigarette tobacco. . . . The Atlantic Steel employees donated 155 pints of blood when the Red Cross Bloodmobile visited the plant recently. . . . Eric W. Hammarstrom, of Reynolds Metals Co., has joined the Building Products Division of the National Production Authority in Washington, D. C., in an executive capacity. . . . Britain, one of the world's greatest producers of coal, will soon buy coal from foreign countries to keep furnaces burning during the Winter. This is a result of an unexpected slump in production, greater consumption, and heavier exports, Fuel Minister Noel Baker informed the British House of Commons. . . . Purchase of life insurance in the United States totaled $2,570,000,000 in October for a gain of 38 per cent over $1,861,000,000 in the like month a year ago. . . . Consumer spending shot up by an unprecedented $13,200,000,000-a-year rate during July-September to reach a record annual volume of $198,400,000,000.

Atlanta Produce

Trading was fairly good on the Atlanta produce market during Sunday in preparation for the holiday demand of next several days according to the Production and Marketing Administration. There was only light activity Monday morning with receipts moderate to fairly liberal for some commodities.

Oranges jobbed 3.25 to high as 3.50 some small low as 3.10 and grapefruit held at 2.50-2.85 per box according to quality. Some Georgia boxed Stayman apples, Combination Fancy and Extra Fancy were 3.25; some Virginia boxed Yorks 3.00-3.50 and Staymans wrapped 3.50-3.85 mostly 3.75. Bulk apples, mostly ordinary quality were 1.00-1.50 mostly 1.15-1.25.

Sweet potatoes held steady at 1.50-1.75 and best waxed high as 2.25 for Georgia Porto Ricans with considerable bulk or partly graded stock ranging 1.00-1.50 bushel.

Collards brought 90-1.00 per dozen in job lots and turnips mostly ordinary to fair at 1.00-1.50 mostly 1.25 dozen; mustard and turnip greens were cleaned up on Sunday at 1.50-1.75 bushel with very few late arrivals.

Radishes sold at 65-75c dozen; shallots 1.10 dozen and up to 1.25; western bunched carrots were scarce at 7.00 crate; iceberg lettuce jobbed at 7.00 and some to 7.50 and celery showed wide range of prices and quality from 3.75 to 5.25 and some best California Goldenheart in standard crates at 7.50 per crate.

There was a good supply of pecans and nuts of all kinds and specialty fruits and vegetables such as persimmons, pomegranates, pineapples, coconuts, etc. Pecans US No. 1 large Stewarts were 37-40 dollars were hundred-pound bag and others mostly 37-38 dollars with some Mahans selling up to 45.00 per bag.

1951 Fords Show Friday

The new 1951 Ford models get their public presentation on Friday.

Persons who have seen the new models say there will be no startling styling or design changes, but a continuing evidence of refinement in both respects.

The conviction persists in most trade quarters that, like the previously introduced 1951 Mercury and Lincoln models, the new Fords will not be increased in price. There is more than a little speculation about the extra cost of the new Ford automatic transmission.

Ford has its own transmission on the Mercury models, tagged at $168.50 additional.

Rules To Avert Unionizing Told

Maynard Smith, Atlanta lawyer, Monday told the luncheon meeting of the Georgia Engineering Society, at the Luckie Street YMCA, three rules to prevent unionization in industry. They are:

(1) The employer should permit no inefficient, low-grade workers in his plant; (2) he should permit no favoritism among emloyees, and (3) he should keep his employees informed about business.

"If an employer follows these rules," said Smith, "the union organizer is going to have difficulty in organizing that emloyer's business."

Sugar Futures

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—(AP)—World and domestic sugar futures were steady on light trade buying Monday. There was no particular feature in the market, with traders watching foregin developments closely.

World Cuban raws were quoted as 5.35 cents a pound FOB for old crop sugars. World quotations were lowered sharply compared with 5.75 cents a pound last week because of the recent offer by the Commodity Credit Corporation, to sell some of its reserves of Cuban sugar stocks for shipment abroad at 5.38 cents a pound FAS.

Offerings of domestic raws were quoted at 6.20 cents a pound delivered.

Demand for refined was fair.

Rails Spark Bond Advance

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—(AP)—Interest in a group of selected railroad issues sparked a general advance of as much as two points Monday on the bond market.

Declines were outnumbered by far and most of the losses were fractional. Good news for a group of selected rails accompanied price advances in some cases.

For instance, a total of $500,000 par value of Baltimore and Ohio issues changed hands as the company reported net income for the first ten months of the year was 119 percent ahead of a year ago.

Total volume of the market was $4,330,000, slightly under the $4,680,000 of Friday, the last full session.

Drygoods

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—(AP)—The cotton textile market was firm Monday. Mills, however, were slow in making offerings of goods for the second quarter of next year as cotton futures continued to rise into new high ground. Buyers showed a good interest that far ahead because of the strength in cotton and the competition of military orders for textiles. The popular 80-square print cloths moved up to 28½ cents a yard, up ¼ of a cent. The 45-inch 64x60 4.65 yard print cloth was up ¼ cent to 24½ cents a yard.

Wool goods held firm. There was little business in the civilian market, however, with manufacturers busily engaged in turning out apparel for the spring 1951 season.

The rayon goods market was quiet.

Stocks Mixed At Close

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—(AP)—Traders turned restless Monday and stocks produced one of their most uneven performances in weeks.

Prices flipflopped so often from the gain to the loss column and back again that trends were totally obscured at the close and plus and minus signs were completely mixed up.

A good showing by oil, building material and some rail and chemical stocks was partially offset by weakness in auto, radio-television and rubber issues.

Gains ranged up to $1.50 a share, with a very few issues doing even better; some losses ran to nearly $2 a share.

Trading totaled 2,250,000 shares, second highest figure for any day this month, compared with 2,130,000 at the last full session Friday.

In keeping with last week's doings, prices advanced substantially at the opening on execution of a batch of weekend buy orders. Most of the gains were maintained till around mid-day, when selling opened up on an important basis. From then on, trading was a seesaw affair, with many issues jumping back and forth several times from the losing to the winning list.

Grains Falter Toward Close

CHICAGO, Nov. 20—(AP)—Grains faltered toward the close on the Board of Trade Monday after starting out with a good deal of vigor.

Late selling hit all cereals, although wheat and soybeans were most affected. They both sank below Saturday's final quotations. In the case of soybeans this represented a substantial drop from the morning prices, when all deliveries made new seasonal highs.

Corn and oats, aided by prospects of increased feeding in the Midwest as a result of cold weather, held up better than other cereals. All oats except July made new seasonal peaks in the early trade. However, even they sold off in the last hour.

Wheat closed ¼-½ lower, December $2.28. Corn was ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, December $1.61-1.60⅞. Oats were ⅜ lower to ⅜ higher, December 95¾-½. Rye was ⅝-⅞ lower, December 1.51⅜. Soybeans were ⅛-1½ higher, November $2.95-2.94½. Lard was unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, November 14.30.

Coffee Market

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—(AP)—Santos coffee futures were steady Monday as short covering met limited offerings. Some steadiness was imparted by a Department of Agriculture report which predicted that world production of coffee of the 1950-51 season will be about 2 percent smaller than last season.

Spot coffee was firm, although roasters did not buy green coffee actively. One roaster raised wholesale prices 2 cents a pound to 80 cents a pound. Some quarters have been inclined to regard this as primarily an upward adjustment to levels quoted by other competitors.

Coffee spot Santos No. 4 closed at 52¼a. Cost and freight offerings include Santos Bourbons 3s at 51.51.85-53.10a and 5s 50.35-51.60a.

Santos No. 4 "S" futures closed 45 to 68 higher. Sales 70 contracts.

Armed Forces Buy Lumber

To meet the requirements of the Army, the Navy and the Air Force for 25,000,000 board feet of lumber, the Army and Navy Lumber Agency of the Corps of Engineers Monday began a three-day auction at the Biltmore Hotel. At prevailing prices, this is about $2,000,000 worth of lumber.

C. V. Claycomb, Chief of the Procurement Branch of the Corps of Engineers, said that prices for lumber are down from $3 to $4 per thousand under the prices which prevailed at the auction held the latter part of October.

The demand at this auction is for Southern pine and other soft woods, as well as for 25,000 railway crossties. All of this lumber, Claycomb said, is for domestic use.

Claycomb said that nearly 300 firms, representing all Southern States and some in the Middle West, have their agents at this auction.

Meat Price Controls Not Near, Packers Say

By WELLINGTON WRIGHT

The Southeast, more than any other region of the United States, provides for the packing industry the potentials for "an enormous production of livestock to supply the increasing demand of the American people for meat products."

This was the opinion expressed here Monday at the Biltmore Hotel at the annual meeting of the Southern Division of the National Independent Meat Packers Association. Nearly 100 delegates from every State in the Southeast attended.

I. L. Wooten, of Ocala, Fla., Regional Vice President of NIMPA, said:

"The livestock industry in the Southeast is growing by leaps and bounds and it will continue to grow for two reasons—(1) the increase in the purchasing power of the people of this region and (2) the fact that our land and our climate make year-around pasturage physically possible and economically profitable."

To this, Wilbur LaRoe, Jr., of Washington, General Counsel for the Association, added:

"No part of the United States can contribute as much as the Southeast to the possibilities for large-scale and profitable livestock production."

Delegates agreed price control for meat products does not seem to be imminent. They based this opinion upon the fact that at present the Federal Government is trying to hold down prices by indirect methods, such as credit controls, rather than by directly controlling prices.

At the same time, they said the present policies of the Government tend to hold down an adequate supply of meat by giving farmers support prices for their grains while allowing the free market to fix the price of livestock.

"The farmer is assured a profit on his grain if he sells it and yet, if he feeds that grain to his livestock, he must take a gamble on the price he gets for the livestock.

"Naturally, many farmers are selling their grain rather than feed it to their cattle and hogs. This situation has already disrupted the feeding industry for cattle in the West and has forced the big packers into the cattle-feeding business on a large scale."

The delegates voted to seek from the Food and Drug Administration a change in the recent order requiring bakers to buy their emulsifiers, or softeners, in the form of already mixed shortening. They said the enforcement of this order would cause the packers to lose a large share of their lard market to vegetable oils and would also create a monopoly for the firms which control these emulsifiers and license them out to the big packers.

The delegates also passed a resolution protesting against the importing of hams from Poland and other Iron Curtain countries.

Dr. W. A. Burnette, of Greenwood, S. C., was elected Divisional Vice President for the ensuing year.

Du Pont Sets Dividend

Cotton Reaches All-Time High

NEW YORK, Nov. 20—(AP)—The higest price ever paid for cotton futures on the New York Cotton Exchange was recorded Monday when nearby December sold at 44.03 cents a pound. The previous high established in 1920 was 43.75 cents a pound.

Aggressive mill buying carried all deliveries, except March 1950 futures, into new seasonal highs. There was considerable short covering and switching from nearby December to later months. Extreme gains extended to better than $2 a bale before the market reacted under pressure of profit taking and hedging.

Futures closed unchanged to $1.95 a bale higher than the previous close.

Mrs. Laura Norris, 1325 A South 6th St., St. Louis, Mo., says doing the family washing and housework is no longer a chore. She says she can do her work in a breeze now. She thanks wonderful HADACOL for her feeling of well being. She had deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin, and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mrs. Norris' exact statement: "It was such a long time since I was feeling 'OK.' Couldn't sleep either—just roll and toss all night. I couldn't hardly do my housework—and I was always cross and irritable. One day I heard about how other folks were being helped by HADACOL. I tried HADACOL, and after the 2nd bottle I began to feel better. I sleep like a top—in fact, I feel wonderful, thanks to marvelous HADACOL."

Yes, HADACOL Is Marvelous

In the way it has helped thousands of folks whose systems were deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin. HADACOL can help you, too, if you have such deficiencies if you will just give HADACOL a chance. If you are suffering from certain nervous disturbances, insomnia when due to an upet stomach, or a general rundown condition, caused by such deficiencies, let HADACOL help you as it has helped others all over the country.

HADACOL is not a quick-acting product which gives only symptomatic relief—HADACOL is so successful because it relieves the real cause of stomach disturbances and a general rundown condition when caused by deficiencies of Vitamin B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin. So if you're troubled this way, don't keep on putting off relieving the real cause of your trouble. Remarkable improvements are often noticed within a short time.

Get That Wonderful HADACOL Feeling

Go right now to, or telephone, your nearest drugstore for HADACOL. Start taking it today. Trial size bottle coss only $1.25. Large family or hospial size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes. There is only the one true and genuine HADACOL which everyone is talking about.

DIES UNEXPECTEDLY
Pendleton Mitchell

P. Mitchell, State School Official, Dies

Pendleton Mitchell, 48-year-old director of surveys of the State Department of Education, died unexpectedly Monday at his residence, 1360 Markan Ct., N. E.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Wednesday at the Acworth Christian Church. Dr. Robert Burns will officiate and burial will be in Liberty Hill Cemetery in Acworth.

As director of surveys, Mr. Mitchell had been busy in recent months investigating school house conditions in the State. It was his duty to determine school needs and recommend appropriate type buildings.

"He was one of our best men," said Asst. State School Supt. John I. Allman, "and we shall miss him."

Mr. Mitchell was a native of Acworth. He was graduated from the University of Tennessee and received a master's degree in education from Emory University.

Before coming to Atlanta in 1947 as survey director, he had served as superintendent of schools in Glascock, Catoosa and Habersham Counties and as superintendent of Starr High School in Turin.

He was a member of the Peachtree Christian Church, National Council on Schoolhouse Construction, Interstate School Building Service, Phi Delta Kappa and Kappa Phi Kappa fraternities.

Surviving are his wife, a daughter, Sandra; a son, Pendleton Mitchell, III; mother, Mrs. Pendleton Mitchell, of Acworth; brothers, Robert M. Mitchell, of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Francis Mitchell, of Sherman, Texas; three sisters, Miss Ray Mitchell, of New York City; Mrs. F. N. Robinson, of Arlington, Va., and Mrs. Dorothy M. Forsythe, of Rock Hill, S. C., and several nieces and nephews.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS
NOTICE TO BIDDERS:

Sealed proposals will be received by the Georgia Ports Authority, at the office of the General Manager in Savannah, Georgia, up to 10:00 o'clock a. m., Eastern Standard Time, December 14, 1950, and immediately thereafter publicly opened and read, for the furnishing of labor, materials and equipment entering into the construction of a reinforced concrete wharf with bulkheads, fender system and other appurtenances to be located at Savannah, Georgia. No extension of the bidding period will be made. Complete plans, specifications and contract documents will be open for inspection in the Office of the General Manager, Georgia Ports Authority, Savannah, Georgia, in the Office of the Georgia Ports Authority, Atlanta, Georgia, in the Office of Robert and Company, Inc., Architects and Engineers, 96 Poplar St., N. W., Atlanta, Georgia, in the Office of the Atlanta Builders Exchange, Atlanta, Georgia, or they may be obtained by those qualified, and who will make a bid, upon application to Robert and Company, Inc., Architects and Engineers, 96 Poplar Street, N. W., Atlanta, Georgia, accompanied by a deposit of Twenty-Five ($25.00) Dollars in cash or a certified check. The full deposit will be returned to those submitting a bona fide proposal provided the plans and specifications are returned to the Engineers in good condition within five (5) days after the date set for receiving bids. The deposit, less the actual cost of printing and mailing, will be refunded to those not submitting a bona fide proposal, provided the plans and specifications are returned to the Engineers in good condition within five (5) days after the date set for receiving bids. Bidding Contractors will be furnished additional sets of plans and specifications upon application to the Engineers accompanied by the required deposit for each additional set requested. The amount of the total deposits for additional sets, less the actual cost of printing and mailing, will be refunded, provided the plans and specifications are returned to the Engineers in good condition within five (5) days after the date set for receiving bids.

The work will require approximately 2,050 feet by 79 feet wide concrete deck supported by precast concrete piling with steel sheet pile bulkhead at rear, or (as an alternate) approximately 2,050 feet by 47 feet wide concrete deck supported by cellular steel sheet pile bulkhead together with fender system, tracks for apron and other appurtenances.

Each proposal shall be accompanied by a cash deposit, certified check or acceptable bid bond in an amount not less than 5% of the proposal, said deposit, check or bond to be retained by the Owner as liquidated damages in the event of failure of the successful bidder to execute contract and give satisfactory surety within ten (10) days after the award of the contract. A performance and payment bond will be required in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price. No bid may be withdrawn for a period of thirty (30) days after the date of opening.

Payments will be made on the basis of ninety (90%) percent of monthly estimates, and final payment made after completion and acceptance of the work.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive informalities.

Heck Seeks Water Funds

MARIETTA, Nov. 20—Commissioner John Heck has made application for $71,000 in Federal funds to plan a water system for Cobb County and its municipalities.

The money will be used to survey a system for getting water from either Allatoona Dam or the Chattahoochee River below Buford Dam, now under construction.

Cobb County was told about two weeks ago it could not expect an increase in water from Atlanta, which now supplies about 90 percent of its needs.

Will Aid Santa

Rep.-elect Fred Bentley and Harry (Doc) Williams were elected co-chairmen of the annual Marietta Christmas Club Monday. Money collected during the drive will be used to buy clothing and foodstuffs for underprivileged families in Cobb County. Members of the drive committee will also collect new and used clothing and toys for children.

CIO Maps New Drive On T-H Law

Murray Says Vote Reverse No Halter

Special to The New York Times and The Atlanta Constitution

CHICAGO, Nov. 20—Labor's setbacks in the 1950 elections will not halt the pressure of the Congress of Industrial Organizations for outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act, Philip Murray, president of the CIO told 650 cheering delegates at the opening of the organization's annual convention Monday.

He blamed the defeat of many Fair Deal supporters on "diabolical" misrepresentations of the international situation by the Republicans and predicted that the voters would "repudiate this gang of demagogues" in the 1952 presidential elections.

He made it plain that the CIO would adopt a "no retreat" policy in its demand for Taft-Hartley repeal, expanded social security, health insurance, the Brannan farm plan, a federally-imposed minimum wage of $1 an hour and other social gains i nthe new Congress.

Murray's call for continued insistence on the Fair Deal program found support in a message sent to the convention by President Truman. He warned that this country could not win its fight against Soviet imperialism if it turned back the clock of social progress.

The only speaker to suggest that labor would have to temper its legislative course was Sen. Douglas, Democrat, Illinois, who maintained that some of the key provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act would have to be kept in any new labor law adopted by Congress.

Specifically, he suggested that unions, as well as employers, be required by law to bargain collectively; that unions be obliged to keep their membership rolls open if they were to qualify for a closed shop; that financial statements be required of both unions and employer associations and that reforms be made in union procedure to guarantee democratic elections and protect members against the "capricious" exercise of union discipline.

Korean List Shows Georgian Missing

Four new Georgia casualties in Korea were announced Monday by the Defense Department.

Cpl. Charlie V. Smith, of Columbus, was reported missing in action. Listed as wounded were Sgt. James V. Clark, of Rossville; Pfc. Robert L. Fricks, of Kingston, and Pfc. Larry L. Green, of Carrollton.

MONEY
While You Wait
AUTO LOANS

THE FASTEST and easiest way to get a loan is to borrow the money on your car. There is only one thing to do—park your car either in our lot or near our office, come in and show us proof of ownership. The entire transaction takes only a few minutes and you can drive away with the cash in your pocket. There is absolutely nothing else to it.

FURNITURE LOANS

SIGNATURE LOANS

YOU CAN get up to $1,000 on your signature. Immediate cash.

OTHER LOANS

NO MATTER what type of loan you want, we make it a point to give you the money without delay.

Reduced Payment Loans

THANKSGIVING FOODS

With Every Turkey Comes a Wish...

"Good eating, good living,
good health, good play,
Fresh cause for Thanksgiving every day."
This is the wish for you and yours
That comes from your friendly Colonial Stores.

Our Stores Will Be Open All Day
WED. NOV. 22
And Closed All Day
THANKSGIVING DAY!

Colonial proudly offers you the finest fresh dressed Georgia Hen or Tom Turkeys ever selected. The Pick-of-the-Flock, scientifically fed, just the right size. Each bird is pleasingly plump and temptingly tender with a deep meaty breast and flavor that reaches perfection. These fine turkeys are completely oven-ready. . . . Head, feet and insides are removed immediately after dressing before being weighed and priced. You get more meat, less waste. Just stuff and bake! Then slice and enjoy the tenderest, juiciest meat any Thanksgiving table can offer.
